Selling Orders Flood Market

Records Go Overboard on New York Exchange in Sudden Reaction

Trading Facilities Swamped With Ticker Far Behind at Closing Gong

NEW YORK, May 16. (AP)—The conflagration of stock speculation, which has been sweeping the country, was drenched today by a downpour of selling orders which broke all trading records in the history of the New York Stock Exchange.

The reaction, which developed with startling suddenness, came after an opening outburst of strength in which several issues had soared $6 to $31 a share. These gains were either materially cut or converted into losses which ranged from $5 to nearly $20 a share in about a dozen issues, and $2 to $5 a share in scores of others.

Trading facilities on the New York Stock Exchange were completely swamped by the volume of business. Despite the strenuous efforts of relays of operators working at top speed, the ticker fell behind

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, May 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] A big step forward in modern civilization was made tonight here in Los Angeles (the last place you would expect civilization to advance) with a dinner given at $100 a plate, with the distinct understanding there would be no speeches. The place was sold out and everybody tickled to death. The funds from the dinner were divided among those who wanted to make speeches but were not allowed. Everyone in the hall received $100.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

P.S.—Jack Dempsey told me tonight he would fight Tunney in September if he got enough money for it. I told Jack I would fight Tunney myself if they gave me enough money, and time to brush up on my English and Shakespeare.

ITALIA NEARS LENIN LAND

Dirigible Flying Over Sea

Three Men to be Lowered for Exploration and Ship Will be Anchored to Ice

Venetian Flag Dropped Over Franz Josef Land in Honor of Lost Explorer

KING'S BAY (Spitsbergen) May 16. (AP)—The dirigible Italia left the bleak shores of Franz Josef's land behind it late today and headed across the polar sea to little-known Lenin Land (Nicholas II Land.)

At noon Gen. Umbert Nobile reported by radio to the supply ship, the Citta di Milano, in the harbor here, that its position was Long. 70.40 East and Lat. 82.10 North. At the time it was said there was little adverse wind and little difficulty was expected in making Lenin Land before midnight.

The sea beneath was a vast ice-covered expanse, the brief radio message indicated, with little fog and visibility good for 100 kilometers.

EXPLORATIONS PLANNED

It Lenin Land, which, roughly speaking, is thirty degrees east of the last given position of the Italia, and is just north of the Taimyr peninsula, the northernmost point of the Siberian mainland, it is planned to lower three men to the ground to conduct some explorations. An ice anchor will be used to moor the dirigible there temporarily.

All in all, since leaving Spitsbergen the Italia has experienced favorable flying weather. Fog once just west of Franz Joseph Land impaired visibility and caused formation of ice on the gas envelope, decreasing speed, but did not cause the ship's return. Speed throughout the day has been between thirty and fifty kilometers an hour, depending upon the wind.

VENETIAN FLAG DROPPED

The first of the ceremonies attending on the flight was observed today at 7 a.m., when the Venetian flag was dropped over Tiplis Bay, Franz Joseph Land, in honor of Franco Guerieni, who followed the Cegni expedition there in 1909 and perished.

Gen. Nobile expects to bring his Italia back to Spitsbergen Friday. The third flight is expected to start soon afterward to the so-called Choker Land, chimerical island which the explorer Peary and others expected to find north of the American continent.

The Italia is keeping in constant communication with the Citta di Milano here.

Student Dies on Graduation Eve

BERKELEY, May 16. (AP)—Death cheated George L. Schreiber, Jr., Santa Monica youth, of his diploma at the commencement exercises of the University of California today.

Classmates were advised that he had died of ptomaine poisoning on the eve of his departure from his home in Santa Monica for Berkeley to receive his reward for completing his college education. President Campbell of the university forwarded young Schreiber's diploma to his parents, together with a letter of condolence.

Toll of Flood Mounts to Ten

TORONTO (Ont.) May 16. (AP)—With the drowning of John Ruben, Indian trapper, at Kabina, the death toll of the spring floods in this Province is raised to ten today.

A mother and a child and a brother and sister were drowned in the first flood of the season in the North Bay District. Last week three school-children perished in the flood waters twenty miles from Cochrane, and two Indian trappers were drowned in the Parry Sound area.

Tear Gas Used in Liquor Raid

OAKLAND, May 16. (AP)—Alameda county dry raiders today used tear bombs and sledge-hammers in a sortie on an Emeryville resort. The proprietor, Frank Crow, was arrested and a quantity of asserted moonshine whisky was confiscated.

Several Chinese were arrested in raids on other resorts of the town. Large numbers of lottery tickets are said to have been found on the premises.

'Better,' Report on Stresemann

BERLIN, May 16. (AP)—Physicians for Foreign Minister Gustav Stresemann tonight announced a general improvement in his condition but warned against undue optimism on the ground that the complicated nature of the illness leaves a possibility of relapse.

BAY CITY TO SEEK AIRLINE

San Francisco, Aroused by Los Angeles Coup, Threatens to Obtain Competitive Service

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16. (Exclusive)—Selection of Los Angeles as the western terminus of the proposed new $5,000,000 transcontinental aerial passenger route from New York to the west coast brought a threat here today that, if a competitive line is necessary to give San Francisco the same service, it may be established.

As yet the threat is in its nebulous stage, but comment was so widespread and in some instances so acrimonious among business men that H. C. Cantelow, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce and chairman of that body's traffic committee, said he will call a conference to consider what can be done to give this city the same kind of air service.

Cantelow suggested it might be to San Francisco's benefit to interest the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific railroads in another airline with this city as a western terminus.

"The Chamber of Commerce is vitally interested," he said. "San Franciscans are good spenders, they want service and if our business men can save two days across the country they will certainly patronize the service. We shall leave no stone unturned to get this service for San Francisco."

TRANSCONTINENTAL SEEKS LINDBERGH CO-OPERATION

NEW YORK, May 16. (Exclusive)—Renewed pressure is being exerted on Col. Lindbergh in the hope that he will favor with his name and counsel the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., the new organization which is laying out a nation-wide system of air and rail passenger transportation.

It was learned today that Lindbergh's refusal of an executive post with the Transcontinental was not unqualified. Officials hope to influence him to become associated with their organization, at least in an advisory capacity to aid in the locating of landing fields and in the selection of flyers for the tri-motored planes that will be used.

NEW SERUM AIDS WAR ON PNEUMONIA

Promising Results Cited in Treatment of All Four Types of Scourge

NEW YORK, May 16. (Exclusive) A new serum for treating pneumonia, developed by Dr. L. D. Felton of Harvard University, has given promising results in combating this highly fatal disease.

The serum marks an advance in that it can be used for all four of the recognized types of pneumonia, according to Dr. Russell L. Cecil of Bellevue Hospital, who has obtained very efficacious results from its use in the pneumonia clinic of that hospital. It works best with types one and two, the two groups that comprise the majority of pneumonia cases. The recoveries after its use with type one have been very encouraging, indeed, Dr. Cecil declares, though the deadly type three has proved the least amenable of any group.

Pneumonia serums used in the past have been specific for each type. Since certain laboratory procedures have to be followed out before the type from which the patient is suffering can be determined, precious time often has to be lost before the doctors know which serum to give.

RAIN, HAIL AND WINDS CUT SWATH

Northwestern Texas and Southern Oklahoma Lose Buildings and Crops

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 16. (AP) A general wind, rain and hail storm swept Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma today, demolishing many small buildings. At Wellington, Tex., a tornado struck, demolishing two houses.

The roof of the schoolhouse at Reed, Okla., was blown off during a high wind while school was in session, but none was injured.

A high wind ripped through the region around Mangum, Okla., being particularly severe at Reed, a small town west of Mangum, where every house was damaged and nearly a dozen were demolished. Citizens fled to storm cellars when the storm was seen approaching.

At Willow, Okla., a cotton gin was demolished and a number of residences damaged by wind and hail.

At Sayre, Okla., plate glass windows were blown in, chimneys toppled and a number of farmhouses and barns damaged by the wind and rain.

Landowners in Southeast Arkansas and Northeast Texas today were checking damage to property and crops from rain and hail storms last night, estimated at around $300,000.

Daingerfield, Tex., forty miles southwest of here, reported a loss of $150,000 from a cloudburst which broke the dams of two lakes, flooding valuable farm lands. Several highway bridges and one railroad bridge on the Louisiana Railway and Navigation Company line were washed out. Crews today were repairing the approach to a bridge on the Texas and Pacific Railway near Nash. Traffic was to be resumed tonight.

CHILDRESS (Tex.) May 16. (AP) A tornado struck Wellington, Tex., late today, demolishing two houses, according to reports here.

PUEBLO (Colo.) May 16. (AP)—Tornadic winds striking the reservoir of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company near here tonight created a water spout said by witnesses to have reached a height of 600 feet.

Chicago Juror's Home Bombed

CHICAGO, May 16. (AP)—A bomb burst under the front porch at the home of Fred Eiche, a juror, tonight and wrecked his house just twenty-four hours after he had voted a guilty verdict for Eugene "Red" McLaughlin, convicted of highway robbery.

FORD MAKES AIR PROPHECY

Believes New Fuel Will be Next Step in Aviation and Plane Will be as Common as Auto

PHILADELPHIA, May 16. (AP)—Henry Ford thinks the next development in aviation may be the discovery of a new kind of fuel and that the field of aviation is attractive to those who want to be in on a great thing in the future.

Orville Wright does not profess to know the future of flying nor its possibilities. He believes every endeavor is limited by the laws of nature and also that anything is possible under the laws of nature.

Charles L. Lawrence, inventor of the air-cooled motor used successfully last summer in American trans-Atlantic flights, foresees bigger, better and safer airplanes and a material reduction in the number of accidents.

These views on aviation were expressed today before and after a meeting of the Franklin Institute at which medals were presented to Mr. Ford, Mr. Lawrence and a number of others.

Mr. Ford, who traveled from Detroit in his private car, was awarded the Elliott Cresson medal "in consideration of his rare ability and power of organization, by which he was able to effect high-speed production of automobiles, and his outstanding executive powers and industrial leadership."

After the meeting Mr. Ford told the press his interest in aviation was increasing. He is not sure but that some day the household which now has an automobile will have an airplane.

Asked if he did not think aviation had almost reached the limits of its potentialities, with special reference to the fact that the most highly developed planes now are within one ton of the lifting capacity of the best extant engines, he remarked:

"That is true. But there are other lines of development for airplanes." He mentioned "fuel" as one possible development and gave the impression that he was interested in the creation of a new kind of fuel.

Mr. Lawrence also received the Cresson medal for the invention of his air-cooled motor. He predicted a great development in aviation and said that the air mail has become one of the best-paying businesses.

SMITH FUND REVEALED

Four Contribute Large Sums

Witnesses Assert Gifts Made "for Love and Affection"

Three Tammany Members Deny Expectation of Any Return

WASHINGTON, May 16. (AP)—Delving further into the financing of Gov. Smith's campaign for the Democratic nomination the Senate campaign funds committee learned today that some of the Governor's friends are willing to go their limit financially if called upon to help him win the Presidency.

Blunt statements or inferences of that willingness came from four wealthy intimates of the Governor and all of them assured the committee that they had contributed to his campaign purely out of "love and affection," and admiration for Smith and without any expectation or desire of reward.

HOLLAND TESTIFIES

In another two-session day of inquiry the committee was told also by Rush L. Holland, former assistant Attorney-General, that he had expended $10,000 in an effort to line up southern Republican delegates for Herbert Hoover. Holland was held in the witness chair for more than an hour and then half a dozen supporters of Gov. Smith were called before the investigators at morning and afternoon sessions. Four of them are wealthy life-long friends of Smith and they frankly said they not only had contributed $90,000 to advance his cause but were ready to put up more funds for that purpose.

First came William Todd, the shipbuilder, who gave $5000 to the Smith fund and who was described as a Republican except when Gov. Smith is running for office.

LOAN OR GIFT

Next was William F. Kenny, New York contractor, who stated that while $50,000 of the $70,000 he has given the Smith organization had been a loan, so far as he was concerned, it was an outright gift.

Third was James J. Riordan, New York City banker, who gave $5000 and collected the $5000 from Todd, and fourth was Herbert H. Lehman, investment banker in New York, who contributed $10,000 to the New York organization and an additional $2000 to the Western States Smith-for-President Association.

GUFFEY, CALLED

After a noon recess the committee called Joseph F. Guffey of Pittsburgh, Democratic national committeeman from Pennsylvania, and an avowed Smith supporter, and Mrs. Henry L. Moskowitz of New York City, who has had a large hand in shaping up the Smith organization and in disseminating literature designed to offset the attacks on Smith by the Ku Klux Klan and Anti-Saloon League, and anti-Catholic organizations.

Tomorrow the committee will continue with the Smith and Hoover campaigns and hopes also to question Frank J. Hale of New York, publisher of the Washington magazine, Politics, an anti-Hoover publication, which came under long scrutiny yesterday.

Other witnesses for tomorrow are Segwick Kistler of Philadelphia, reputed to be a supporter of the New York Governor, and Oscar Wilt of West Virginia, who, the committee is informed, has been active on behalf of Hoover.

Drys Fail in Attempt to Get Delegation Instructed Against Smith

COLUMBIA (S. C.) May 16. (Exclusive)—Efforts to instruct South Carolina's eighteen delegates to the Democratic National Convention to vote against Gov. Al Smith were defeated in the State convention here today only after a fist fight had taken place on the convention floor between former Gov. John Gary Evans and Col. Edgar Brown, a former Speaker of the South Carolina House of Representatives. Evans and Brown clashed when Brown called Evans a liar. Friends of the two rushed in and separated the combatants after several blows had been struck.

The hostilities came about when a resolution was offered to nullify the unit rule voting plan. Brown defended the unit rule and launched an attack on its opponents. Evans opposed the rule. While Brown was closing a speech Evans shouted at him:

"You're already in the Republican party."

"You are a liar," Brown replied, and the two clinched.

Several blows were struck before the fight was stopped and the convention was thrown into confusion. It was several minutes before a vote could be taken on the resolution and the convention then went on record, 194 to 147, to adhere to the rule.

Then followed the resolution to instruct the delegation to vote as a whole against Smith. This was defeated after a sharp debate, 190 to 147. The convention, however, compromised with the Smith foes by adopting a resolution to instruct the delegates to support a dry candidate and to work for a dry plank in the national platform. Another resolution was adopted indorsing the two-thirds rule at the national convention.

STATE DELEGATION CLAIMED FOR HOOVER

WASHINGTON, May 16. (AP)—The whole strength of New Jersey's thirty-one delegates to the Kansas City convention was claimed for Hoover today by Senator Edge and Representative Fort of that State. Every member of the delegation elected yesterday is either a Hoover man by personal preference, assuming that President Coolidge is not a candidate, or was elected under a Hoover pledge, Senator Edge said.

Representative Fort explained that in several districts, like his own, no preference as to candidates was shown on the ballots which merely gave the party designation. In some cases Lowden delegates had filed, he added, but they had been defeated in each instance by Hoover men.

Famous Film Actor Weds Kathryn Carver as Mayor Ranks Him One of Film's Greatest

PARIS, May 16. (AP)—With twenty persons, including eleven photographers, watching Adolphe Menjou and Kathryn Carver, American screen players, were married at the City Hall of the Sixteenth Ward shortly after 10 a.m. today. The place where the ceremony was performed now is becoming known in Paris as the Little American Church Around the Corner.

The couple succeeded in keeping the date of the wedding secret from the general public, but were unable to escape the ubiquitous cameramen, who have played such a prominent part in their lives, even for the wedding.

BRIDE'S COSTUME

The couple reached the City Hall together in an English automobile promptly at the stroke of 10. The bride was dressed in a beige tailor-made suit, a close-fitting beige untrimmed felt hat with a rather wide brim. Her shoes also were beige and her pale-blue stockings matched a waist of the same color. She had a large bouquet of orchids, powdered with lilies of the valley, France's lucky flower.

Mr. Menjou had on a morning coat with light gray checkered trousers and wore a camellia in his buttonhole. He appeared nonplussed by the number of cameras.

DEPEW MISSED A CHANCE

Chauncey M. Depew could always tell a story on himself with as much delightful good humor as he could on someone else. One evening about six years ago at Briarcliff Manor he was surrounded by some of his cronies and the conversation turned to the opportunities men allow to slip by. "Why, none of you ever missed the one I let pass. When Prof. Bell completed his telephone he came to me to finance it, and offered me a quarter interest in his invention for $25,000. I was inclined to take him up, but before doing so asked Commodore Vanderbilt for his advice. He shooed me away, saying it was but a toy. Had I acted on my own initiative I would now be in the railroad business by day, but one of the world's richest men." With a merry glitter in his eye he concluded his story by remarking that he suspected that the commodore did not want to lose him and took this way of discouraging his joining Bell.—["My Memories of Eighty Years," by Chauncey M. Depew.

FOREIGN SOLDIERS DIG IN FOR DEFENSE OF PEKING

Ancient City Quiet as Onslaught of Nationalist Army Nears; American Force Strongest

PEKING, May 16. (AP)—Peking, with capture by Nationalist soldiers thought comparatively near, was outwardly quiet tonight. Larger patrols in the streets, both in the native city and the foreign concessions, and strict enforcement of the curfew laws (10 o'clock,) however, revealed the real feeling here.

Throughout the day Japanese soldiers might be seen working actively providing quarters for several hundred of their troops in the vicinity of the former Austrian Legation and strengthening their defenses. Their leaders said only one additional Japanese company is to be sent here.

The British Legation has warned British Nationals to be prepared to move to the legation quarter on short notice, and both Chinese and foreigners are sending valuables to the various legations for safe keeping late today.

TROOPS OVER AREA

Foreign troops to the number of 16,500 are disposed at strategic points in North China, which has become the theater of what appears to be the decisive phase of the two-year conflict between the conservative north and the revolutionary south of China. For the protection of their nationals and their belongings and interests the United States, Japan, Great Britain, France and Italy are represented in this international concentration.

The Japanese, safeguarding their 20,000 residents in Shantung and their large railway and commercial interests in that province, account for about 40 per cent of the foreign military strength, with a total of 6900. Of these about 6150 are in Shantung itself, including a division 5000 strong, hastened from Japan late in April when the Nationalists began to overrun Shantung. The Japanese also are preparing to send a division of about 15,000 additional men to Shantung.

AMERICANS PREDOMINATE

The Americans predominate at Peking, where the foreign legations have had their own guards since the Boxer uprising of 1900, and at Tientsin, where a small international force, stationed there in accordance with the Boxer protocol of 1901, was greatly increased in the spring of 1927, when the threat of a Nationalist invasion from the south made special precautions seem necessary. The Americans total 4400, of which 450 form the marine guard at Peking and 2950 are at Tien-tsin. The Tien-tsin force includes the Third Marine Brigade under Brig.-Gen. Butler, a strong aviation detachment of marines and 450 officers and men of the Fifteenth Infantry, under Brig.-Gen. Casther.

An American marine officer, Lieut.-Col. Holcomb, is senior officer of the legation guards at Peking and in case of emergency would assume command of the international force of 1600 defending the legation quarter. This includes 450 American marines, 325 British infantry, 400 French colonial troops, 350 Japanese infantry and 125 Italian marines.

HEAVY IRON GATES

The defense of the legation quarter, a walled district protected on the south by the great Tartar wall, have been strengthened in recent months. A new heavy wall of masonry has added to the defensibility of the western boundary, heavy gates caged in iron sheeting have been placed where the quarter's streets open into the Chinese city on the north, while new loopholes, permitting free use of machine guns, have been opened along many parts of the inclosing wall.

The Americans are responsible for defense of the south boundary, marked by the Tartar wall, the French for the east boundary, the Japanese, Italians and British for the north, while the British and Americans share the western "front."

In Tien-tsin and near-by towns are 8525 foreign troops, including 3100 American marines and 850 infantrymen, 2200 French Colonials, 1600 British infantry, 400 Japanese and 375 Italians. Lieut.-Gen. Arai of the Japanese army is senior officer there.

NANKING PLEA TO LEAGUE HELD WITHOUT WARRANT

LONDON, May 16. (AP)—Lord Cushendun, who succeeded Viscount Cecil as chancellor of the Duchy of Knaster and as representative of Great Britain at Geneva, explained in the House of Lords tonight the British position as regards China.

A considerable time ago, he said, Sir Austen Chamberlin, British Foreign Secretary, made informal inquiries to ascertain whether any suggestion for invoking the League of Nations will be acceptable, and he received "absolutely no encouragement."

On the contrary it was made quite clear to him that such a proposal probably only would add to the difficulties of the situation.

Lord Cushendun, alluding to the Nanking government's appeal to the League, said he thought the British government had no basis whatever on which to interfere in support of Nanking's application. But he added, the British government will seize every opportunity it can legitimately to be hopeful. So far as he knew there is nothing in the covenant of the League enabling application to be made by a non-member of the League. China is a member, but the Nanking committee is not.

As far as there was a government in China, he supposed it is still the Peking government, which had made no appeal to the League.

ENGINEER OF FLOOD BODY APPOINTED

New Yorker Third Member of Board Created by New Control Measure

WASHINGTON, May 16. (AP)—President Coolidge today completed preliminaries to the actual start of flood-control work on the Mississippi River with the appointment of Carleton W. Sturdevant, a New York engineer, as the third member of the planning board created by the flood-control bill which he signed yesterday.

Sturdevant will serve with Maj.-Gen. Jadwin, chief of army engineers, and Col. Charles L. Potter, president of the Mississippi River Commission. This board will iron out the differences in the recommendations of the army engineers and the civilian commission and make final recommendations to the President for an engineering program.

When the report of the board is handed the President it automatically goes out of existence and the flood-control project will pass from legislative into executive hands.

Plumbers Now Are 'Merchants'

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16. (Exclusive)—They are "merchant plumbers" now. It's more in keeping with things, for some reason or other, and besides, it seems to be a bit more descriptive.

The State organization, however, will continue to be known as the State Master Plumbers' Association.

That much was decided today at closing sessions of the annual convention and the next thing decided was that Long Beach will be the scene of the next annual meeting.

Thousands Fill Stadium for Inspiring Event

Student Cheered in Criticism of College Methods

Governor and General Give Cadet Commissions

BERKELEY, May 16. (Exclusive) Ten thousand persons filled the California Memorial Stadium to the breaking point today as 2281 young men and women completed the classroom and campus period of their education and received the sheepskins which qualify them to seek the balance of their experience in the practical world. It was the sixty-fifth annual commencement program of the Blue and Gold university.

Somber black of academic cap and gown contrasted vividly with the smart khaki of military uniform and the riot of color in the spectators' stands, all blending with the soft green of the Berkeley hills in the background.

President W. W. Campbell conferred degrees upon the graduating classes and special honor upon Ralph R. Hultgren of San Francisco, 1928 medallist; Gov. Young delivered commissions to university cadets and Maj.-Gen. Hines gave commissions in the officers' reserve corps of the United States Army. Applause greeted Miss Catherine L. Sibley, student speaker, who warned her fellow-classmates that with them rests the choice of whether America shall go forward "toward a colossal petrification or stand on the eve of a great spiritual and cultural awakening."

NOT ENOUGH LEISURE

Another ovation was given Louis Heilbron, the other student speaker, who indulged in a friendly indictment of the American University, wherein he found there is "too much teaching, not enough learning; too much information, not enough thought; too much noise, not enough solitude; too much business, not enough humanity; too much mechanism, not enough soul.

"The ideal of educating the many may be perfectly valid, but the university, like the civilization from which it springs, is too busy to make headway in the civilization of that ideal," he declared. "Yet it seems to me—and I have neither the wisdom nor the authority to indict the American ideal of education—that if the university is to do any great service to our country it will educate the students to appreciate quality, instead of quantity, to think instead of just to know.

"Surely the emphasis of the university should not be merely on buildings and business, but on teaching human beings to live and to live well. Only in the quiet and leisure of our universities will men and women be trained to stem the rushing tide of American life which sets a premium on 'going' but omits to name the destination."

In his address to candidates for degrees, President Campbell told them they are going into the world at a time of maximum opportunity.

INTERESTING ERA

"But you must have that to offer which your fellow-citizens want," he warned. "You, in supplying it, and those who receive it must have mutual profit whether the dividends be expressed in money or in units of a more ideal nature. Fortunately for you, the world is growing more interesting with accelerated pace. Never before have there been so many national ambitions and political transformations in so many parts of the world.

"The turmoil and suffering and death of which we read in China may be the birth pains of a great and powerful nation of the future. All around the eastern end of the Mediterranean Sea the efforts in the direction of modernization are in evidence. Just what will be the fruits of Communism and despotism, so strangely combined in Russia, remains to be seen. To the north is developing the Dominion of Canada, an essentially independent nation but a devoted member to the British commonwealth of nations, made up of people almost as nearly like the people of the United States as are peas in a pod. To the south, from the Rio Grande River to Patagonia, many nations have taken on greater degrees of political stability. The growing and developing world is creating opportunity for young men and women far beyond those of any past ages. You enter it at a time of maximum opportunity."

AERIAL PARTY NEARS WEST

Central Plane Gets Rousing Greeting in Kansas; Northern Ship Meets Storms

KANSAS CITY, May 16. (Exclusive)—The central plane of California's aerial mission today flew over some of the prettiest country yet encountered, the rounded hills and prosperous farms of Missouri, to find at Kansas City the warmest and most enthusiastic reception of the trip from New York.

Beginning while yet some miles from Kansas City's airport then an escort ship met the trimotored passenger liner carrying the party and piloted it into the port, the reception led on through a sightseeing tour, a dinner tonight and a conference later with half a dozen leading figures in the move to have this community buy and develop the land now used as an airport.

Henry C. Maier, the "flying ambassador," was a principal speaker at the dinner. Maier cited the recent growth of commercial aviation, centering on established California airports. He complimented the city on having an airport less than two miles from its postoffice, and declared early development will be warranted by the increasing demands of the infant aerial industry.

Several thousand gathered at Lambert Field, St. Louis, to see the take-off this morning. The trip was made by way of St. Joseph, where a stop of an hour was made.

DES MOINES AND OMAHA GREET CALIFORNIA PLANE

OMAHA (Neb.) May 16. (Exclusive)—Des Moines and Omaha today greeted the large trimotored Fokker plane of the Western Air Express and representatives of the California Development Association with open arms. Delayed in their hop-off at Fort Dodge because of bad weather, the air ambassadors of good will encountered storms en route to Des Moines and flew more than 150 miles to negotiate the eighty-mile air line distance.

At Des Moines, Grant McPherrin, president of the Central State Bank of Iowa and prominent figure in the American Bankers' Association, joined the party for a hop to Omaha.

State Schools Ranked High in Pupils' Savings

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16. (AP)—More schools in California take part in the school savings plan than in any other State. The State ranks fourth in the number of students who are saving under this plan and fourth in the amount of net savings resulting, but Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Banks, in making this announcement here today asserted that there is a much greater development in school savings possible.

The total enrollment in the grade and high schools is approximately 1,144,000, and only one-half of this number have school savings facilities at their disposal. Children who actually save constitute abou 25 per cent of the tal number of children attending school in California.

The bank balance of school-children at the end of the last fiscal year was $4,548,1.9, which represented an average school account of $2045. The average student account was $16.04, the Bank Superintendent added.

Mob of Women in Riot Trying to See Sex Film

BRADFORD (Yorkshire) May 16. (AP)—Five thousand women waited hours today outside a motion-picture theater to view a sex film called "the Dangers of Ignorance," and those who could not get in started a melee which police reinforcements had to check.

When the house was full and it was announced no more could enter, the crowd, already blocking roadways and holding up traffic, got out of hand, knocked policemen about, tore their clothes and knocked off their helmets. When the tumult was quelled a score of women had to be treated for bruises, while many hats and umbrellas were broken.

Suicide Leaves Body to School

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16. (Exclusive)—Leaving instructions that his body should be given to the University of California medical school for scientific research, Theodore D. Murphy, 24 years of age, a jobless bellboy, turned on the gas in his room last night. His body was found by his mother when she tried to awaken him. Despondency over his failure to get work was declared responsible.

In the event the University of California cannot use the body, Murphy requested that it be turned over to another medical college and if they all refuse, to cremate it and scatter the ashes over the bay.

ANGELENO'S PARTY ENDS IN STABBING

Insurance Man Accused of Knifing Friend When Row Follows Dance

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16. (Exclusive)—William Elliston, Los Angeles insurance broker, was said to be en route south tonight after furnishing $260 bail for the asserted stabbing of Henry Espinosa, golf professional, as the climax of a quarrel at a "party" in the early morning hours. Elliston faces a hearing the 26th inst., on charges of assault with a deadly weapon and disturbing the peace.

Espinosa, although wounded, is charged likewise with disturbing the peace, as are Miss Abbie Hochgraef, in whose Bush-street apartment the row occurred, and Henry Tower, insurance man of this city.

As police received the story from Espinosa he and Elliston were friends. The latter was here on business and Espinosa, Tower, Miss Hochgraef and an unnamed woman went to Elliston's room in a downtown hotel. Later they all went to Miss Hochgraef's apartment.

While Espinosa was dancing with the woman he refused to name Elliston was said to have made an insulting remark to Miss Hochgraef. Espinosa demanded an apology, there was a fight, and Espinosa was stabbed in the wrist, assertedly by Elliston, using a pocket knife.

MEN DIG FOR BOY BURIED IN SAND PILE

Child Covered by Slide Monday and Playmates Fabricate Kidnaping Tale

CHICAGO, May 16. (AP)—Workers began digging into a large sand pile on the northwest side today in search for 8-year-old John Pyrek, missing since Monday, buried under tons of sand, the story of his playmates said this afternoon.

The playmates, Bruno Bodgon, 8, and Freddy Turczynowicz, 6, told police they accidentally buried their friend alive while playing in the sand pile Monday afternoon. When the lad was reported missing they fabricated a story about him being kidnapped by a man who locked him in a freight car.

Because the sand pile is so large police said it might require two days to reach the boy.

The lads said they had been covering each other up in the sand when a sudden slide covered the missing boy.

ILLINOIS PICKS YOUNG ORATOR

Cairo High School Student Wins State Finals

Washington Next Goal for National Contest

Youth Awarded Scholarship Among Honors

BY JOHN P. GALLAGHER
"Times" Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, May 16. (Exclusive) Frederic Johnston, 17-year-old student of St. Joseph High School of Cairo, Ill., won first honors in the Illinois finals of the Fifth National Oratorical Contest held tonight before a gala audience that packed Orchestra Hall. He was the fifth speaker on a program of six, and was picked as winner only after thirty minutes' deliberation of the judges.

Those who heard the high-school students tonight declared themselves amazed at the clarity of thought, the vision and oratorical ability of the young people. Young Johnston, in a clear, ringing speech that gripped his vast audience, was masterly from beginning to end. But the five other boys were not far behind him. In fact, the contest was so close that there was little to choose. It was for this reason that the judges found it necessary to engage in a thirty-minute debate to decide the winner.

FROM ALL OF STATE

Second honors went to John Crawford of Oak Park High School, Oak Park. Sol Fearlman of Marshal High School, Chicago, was third. Other speakers were Hester Dalley of Kankakee High School, Kankakee; Robert Dearborn, Proviso High School, Maywood, and Joseph Kurtz, Granite City High School, Granite City. Thus the contestants represented every part of the State.

The object of these oratorical contests is to increase interest in and respect for the Constitution of the United States. For more than six months thousands of students have been at work at the serious business which culminated in tonight's contest. They studied the Constitution, dissected it, analyzed it. They traced its development and determined its present significance. They have been writing speeches about it and delivered those speeches at various contests which have been held in every section of Illinois.

Gradually at these contests they were eliminated. Of the thousands, 200 were chosen. Of the 200 all but forty were eliminated. And from that forty the six boys who participated tonight were declared to be the best high school orators in the State. From these the winners were picked.

HONORS NOT EMPTY

It is not alone a matter of honor to have won the contests tonight. Mr. Johnston, in company with seven others from other parts of the United States, will tour Europe this summer and go to the Olympic Games with all his expenses paid. He will receive a $500 scholarship. Further, he will receive a trip to Washington next week, where he will compete for national honors in the contest. Second prize is a $250 scholarship, and third a $100 scholarship. The national winner will meet seven foreign high school students this fall for the international championship in the contest.

The judges who decided the west of the six young speakers were Justice De Young of the Illinois Supreme Court; William D. Saltiel, city attorney; Benjamin Franklin Affleck, president of the Universal Portland Cement Company; Thomas James Norton, noted writer on the Constitution and Louis A. Bowman, vice-president and trust officer of the American Trust and Safe Deposit Company.

COMPROMISE OFFER IN PHONE TOLLS ROW

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16. (AP)—Answering a complaint filed with the State Railroad Commission three months ago by the California Farm Bureau, attorneys for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Northern California Telephone Company today offered to compromise a dispute over telephone tolls. Farm telephone subscribers protested payment of added tolls when calls crossed exchange boundaries controlled by the two companies. Under the terms of today's offer present rural subscribers would be permitted this privilege without cost, but new farm telephone owners will be asked to pay an average annual fee of $2.50 for the service.

KANSAS CITY CHIEF QUITS IN SCANDAL

Wires Resignation After Published Report Over Escapade in Home

KANSAS CITY, May 16. (AP)—The resignation by telegraph of William A. Shreeve, Chief of Police here for four years, today was followed by an announcement by Police Commissioners that no investigation was contemplated of published reports of an escapade in a fashionable South Side home.

Shreeve sent his resignation to the Police Commissioners from Denver yesterday, a few hours after the Kansas City Star published a report of his unannounced appearance in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie R. Choate here last Friday night and of his asserted threat to kill Mrs. Choate and himself because she had become reconciled with her husband after a separation of several months.

The Star said Shreeve left the house after Mrs. Choate called the district police station and reported that the Chief had entered her home while intoxicated and was brandishing a pistol.

Shreeve left for Denver the next morning, following an announcement by his physician that the Chief's health necessitated a rest of at least three weeks.

In his telegraphic resignation Shreeve said that "apparent exaggeration over recent affairs, which caused embarrassment to my friends, is my chief worry."

When asked about the Choate escapade over long-distance telephone Shreeve said "reports of the affair were garbled." He declined to discuss details of the report and said he planned to remain in Colorado for about two weeks with Mrs. Shreeve.

Hunt Renewed for Dole Plane

HONOLULU, May 16. (AP)—A search by airplane was begun today for Jack Frost and Gordon Scott, who failed to arrive last August in the monoplane Golden Eagle, an entry in the Dole air race from Oakland, Cal., to Wheeler Field, near this city.

Piloted by Martin Jensen, who finished second in the race, Denham Scott took off in the Aloha. Jensen's plane, to search the slopes of Mauna Kea, lofty peak on Hawaii Island. On that mountain, which rises nearly 14,000 feet, Scott and Jensen believe the crew of the Golden Eagle may have crashed on the morning they were due to arrive after a 2400-mile flight.

The searchers base their belief upon an unsubstantiated report of natives that they had seen a monoplane in the direction of Honolulu at the time the Golden Eagle was expected. Scott and Jensen will begin their search at Hilo on the Island of Hawaii. Scott is a brother of the navigator of the lost plane.

ONE NAMED BENSON'S SHIP BOARD SUCCESSOR

Coolidge Refuses Reappointment in Line With Policy to Dispose of Merchant Marine

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 16. (Exclusive)—President Coolidge is determined to carry out his repeatedly expressed intention of getting the United States government out of the merchant marine business as soon as the United States Shipping Board can find responsible bidders to take over the present government-owned commercial vessels. Today he sent to the Senate for confirmation the name of Hutchison I. Cone of Florida as member of the Board to succeed Admiral William S. Benson, whose term has expired.

Admiral Benson is a retired officer of the Navy.

Mr. Cone was one of the commissioners who declared that the government should retain and operate a certain part of the merchant marine as opposed to all sales. Commissioner Ewing O. Teller, author of the plan of the Shipping Board and President Coolidge in his remark of the Shipping Board meeting on the west coast, will be reappointed. His term will not expire until June, and it is said that the President soon will name a successor.

The House has passed a new shipping bill known as the Jones bill. It has been amended both houses but the Senate has somewhat amended the measure and final approval today is expected. As it will come before the House for its approval in a mandatory provision that the board may sell ships only to bona fide citizens of the United States government remain permanently in operating the merchant ships if private bidders are willing to buy them and operate them on reasonable terms of sale.

Therefore, whoever goes on the Shipping Board now must be favorable to the firmly established administrative plan ultimately to place all the merchant marine ships in the hands of private citizens of the United States.

It will be recalled that all the chambers of commerce of the west coast States and all the shippers and shipping interests were in favor of selling all the government-owned lines on the Pacific Ocean. Nevertheless Commissioners Teller and Hill resisted all efforts of the private bidders to buy the ships on a reasonable basis. Later Hill was forced to resign and the sale was finally made in spite of the opposition of Commissioner Teller.

President Coolidge is not entirely satisfied with the new shipping bill but may approve the measure as it offers new methods of aiding private owners to buy present government vessels and also to build new vessels with government aid at low interest rates.

ARMY BILL ON HOUSING PRESENTED

Four California Items Included in Measure of Congress Leader

WASHINGTON, May 16. (AP)—A bill to authorize an appropriation of $15,068,360 to carry on construction projects included in the Army housing program was introduced today by Representative James of Michigan, ranking Republican on the House Military Committee.

The measure would authorize appropriations for new construction at forty-two army posts, providing housing for 448 officers, 526 noncommissioned officers, 2814 enlisted men, 526 hospital patients, and 142 nurses.

The new buildings include: Crissey Field, San Francisco, $158,400 for barracks; $144,000 for noncommissioned officers' quarters and $150,000 for officers' quarters.

FARM AND SHIP BILLS PASSED

Both Measures Ready to Go Before President

Senate Filibuster Lasts All Afternoon

Marine Legislation Badly Scored by Opponents

WASHINGTON, May 16. (Exclusive)—Final legislative action was taken in the Senate today on two of the most controversial measures of the session after an all-afternoon filibuster had threatened to tie up these and other pending bills.

The conference report on the McNary-Haugen farm-relief bill was approved by the Senate without a record vote and without debate. This bill, which is certain to be vetoed, now goes to President Coolidge, the conference report having already been accepted by the House.

The conference report on the merchant marine bill also was approved and is ready for action by the President. This action was by a vote of 51 to 28.

MARINE BILL FOUGHT

The filibuster was directed against the merchant marine bill, which the radicals assailed as a ship subsidy bill in disguise. That other legislation, including the McNary-Haugen bill, was involved in the filibuster seemed apparent when attempts to prevent a vote on the ship bill suddenly ceased, when Senator Curtis, Republican, Kansas, majority leader, proposed a unanimous consent agreement that a vote be taken immediately on the farm bill conference report. Under the Curtis proposal, which was accepted promptly without opposition from any source, the conference report on the ship bill would be put to a vote immediately after the farm bill was acted upon. Reports were that the radicals feared that the regulars were planning to delay action on the farm bill and therefore blocked against the ship bill until the latter agreed to allow the other measure to be disposed of.

TAX BILL SIDETRACKED

As a result of the filibuster, which ran from 11 o'clock in the morning when the Senate convened, until after 4 o'clock in the afternoon, further action on the pending tax bill was held up. The leaders had hoped to pass the tax bill today, but the filibuster crowded it out entirely.

On the roll call of the conference report on the merchant marine bill, the fifty-one who voted in the affirmative included twenty-eight Republicans and twenty-two Democrats. Against the conference report were nine Republicans, chiefly of the radical group, and eleven Democrats.

Prior to this vote a motion by Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, who commenced the filibuster to recommit the conference report with instructions to the conferees to eliminate the mail subvention and construction loan features was defeated by a vote of 34 to 55.

During the debate on the shipping bill Senators Blaine, Norris, Republican, Nebraska, and Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, and other radicals denounced the postal subvention and construction loan features as a ship subsidy.

"If we are to have the government use money in a business enterprise," said Senator Norris, "the government ought to own the business rather than to permit somebody else to make money from government money. I am opposed to turning public funds over to private individuals for private profits."

Aid Urged for Hit-Run Victims

SACRAMENTO, May 16. (AP)—State insurance for victims of hit-and-run drivers may be suggested to the 1929 Legislature by Sacramento physicians studying the situation.

Dr. W. W. Kress, who has been working on the problem here, proposes creation of an insurance fund by means of slight additions to automobile license fees, the fund to be administered after the manner of the fund for victims of industrial accidents. Only people injured through no fault of their own upon the public highways would be beneficiaries.

Proponents of the plan suggest that it would lead to more stringent enforcement of hit-and-run laws and enlist every automobile driver in a campaign to rid the State of them.

France Expects Tourist Record

PARIS, May 16. (Exclusive)—Between 5,000,000,000 and 6,000,000,000 francs ($196,500,000 to $235,800,000) probably will be spent in France by American visitors alone this year. This estimate is based largely on last year's records and on current bookings.

Hotel owners from all over France, who are gathering at Vihy today for a national congress, believe that 1928 will be a better year than 1927.

EVEN POOR FISH HAVE GOITER

Wisconsin Hatcheries Forced to Treat Minnows With Iodine

MADISON (Wis.) May 16. (Exclusive)—Even the biggest fish don't know they have one, but scientists of the University of Wisconsin, after examining hundreds of fish which were having difficult in swallowing, discovered a throat inflammation.

"Goiter," was the opinion of the experts and now all the little fishes in the State hatcheries are receiving iodine treatment for goiter, just as are school children in Wisconsin, whose soil and waters lack the preventative chemical.

B. O. Webster, State superintendent of fisheries, says the treatment is preventing deaths of thousands of newly hatched minnows.

SHOALS BILL APPROVED IN HOUSE VOTE

Morin Resolution Passes, Setting Government Up in Nitrate-Selling Business

WASHINGTON, May 16. (Exclusive)—The House today culminated ten years of controversy over the disposition of the huge war-time nitrate and power plants built at Muscle Shoals by approving the Morin resolution setting the government up in the business of manufacturing and disposing of fixed nitrates and electric power. A provision in the measure for government manufacture and retail sale of fertilizer to the farmers was eliminated.

The Morin resolution is a substitute for the Norris resolution already approved by the Senate. Both measures now go to conference where an effort will be made to work out a compromise in time to have the bill sent to the President before Congress adjourns. In many quarters it is believed the President will veto the measure if it reaches him.

There was no attempt on the part of House leaders to force a roll call to place individual members of the House on record and the final standing vote was 251 to 165.

In addition to setting up a $10,000,000 corporation for the operation of the obsolete nitrate plants and the disposal of power, the bill authorizes expenditure of sufficient funds to complete Dam No. 2. Estimates for constructing the authorized improvements run as high as $40,000,000. This will be in addition to the $140,000,000 which the government already has spent on the Muscle Shoals project.

"As the bill now stands," said Representative James, Republican, Michigan, after it was approved, "the farmer gets no help whatsoever and the government will manufacture something it cannot sell."

OLD PEACE PACT DENIED REVIVAL

United States Refuses Plea for Extension

England Wants Root-Bryce Deal to Stand

Dominions Cause Delay on Kellogg Idea

WASHINGTON, May 16. (AP)—A suggestion from the British government that temporary extension of the Root-Bryce arbitration treaty of 1908 for a period of six or eight months beyond June 4, next, when the treaty expires, be brought about by the exchange of notes between the two governments, has been found impossible by the United States.

The question was taken up with Secretary Kellogg several days ago by the British Ambassador, Sir Esme Howard, who pointed out that his government had not found itself in agreement in all respects with the provisions of the Kellogg arbitration treaty, submitted in draft form by the United States on December 29, to replace the expiring Root-Bryce treaty.

TEXTS SIMILAR

As submitted to Great Britain, the draft treaty was practically the same in its provisions as that signed with France and ratified by the Senate and those signed subsequently with Germany and Italy. These treaties, as does the draft treaty submitted to Great Britain, omit the clauses of the Root treaties which excludes from their scope questions affecting "the vital interests, the independence or the honor" of the contracting states. Specifically excluded among other things are disputes the subject matter of which depends upon or involves the maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine.

The British government, it was said, is conferring with its self-governing Dominions and discussing with them the details of the draft treaty's provisions. These discussions are taking considerable time and it was deemed advisable by the London Foreign Office to extend the Root-Bryce treaty temporarily until an agreement could be reached. It was not indicated whether the Dominions alone were responsible for the British government's failure to find itself in agreement with the provisions of the treaty.

DIFFICULTY FACED

In finding it impossible to consider temporary extension of the treaty by an exchange of notes, Secretary Kellogg is understood to have insisted that the only way the treaty could be extended would be for the negotiation of an agreement, which would have to be ratified by the Senate, extending the convention for the full period of five years provided in the treaty itself. Unless this is done the treaty will lapse and the two nations would be without a general arbitration agreement until a new treaty satisfactory to both countries could be negotiated, signed and ratified.

HOOVER ALSO FISH HEAVER

Hip Boots, Old Suit and Felt Hat Adorn Angler as He Drops Political Cares in Stream

WILLIAMSPORT (Pa.) May 16. (AP)—A lone fisherman in hip boots, an old brown suit and a gray felt hat was whipping a pool at the end of a mountain trail when a newspaper man and a photographer found him.

The shutter clicked.

"I am going to fish a couple of streams about fifteen miles back in the mountains," the Secretary added. "I'm not traveling on a schedule; this is supposed to be a vacation and when I've rested I'll go back to Washington.

"You might have thought we would get away from you fellows up here, but that looks to be impossible. There does not seem to be many places left in the world where a man can find solitude."

Mr. Hoover is at Ogonts Lodge on Larry's Creek. He is five miles from the nearest public road, about the same distance from either telephone or telegraph, and nearly thirty miles from this city. He has been at the lodge since Sunday night.

BOULDER DAM CHARGES FALL

House Committee Exonerates Mead and Garner

Actions Draw 'Skunk' Simile from Montanan

WASHINGTON, May 16. (Exclusive)—The House Irrigation Committee after a stormy session today exonerated Dr. Elwood Mead, chief of the Reclamation Service, and Representative Garner, Democrat of Texas, of charges by Representative Leatherwood of Utah that they conspired with other advocates of the Boulder Dam project to trade off water out of the Colorado River to Mexico in exchange for additional water from the Rio Grande for irrigation users in Garner's Congressional district and that in reciprocation Garner was pledged to deliver the solid vote of the Texas delegation for the Boulder Dam bill.

The action was taken after Mead and Garner had appeared for questioning during the course of which the committee displayed every desire to vote the two a quick acquittal. Leatherwood termed the committee's decision a "whitewash."

LEATHERWOOD FUMES

"All the committee wanted was a direct denial from Mead and Garner and after they had that they were unwilling to let me get answers to questions which would have pinned Mead and Garner down and proved my assertions about the water deal," Leatherwood declared.

The resolution adopted was offered by Representative Swing of California, co-author of the Boulder Dam bill.

THREATENS SWING

The debate was bitter. When Leatherwood told a story to illustrate why it is necessary to build up a case sometimes on circumstantial evidence, Garner flashed up and said he resented the implication that he and Dr. Mead were "lying."

Leatherwood said he did not propose to be limited by a mere "yes" or "no" from the two witnesses; that you can never get a conviction by asking the accused if he is guilty.

Representative Swing broke in to observe that both Mead and Garner "had made full and frank statements denying the charges," and asked Mr. Leatherwood to withdraw his charges and accept the denials. This, the Utahan refused to do, and warned Swing that if he persisted it might be necessary to revive some charges involving his own conduct.

"Yes," said Swing, "you want to smear these two gentlemen and then smear a third."

Representative Leavitt of Montana, wanted to know what the charges were. Leatherwood made some reference to the Montana member as a forest ranger, that having been his avocation before coming to Congress, when Leavitt spit out:

STRIKING SIMILE

"You can't wrestle with a skunk without getting stunk up."

Chairman Smith allowed Mr. Leatherwood five minutes to complete his case.

Following the adoption of the Swing resolution, Douglas of Arizona, got from Commissioner Mead the admission that if the Swing-Johnson bill is passed in its existing form and power development goes forward as the bill contemplates, 10,000,000 acre feet of water will have to be passed through Boulder dam each year to satisfy the demands of the power plant.

MORE THAN SHARE

This is 2,500,000 acre feet more than the lower basin share of water fixed by the Colorado River compact and means, Mead said, that the upper basin States, instead of getting 7,500,000 acre feet of water a year from the river, will have their allotment reduced to 5,000,000 acre feet.

In addition, Mead admitted that this surplus water, above what is required for irrigating new lands in California and Arizona, will pass on into Mexico, where more than 600,000 acres of land lying along the Colorado can promptly appropriate this surplus and put it to beneficial use before it can be applied to like purpose in the United States.

LOS ANGELES THANKS SNELL FOR ACTION

The following is a copy of a telegram sent yesterday by President George L. Eastman of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to Bertrand H. Snell, chairman of the House Rules Committee, thanking him for bringing the Boulder Canyon dam bill out on the floor of the House:

"Hon. Bertrand H. Snell, Washington, D. C.

"On behalf of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and citizens generally of this community and on behalf of myself personally, I desire to express our sincere thanks for your action in bringing the Boulder dam-Colorado River legislation onto the floor of the House.

"Having every confidence in your statement to me when I interviewed you in Washington this spring that this would be your attitude, I want you to know that we all sincerely appreciate your action and hope that justice may be done to the Southwest in the passage of the proper legislation covering this subject, so vital to our protection and progress.

"GEORGE L. EASTMAN,

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS VACCINE UPHELD BY FRENCH SAVANTS

PARIS, May 16. (Exclusive)—The famous Calmette B. C. G. anti-tuberculosis vaccine was completely vindicated when the country's leading savants sat in a solemn three-hour conclave at the Medical Academy and unanimously agreed that Dr. Lignieres, delegate to the Pasteur Institute from Buenos Aires, is unable to offer a single valid proof that the vaccine is a menace to the health of babies born to parents who are not tubercular.

Dr. Lignieres dropped a bombshell in the scientific world the 1st inst., with the statement that the B.C.G. vaccine, with which tens of thousands of infants have been treated, endangers their health. He declared he would prove the charges, but when he offered the results of his tests on animals, the academicans answered that he had shown nothing not previously known, and that he failed to prove there is the slightest harm in the treatment.

The Argentine replied that the incident is closed "for the time being." The scientists repeated their faith in what is considered one of the greatest discoveries of modern science.

WIRES SCANNED IN UTILITY QUIZ

Trade Commission Searches Telegraph Files

Business Privacy Invaded in Evidence Hunt

WASHINGTON, May 16. (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission turned its attention today to telegrams and telephone calls to and from the Washington office of the joint committee of National Utilities Associations as part of its inquiry into power utility financing.

Thomas P. Dowd, general superintendent of the Washington office of the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company, submitted a batch of telegrams sent by Josiah T. Newcomb of Washington, general counsel for the committee, one of which dated June 28, 1927, mentioned the name "Tumulty."

This name was mentioned in connection with a proposed conference in New York with B. J. Mullaney of Chicago, director of the Illinois committee on public utility information, and Newcomb. The man referred to as "Tumulty" was not otherwise identified.

SPYING ON BUSINESS

Another telegram sent by Newcomb to C. B. Beasley of the Alabama Power Company merely read "Nothing as yet." Still another, copies of which were sent to several attorneys, asked the recipient to attend a conference in September, 1927, with Newcomb and Stephen B. Davis of New York, director of the joint committee, to consider some legislation pending in Washington.

Dowd was ordered to submit all telegrams sent and received by Newcomb from June, 1927, to date, but he was able to submit only those sent in June, July and September last year, he said, because of the work entailed in finding the messages.

Robert E. Healy, chief counsel for the commission, then called Thorne Browne of Lincoln, Neb., as a witness. Browne, who is managing director of the Middle West division of the National Electric Light Association, which embraces Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas, and who supervises the Nebraska Utility Information Bureau, testified that no survey had been made of Nebraska textbooks but that a pamphlet had been written by a subcommittee and distributed to high schools.

ABOUT BOULDER DAM

James T. Bresnahan of the local office of the W. U., produced a telegram dated December 20, 1927, in which Newcomb wired R. H. Ballard of the Southern California Edison Company of Los Angeles and Stephen B. Davis of New York, director of the joint committee, that the "House committee voted begin hearing Boulder Canyon bill January 6 and conclude January 16."

That day Newcomb wired thirty-three power company executives and attorneys that the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee had postponed consideration of the Walsh resolution, which called for a Senate investigation of public utility financing, under which the Federal Trade Commission now is conducting the present inquiry.

Even so the result is often more wonderful than pleasing, and the fashion does not appear destined to be either widespread or long-lived.

POOR VISIBILITY CAUSES UNEXPECTED STOP

INDIANAPOLIS, May 16. (AP)—The crew of the trans-Atlantic monoplane Bremen, after a flight from St. Louis in the sister ship F-13, decided to remain in Indianapolis overnight and depart for Detroit tomorrow. Poor visibility and a low ceiling were given as the reasons for not continuing the flight to Michigan this afternoon.

The visit of the Bremen flyers was unexpected but hasty arrangements were made for their entertainment.

Victim of Plunge Linked to Crime

MODESTO, May 16. (AP)—William Nock, employee of the Hetch Hetchy camp above Sonora, who either accidentally fell or deliberately plunged 300 feet to his death from an overhead trolley April 5, was linked definitely today with the robbery of $1300 from the camp several days previous to his death. Sowen Kissell, Stanislaus county fingerprint expert, compared finger prints of the dead man with those found on a strong box taken during the robbery and found they checked.

Nock's body, which had been held in the waters in the Tuolumne River since his fatal plunge, was recovered today at almost the same spot where it disappeared.

Safeguard your Furs!

in our Cold Storage Vaults

Bekins modern cold storage vaults—just completed—in our new depository at Pico and Crenshaw afford the best protection for your furs that money and human genius can provide and at a nominal cost to you.

In this section, furs are particularly subject to warm, dry air which is detrimental to the pelt and the sheen, making it advisable to place them in cold storage during the warmest period of the year to renew their vitality.

Bekins Cold Storage vaults duplicate the atmosphere of cold in which fur-bearing animals live. Low temperature air is constantly circulated through the pelt, thus retaining the original beauty and lustre of the fur without which your furs lose much of their value.

BEKINS MOTH-PROOFING SERVICE prevents the destruction of your Oriental and other rugs and overstuffed furniture, as well as other articles subject to moths. The Bekins process exterminates all moth-life, including the destructive larvae, without injury to the fabrics. Gas fumigation process available at our depositories. We also provide moth-proofing service in the home.

When you purchased your furs you doubtless gave a great deal of thought as to the responsibility of the store where you made your selection. The money you invested in furs warranted this care on your part.

The Bekins organization—the largest in the world, and successfully serving thousands since 1895—can be relied upon to properly safeguard your furs.

EMPSEY PREPARES FOR FIGHT ON GOTHAM STAGE

ve twenty times more than I thought I'd be able to retire I value my health too much ep on fighting. I'm in train-ll right, but it's not for a bout Tunney. It's the 'Big Fight.' w do you think I'll look as ictor?" he asked turning to Normile, close friend and bus-manager of the ex-champion he first fought Tunney.

y, you always look fine," said ile, who sat next to me in the row at Chicago last fall and e seventh round as Dempsey ed Tunney to the floor, leaped s feet with the remark, "God, a man!"

Normile, who is Jim Coffroth's hi bower at Tia Juana, osed in from New York yes-day, and will continue on way to the border track this morning.

He was an interested observer along with Bob Weaver and a big crowd that gladdened Brother Barney's heart as Dempsey punched the bag, shadow boxed, slugged the sand bag and took a few stomach strengthening exercises.

Normile says Dempsey told him exactly what he told me—that he is in training for the "big fight," and wants to reduce his girth before he appears in public.

But as long as he does his work in public you'll hear stories that he's getting ready for another shot at Tunney.

And Dempsey can truthfully answer: "Sure, I'm in training for another fight — 'The big fight.'" Perhaps the producers never thought of it, but the title certainly fits in with the ex-champ's activities. It's perfect ballyhoo.

SERAPHS ANNEX OVERTIME TILT

Hurler Wins Own Game With Wallop in Eleventh

Ludolph is Victim of Home Run Clout by Clyde

Hood, Hannah, Bodie, Weis Also Swat Circuits

of joy to overflowing, his home run also entitled him to one of those new suits which Prexy Joe Patrick is giving Angel athletes for their first home run of the season.

THRILLING CONTEST

The contest itself was quite a thriller for the fans, for it contained plenty of base hits, including home runs by Wally Hood, Truck Hannah, Ping Bodie and Art Weis. The cash customers like the old wallop and they got their money's worth yesterday.

Tall Claude Davenport, the six-foot, seven-inning Mission hurler, who started on the mound, failed to last through the fifth inning. Tall Claude's offerings began to get real chummy with the Angel bats in the fourth and fifth, and "Red" Killefer rushed Ludolph to his rescue after the first three Cherubs up in the fifth had slapped out singles.

The Angels maced the combined offerings of Davenport and Ludolph for fifteen assorted safeties, which was exactly three more than the even dozen that the Bells garnered off Barfoot's shoots. Red Whitney, with 4 for 4, led the Mission attack, while Bobby Jones and Walt Berger came up with three apiece for the home guards.

The Missions started off with a two-run lead in the second inning, which Chili McDaniel opened by slapping a long single off the right-field screen. Weis drove a liner to center that Schulmerich misjudged and it went for a double. Schulmerich then partly atoned for his misdemeanor by making a sensational shoestring catch of Slade's Texas leaguer, McDaniel scoring and Weis taking third after the snag. Whitney's single to left scored Weis.

HOMERS TIE SCORE

Davenport tossed a couple of home-run balls at Hood and Hannah in the Angel fourth and the end of the round found the score tied at 2-all. Hannah's clout lit on top of the left-field brick wall and then bounced over.

Barfoot yielded another run in the Mission fifth when singles by Slade and Whitney, Davenport's bunt and Rose's infield out produced a Bell tally.

The Angels scored three in their half of the fifth and drove Davenport to cover. Staley singled for a starter and took third when Finn heaved wildly to first on Jones's infield hit. Berger singled to left, scoring Staley, and that was all for Davenport, Ludolph coming on the scene. Ludolph walked Tolson to fill the bases. Hood forced Tolson, Slade to Finn, and Jones came home. Schulmerich's long sacrifice fly to Rose scored Berger with the third run of the inning.

Two errors by Dittmar and Art Weis's home run into the right-field bleachers made it possible for the Bells to tie the score in the sixth. But for double-play that was engineered by Hannah on McDaniel's strike-out and an unsuccessful double-steal, the Bells would have turned Weis's clout into three runs instead of two.

BODIE CLOUTS HOME RUN

Ping Bodie, who is socking the apple with old-time vigor, put the Bells temporarily out in front in the eighth when he homed over the garden wall. It was Ping's third homer in two days, which is pretty good for an old-timer. The Seals gave Bodie his release, but his batting would probably come in handy when they are facing southpaw pitching.

Hood opened the Angel eighth with a single, but Schulmerich's attempted bunt was a pop fly to Ludolph. Dittmar, however, singled to right to send Hood to third. "Skeeter" Bigbee, batting for Hannah, singled over second to drive Hood home with the tying run. Barfoot sacrificed but Staley lifted a fly to Hufft for the third out.

The Bells had a man on third with but one away in both the tenth and eleventh, but both times Barfoot pitched his way out of trouble. In the tenth Dittmar's error and Hufft's single sent Bodie to third with one down, but McDaniel hit to Tolson and Bodie was nailed at the plate. Weis popped to Dittmar for the third out. In the eleventh Whitney's hit down the left-field line went for a triple when Berger failed to make a shoestring catch. There was one away at the time. Staley then threw out Ludolph, holding Whitney on third, and Dittmar grabbed Rose's line drive to end the scare.

Ludolph pitched just one ball in the eleventh, and Barfoot socked that one a line over the left-field wall to break up the game.

Norm Plitt, who beat the Sacs in eleven innings his last time out, and Herman Pillette will be the rival chuckers today. Score:

M'LARNIN AND MANDELL CLASH

particular way, demonstrated their prowess on New York's own bounding pride, Sid Terris. The Los Angeles slugger caught Sidney a few weeks ago, when the Ghetto Ghost had started to slide down from his lofty perch among lightweights and knocked him out with a single right-hand punch in the opening round. Mandell outpointed the flashy Terris before winning the title when Sid had all his speed and craft.

Memory of that single smash, a blow that simultaneously stretched Terris twitching on the canvas, brought 15,000 fans to their feet with one wild yell and lifted McLarnin to stardom, lingered in the minds of bettors today and odds on the champion dropped to 6 to 5. "Baby Face" that night not only had the most devastating punch of present-day lightweights, but had the speed to stay within clouting range of Terris and the skill to take advantage of the first opening that came along.

Although Mandell has risked his title only once in two years, records show that he has fought thirty times in that period. Major battles were against Jackie Fields, Phil McGraw, who failed to lift the title, and Billy Petrolle. McLarnin, while fighting only ten times in the past year, has knocked out Kid Kaplan and Terris, in addition to trimming Billy Wallace, crack Cleveland contender.

The title battle brings back to the lightweight division for the first time the spotlight, that shone on the class when Benny Leonard whipped Lew Tendler here before a $400,000 gate four years ago. With fair weather prevailing for the first big outdoor card of the season, $200,000 worth of onlookers are expected in the gathering under Coogan's Bluffs.

Sammy Mandell, sheik from Rockford, Ill., may have something on Jimmy McLarnin in that he knows that he is the lightweight champion but it does not show in the physical comparison. Sammy shades the Irishman in height by almost two inches but concedes three inches in reach.

Here is the way they will shape up in the Polo Grounds ring tomorrow night for their title scrap:

PADDOCK WILL RETURN FOR TILT

Olympic Committee officially advised Paddock that it was the opinion of that body that he should return to Los Angeles and help this city raise its $100,000 Olympic quota. Paddock immediately canceled his eastern engagements and wired his father of his decision.

Paddock expects to be in the best condition of his career when he meets Borah here. Not only will he have to face Borah, but Weldon Draper, Frank Lombardi and Frank Wykoff as well. Paddock has learned not to take these lesser-known sprinters too lightly. Two years ago when he ran against Borah in a 100-yard dash he was warned beforehand that Borah might beat him. Paddock never took the hint seriously and at ninety-eight yards found Borah ahead of him. Only by a magnificent leaping finish did he gain the decision of the judges. He won by an eyelash in 9.5s.

Having learned his lesson, Paddock will not take Draper, Lombardi and Wykoff lightly. Draper has been running 9 4-5s. consistently, while both Wykoff and Lombardi have records of 9 3-5s. Lombardi recently ran 101 yards in 9 3-5s. to beat Wykoff. Paddock, therefore, will not be running against one man. He will watch four of them, any one of whom is liable to beat him.

Borah and Draper leave this week for Boston with the University of Southern California varsity. Immediately following the national intercollegiates they will return to Los Angeles and prepare to meet Paddock, Lombardi and Wykoff.

No decision has as yet been reached whether the men will run 100 yards or 100 meters in their short dash. Later they will meet at 200 meters.

ENTRY LIST CLOSES SOON

Entries for the Southern California junior tennis championships, which open at the Midwick Country Club, Alhambra, the 26th inst., will close on the 23rd inst., at 6 o'clock, it was announced yesterday by Walter Wesbrook, club professional.

Victory is Fifth Straight for Spurting Hubmen

PHILADELPHIA, May 16. (AP)—The Athletics hammered three Cleveland pitchers for fifteen hits today, and took the odd engagement in a five-game series by 15 to 2. Rube Walberg held the tribe to five hits and won his fifth consecutive game.

Walter Miller, who started for the Indians, was driven from the box by a second inning hurricane, which netted six hits and six runs. The Athletics pulled two double steals on Luke Sewell in this round.

RED SOX ANNEX

BOSTON, May 16. (AP)—Victor Sorrell, the young Detroit pitcher, was the victim of his own wildness here today, when the Boston Red Sox nosed out the Tigers by 5 to 4 in eleven innings. Two passes and an infield single filled the bases with none out in the eleventh, and Regan's short sacrifice to Easterling allowed Rothrock, a pinch runner, to score with the winning marker.

RUETHER HURLS SEAL TRIUMPH

with his wishbone, and Lee scored. Roth singled to score Kerr. Boroja made the first out on a fly to Averill; Heath popped out and Wera grounded to Mishkin.

It was a handicap to Ruether, but if he was annoyed he did not show it, and he helped his mates at the bat by pounding out a double and two singles.

The Seals did not get started until the fifth when they tied the score on a pass to Sprinz and doubles by Ruether and Mishkin. In the fifth Gus Suhr had a chance to be a hero for he was up with the bases full but ended the inning with a fly to Tarbert.

The Seals rallied in the eighth and there was plenty doing. Averill began it by getting a pass. Suhr hit the ball hard, but Rhodes deflected the ball to Kerr who threw Suhr out at first. Jolley looked too dangerous, so he was passed. Welch hit sharply to left field and Boroja made a perfect throw to the plate and nailed Averill. Rhyne singled to right to score Jolley. Then Sprinz beat out a roller to Lee and the bases were filled. Ruether hit sharply directly over second base. Kerr made a marvelous stop of the ball, but there was no one to throw it to, so Dutch got a hit and Welch scored. Score.

champion sent her's fairly on the green leaving only the congratulatory handshake to the match.

Mrs. Hanley lost to Miss Molly Gourlay, 7 and 6, and Miss Curtiss was defeated by Miss Winn, 6 and 5. They were more chagrined at the defeat of Miss Collett than at their own lack of success.

Miss Collett was as graceful in defeat as she is on the course. She said she played the worst round of golf of her life, but would return next year for another try at the trophy which has twice eluded her. Some of her friends wept over her defeat.

The surviving field of eight includes an adopted American, a French woman, and six Britons. The field will be reduced to two by tomorrow night. The players tomorrow are: Mrs. Hurd, Mlle. Le Blan, Miss Corlett, Miss Wilson, Miss Marshall, Miss Fowler, Miss Winn and Miss Wragg.

BOULDER DAM CHARGES FALL

House Committee Exonerates Mead and Garner

Actions Draw 'Skunk' Simile from Montanan

WASHINGTON, May 16. (Exclusive)—The House Irrigation Committee after a stormy session today exonerated Dr. Elwood Mead, chief of the Reclamation Service, and Representative Garner, Democrat of Texas, of charges by Representative Leatherwood of Utah that they conspired with other advocates of the Boulder Dam project to trade off water out of the Colorado River to Mexico in exchange for additional water from the Rio Grande for irrigation users in Garner's Congressional district and that in reciprocation Garner was pledged to deliver the solid vote of the Texas delegation for the Boulder Dam bill.

The action was taken after Mead and Garner had appeared for questioning during the course of which the committee displayed every desire to vote the two a quick acquittal. Leatherwood termed the committee's decision a "whitewash."

LEATHERWOOD FUMES

"All the committee wanted was a direct denial from Mead and Garner and after they had that they were unwilling to let me get answers to questions which would have pinned Mead and Garner down and proved my assertions about the water deal," Leatherwood declared.

The resolution adopted was offered by Representative Swing of California, co-author of the Boulder Dam bill.

THREATENS SWING

The debate was bitter. When Leatherwood told a story to illustrate why it is necessary to build up a case sometimes on circumstantial evidence, Garner flashed up and said he resented the implication that he and Dr. Mead were "lying."

Leatherwood said he did not propose to be limited by a mere "yes" or "no" from the two witnesses; that you can never get a conviction by asking the accused if he is guilty.

Representative Swing broke in to observe that both Mead and Garner "had made full and frank statements denying the charges," and asked Mr. Leatherwood to withdraw his charges and accept the denials. This, the Utahan refused to do, and warned Swing that if he persisted it might be necessary to revive some charges involving his own conduct.

"Yes," said Swing, "you want to smear these two gentlemen and then smear a third."

Representative Leavitt of Montana, wanted to know what the charges were. Leatherwood made some reference to the Montana member as a forest ranger, that having been his avocation before coming to Congress, when Leavitt spit out:

STRIKING SIMILE

"You can't wrestle with a skunk without getting stunk up."

Chairman Smith allowed Mr. Leatherwood five minutes to complete his case.

Following the adoption of the Swing resolution, Douglas of Arizona, got from Commissioner Mead the admission that if the Swing-Johnson bill is passed in its existing form and power development goes forward as the bill contemplates, 10,000,000 acre feet of water will have to be passed through Boulder dam each year to satisfy the demands of the power plant.

MORE THAN SHARE

This is 2,500,000 acre feet more than the lower basin share of water fixed by the Colorado River compact and means, Mead said, that the upper basin States, instead of getting 7,500,000 acre feet of water a year from the river, will have their allotment reduced to 5,000,000 acre feet.

In addition, Mead admitted that this surplus water, above what is required for irrigating new lands in California and Arizona, will pass on into Mexico, where more than 600,000 acres of land lying along the Colorado can promptly appropriate this surplus and put it to beneficial use before it can be applied to like purpose in the United States.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS VACCINE UPHELD BY FRENCH SAVANTS

PARIS, May 16. (Exclusive)—The famous Calmette B. C. G. anti-tuberculosis vaccine was completely vindicated when the country's leading savants sat in a solemn three-hour conclave at the Medical Academy and unanimously agreed that Dr. Lignieres, delegate to the Pasteur Institute from Buenos Aires, is unable to offer a single valid proof that the vaccine is a menace to the health of babies born to parents who are not tubercular.

Dr. Lignieres dropped a bombshell in the scientific world the 1st inst., with the statement that the B.C.G. vaccine, with which tens of thousands of infants have been treated, endangers their health. He declared he would prove the charges, but when he offered the results of his tests on animals, the academicans answered that he had shown nothing not previously known, and that he failed to prove there is the slightest harm in the treatment.

The Argentine replied that the incident is closed "for the time being." The scientists repeated their faith in what is considered one of the greatest discoveries of modern science.

WIRES SCANNED IN UTILITY QUIZ

Business Privacy Invaded in Evidence Hunt

WASHINGTON, May 16. (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission turned its attention today to telegrams and telephone calls to and from the Washington office of the joint committee of National Utilities Associations as part of its inquiry into power utility financing.

Thomas P. Dowd, general superintendent of the Washington office of the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company, submitted a batch of telegrams sent by Josiah T. Newcomb of Washington, general counsel for the committee, one of which dated June 28, 1927, mentioned the name "Tumulty."

This name was mentioned in connection with a proposed conference in New York with B. J. Mullaney of Chicago, director of the Illinois committee on public utility information, and Newcomb. The man referred to as "Tumulty" was not otherwise identified.

SPYING ON BUSINESS

Another telegram sent by Newcomb to C. B. Beasley of the Alabama Power Company merely read "Nothing as yet." Still another, copies of which were sent to several attorneys, asked the recipient to attend a conference in September, 1927, with Newcomb and Stephen B. Davis of New York, director of the joint committee, to consider some legislation pending in Washington.

Dowd was ordered to submit all telegrams sent and received by Newcomb from June, 1927, to date, but he was able to submit only those sent in June, July and September last year, he said, because of the work entailed in finding the messages.

Robert E. Healy, chief counsel for the commission, then called Thorne Browne of Lincoln, Neb., as a witness. Browne, who is managing director of the Middle West division of the National Electric Light Association, which embraces Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas, and who supervises the Nebraska Utility Information Bureau, testified that no survey had been made of Nebraska textbooks but that a pamphlet had been written by a subcommittee and distributed to high schools.

ABOUT BOULDER DAM

James T. Bresnahan of the local office of the W. U., produced a telegram dated December 20, 1927, in which Newcomb wired R. H. Ballard of the Southern California Edison Company of Los Angeles and Stephen B. Davis of New York, director of the joint committee, that the "House committee voted begin hearing Boulder Canyon bill January 6 and conclude January 16."

That day Newcomb wired thirty-three power company executives and attorneys that the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee had postponed consideration of the Walsh resolution, which called for a Senate investigation of public utility financing, under which the Federal Trade Commission now is conducting the present inquiry.

EYELASHES TO WAVE WINKS

Latest Parisienne Beauty Cult Makes Coquetry Outdo Itself

PARIS, May 16. (AP)—Permanently waved eyelashes is the latest craze of the ultra-chic and eccentric Parisienne, whose extreme coquetry is no longer satisfied by curling and blackening. A deft hand and special, dainty, miniature tongs are required, and, of course, long, silky lashes. Even so the result is often more wonderful than pleasing, and the fashion does not appear destined to be either widespread or long-lived.

Victim of Plunge Linked to Crime

MODESTO, May 16. (AP)—William Nock, employee of the Hetch Hetchy camp above Sonora, who either accidentally fell or deliberately plunged 300 feet to his death from an overhead trolley April 5, was linked definitely today with the robbery of $1300 from the camp several days previous to his death. Sowen Kissell, Stanislaus county fingerprint expert, compared finger prints of the dead man with those found on a strong box taken during the robbery and found they checked.

Nock's body, which had been held in the waters in the Tuolumne River since his fatal plunge, was recovered today at almost the same spot where it disappeared.

Safeguard your F

in our Cold Storage Vaults

Bekins modern cold storage vaults—just completed—in our new depository at Pico and Crenshaw afford the best protection for your furs that money and human genius can provide and at a nominal cost to you.

In this section, furs are particularly subject to warm, dry air which is detrimental to the pelt and the sheen, making it advisable to place them in cold storage during the warmest period of the year to renew their vitality.

Bekins Cold Storage vaults duplicate the atmosphere of cold in which fur-bearing animals live. Low temperature air is constantly circulated through the pelt, thus retaining the original beauty and lustre of the fur without which your furs lose much of their value.

BEKINS MOTH-PROOFING SERVICE prevents the destruction of your Oriental and other rugs and overstuffed furniture, as well as other articles subject to moths. The Bekins process exterminates all moth-life, including the destructive larvae, without injury to the fabrics. Gas fumigation process available at our depositories. We also provide moth-proofing service in the home.

TROJAN RIDERS MAKE POLO BOW IN CONTEST TOMORROW

One of the snappiest polo games of the present season will be played at 1300 Ventura boulevard tomorrow when the University of Southern California Polo Association team meets the Uplifters in a match that will be open to the public. Coach Lionel Pedley, who has been instructing the Trojan association men in the fine arts of teamwork for the past few months, has lined up a fast squad, as has Jim Colt for the Uplifters. The collegians will have Bob Magnus, who formerly played at the Rockway Club, Long Island, at No. 1; Jim Dailey, formerly of Stanford, at No. 2; Pedley, ex-star of the Hollywood Polo club team, at No. 3, and Sequoia Herd, cowpuncher rider from Oklahoma, at No. 4.

Snowy Baker, one of the Southland's most popular polo players, will play back for the Uplifters, which will make scoring on the part of the collegiate team plenty tough. He will be ably assisted in his onslaught against the Trojans by Musaphia at No. 1, Feys at No. 2 and Frost at No. 3, all fast and furious riders who are rapidly gaining considerable renown in polo circles of the Southland.

DEMPSEY PREPARES FOR FIGHT ON GOTHAM STAGE

I have twenty times more than I ever thought I'd be able to retire with. I value my health too much to keep on fighting. I'm in training all right, but it's not for a bout with Tunney. It's the 'Big Fight.'

"How do you think I'll look as an actor?" he asked turning to Gene Normile, close friend and business manager of the ex-champion when he first fought Tunney.

"Say, you always look fine," said Normile, who sat next to me in the press row at Chicago last fall and in the seventh round as Dempsey crashed Tunney to the floor, leaped to his feet with the remark, "God, what a man!"

Normile, who is Jim Coffroth's right bower at The Juana-breezed in from New York yesterday, and will continue on his way to the border track this morning.

He was an interested observer along with Bob Weaver and a big crowd that gladdened Brother Barney's heart as Dempsey punched the bag, shadow boxed, slugged the sand bag and took a few stomach strengthening exercises.

Normile says Dempsey told him exactly what he told me—that he is in training for the "big fight," and wants to reduce his girth before he appears in public.

But as long as he does his work in public you'll hear stories that he's getting ready for another shot at Tunney.

And Dempsey can truthfully answer: "Sure, I'm in training for another fight — "The big fight.'" Perhaps the producers never thought of it, but the title certainly fits in with the ex-champ's activities. It's perfect ballyhoo.

Ducks Wallop Senators, 10-7

SACRAMENTO, May 16. (AP)—Taking advantage of two errors that paved the way for eight runs, Portland evened the series with Sacramento here today by garnering ten runs to seven for the Senators. Vinci had two bad innings but would have emerged with less runs against him had the support not wobbled. French twirled until the sixth and was replaced by Cousb. Krasnovich, rookie third-baseman for the Senators, starred both in the field and at bat.

with his wishbone, and Lee scored. Roth singled to score Kerr. Boroja made the first out on a fly to Averill; Heath popped out and Wera grounded to Mishkin.

It was a handicap to Ruether, but if he was annoyed he did not show it, and he helped his mates at the bat by pounding out a double and two singles.

The Seals did not get started until the fifth when they tied the score on a pass to Sprinz and doubles by Ruether and Mishkin. In the fifth Gus Suhr had a chance to be a hero for he was up with the bases full but ended the inning with a fly to Tarbert.

The Seals rallied in the eighth and there was plenty doing. Averill began it by getting a pass. Suhr hit the ball hard, but Rhodes deflected the ball to Kerr who threw Suhr out at first. Jolley looked too dangerous, so he was passed. Welch hit sharply to left field and Boroja made a perfect throw to the plate and nailed Averill. Rhyne singled to right to score Jolley. Then Sprinz beat out a roller to Lee and the bases were filled. Ruether hit sharply directly over second base. Kerr made a marvelous stop of the ball, but there was no one to throw it to, so Dutch got a hit and Welch scored. Score.

Mrs. Hanley lost to Miss Molly Gourlay, 7 and 6, and Miss Curtiss was defeated by Miss Winn, 6 and 5. They were more chagrined at the defeat of Miss Collett than at their own lack of success.

Miss Collett was as graceful in defeat as she is on the course. She said she played the worst round of golf of her life, but would return next year for another try at the trophy which has twice eluded her. Some of her friends wept over her defeat.

The surviving field of eight includes an adopted American, a French woman, and six Britons. The field will be reduced to two by tomorrow night. The players tomorrow are: Mrs. Hurd, Mlle. Le Blan, Miss Corlett, Miss Wilson, Miss Marshall, Miss Fowler, Miss Winn and Miss Wragg.

Hurler Wins Own Game With Wallop in Eleventh

Ludolph is Victim of Home Run Clout by Clyde

Hood, Hannah, Bodie, Weis Also Swat Circuits

of joy to overflowing, his home run also entitled him to one of those new suits which Prexy Joe Patrick is giving Angel athletes for their first home run of the season.

THRILLING CONTEST

The contest itself was quite a thriller for the fans, for it contained plenty of base hits, including home runs by Wally Hood, Truck Hannah, Ping Bodie and Art Weis. The cash customers like the old wallop and they got their money's worth yesterday.

Tall Claude Davenport, the six-foot, seven-inning Mission hurler, who started on the mound, failed to last through the fifth inning. Tall Claude's offerings began to get real chummy with the Angel bats in the fourth and fifth, and "Red" Killefer rushed Ludolph to his rescue after the first three Cherubs up in the fifth had slapped out singles.

The Angels maced the combined offerings of Davenport and Ludolph for fifteen assorted safeties, which was exactly three more than the even dozen that the Bells garnered off Barfoot's shoots. Red Whitney, with 4 for 4, led the Mission attack, while Bobby Jones and Walt Berger came up with three apiece for the home guards.

The Missions started off with a two-run lead in the second inning, which Chili McDaniel opened by slapping a long single off the right-field screen. Weis drove a liner to center that Schulmerich misjudged and it went for a double. Schulmerich then partly atoned for his misdemeanor by making a sensational shoestring catch of Slade's Texas leaguer, McDaniel scoring and Weis taking third after the snag. Whitney's single to left scored Weis.

HOMERS TIE SCORE

Davenport tossed a couple of home-run balls at Hood and Hannah in the Angel fourth and the end of the round found the score tied at 2-all. Hannah's clout lit on top of the left-field brick wall and then bounced over.

Barfoot yielded another run in the Mission fifth when singles by Slade and Whitney, Davenport's bunt and Rose's infield out produced a Bell tally.

The Angels scored three in their half of the fifth and drove Davenport to cover. Staley singled for a starter and took third when Finn heaved wildly to first on Jones's infield hit. Berger singled to left, scoring Staley, and that was all for Davenport, Ludolph coming on the scene. Ludolph walked Tolson to fill the bases. Hood forced Tolson, Slade to Finn, and Jones came home. Schulmerich's long sacrifice fly to Rose scored Berger with the third run of the inning.

Two errors by Dittmar and Art Weis's home run into the right-field bleachers made it possible for the Bells to tie the score in the sixth. But for double-play that was engineered by Hannah on McDaniel's strike-out and an unsuccessful double-steal, the Bells would have turned Weis's clout into three runs instead of two.

BODIE CLOUTS HOME RUN

Ping Bodie, who is socking the apple with old-time vigor, put the Bells temporarily out in front in the eighth when he homed over the garden wall. It was Ping's third homer in two days, which is pretty good for an old-timer. The Seals gave Bodie his release, but his batting would probably come in handy when they are facing southpaw pitching.

Hood opened the Angel eighth with a single, but Schulmerich's attempted bunt was a pop fly to Ludolph. Dittmar, however, singled to right to send Hood to third. "Skeeter" Bigbee, batting for Hannah, singled over second to drive Hood home with the tying run. Barfoot sacrificed but Staley lifted a fly to Hufft for the third out.

The Bells had a man on third with but one away in both the tenth and eleventh, but both times Barfoot pitched his way out of trouble. In the tenth Dittmar's error and Hufft's single sent Bodie to third with one down, but McDaniel hit to Tolson and Bodie was nailed at the plate. Weis popped to Dittmar for the third out. In the eleventh Whitney's hit down the left-field line went for a triple when Berger failed to make a shoestring catch. There was one away at the time. Staley then threw out Ludolph, holding Whitney on third, and Dittmar grabbed Rose's line drive to end the scare.

Ludolph pitched just one ball in the eleventh, and Barfoot socked that one a line over the left-field wall to break up the game.

Norm Plitt, who beat the Sacs in eleven innings his last time out, and Herman Pillette will be the rival chuckers today. Score:

Allison Bows in Davis Net Tilt to Coen

ST. LOUIS, May 16. (AP)—Wilburn F. (Junior) Coen, Kansas City, defeated Wilmer Allison of Fort Worth, Tex., in the first match of the Davis Cup tennis trials at the A.A.A. courts here this afternoon. The match was decided in five sets, 4-6, 7-5, 9-7, 4-6, 6-3.

Rain delayed completion of the match, making it necessary to postpone the contest scheduled between Arnold Jones, Providence, R. I., and John Hessessey of Indianapolis, until tomorrow.

particular way, demonstrated their prowess on New York's own bounding pride, Sid Terris. The Los Angeles slugger caught Sidney a few weeks ago, when the Ghetto Ghost had started to slide down from his lofty perch among lightweights and knocked him out with a single right-hand punch in the opening round. Mandell outpointed the flashy Terris before winning the title when Sid had all his speed and craft.

Memory of that single smash, a blow that simultaneously stretched Terris twitching on the canvas, brought 15,000 fans to their feet with one wild yell and lifted McLarnin to stardom, lingered in the minds of bettors today and odds on the champion dropped to 6 to 5. "Baby Face" that night not only had the most devastating punch of present-day lightweights, but had the speed to stay within clouting range of Terris and the skill to take advantage of the first opening that came along.

Although Mandell has risked his title only once in two years, records show that he has fought thirty times in that period. Major battles were against Jackie Fields, Phil McGraw, who failed to lift the title, and Billy Petrolle. McLarnin, while fighting only ten times in the past year, has knocked out Kid Kaplan and Terris, in addition to trimming Billy Wallace, crack Cleveland contender.

The title battle brings back to the lightweight division for the first time the spotlight, that shone on the class when Benny Leonard whipped Lew Tendler here before a $400,000 gate four years ago. With fair weather prevailing for the first big outdoor card of the season, $200,000 worth of onlookers are expected in the gathering under Coogan's Bluffs.

Sammy Mandell, sheik from Rockford, Ill., may have something on Jimmy McLarnin in that he knows that he is the lightweight champion but it does not show in the physical comparison. Sammy shades the Irishman in height by almost two inches but concedes three inches in reach.

Here is the way they will shape up in the Polo Grounds ring tomorrow night for their title scrap:

Olympic Committee officially advised Paddock that it was the opinion of that body that he should return to Los Angeles and help this city raise its $100,000 Olympic quota. Paddock immediately canceled his eastern engagements and wired his father of his decision.

Paddock expects to be in the best condition of his career when he meets Borah here. Not only will he have to face Borah, but Weldon Draper, Frank Lombardi and Frank Wykoff as well. Paddock has learned not to take these lesser-known sprinters too lightly. Two years ago when he ran against Borah in a 100-yard dash he was warned beforehand that Borah might beat him. Paddock never took the hint seriously and at ninety-eight yards found Borah ahead of him. Only by a magnificent leaping finish did he gain the decision of the judges. He won by an eyelash in 9.5s.

Having learned his lesson, Paddock will not take Draper, Lombardi and Wykoff lightly. Draper has been running 9 4-5s. consistently, while both Wykoff and Lombardi have records of 9 3-5s. Lombardi recently ran 101 yards in 9 3-5s. to beat Wykoff. Paddock, therefore, will not be running against one man. He will watch four of them, any one of whom is liable to beat him.

Borah and Draper leave this week for Boston with the University of Southern California varsity. Immediately following the national intercollegiates they will return to Los Angeles and prepare to meet Paddock, Lombardi and Wykoff.

No decision has as yet been reached whether the men will run 100 yards or 100 meters in their short dash. Later they will meet at 200 meters.

ENTRY LIST CLOSES SOON

Entries for the Southern California junior tennis championships, which open at the Midwick Country Club, Alhambra, the 26th inst., will close on the 23rd inst., at 6 o'clock, it was announced yesterday by Walter Wesbrook, club professional.

Victory is Fifth Straight for Spurting Hubmen

PHILADELPHIA, May 16. (AP)—The Athletics hammered three Cleveland pitchers for fifteen hits today, and took the odd engagement in a five-game series by 15 to 2. Rube Walberg held the tribe to five hits and won his fifth consecutive game.

Walter Miller, who started for the Indians, was driven from the box by a second inning hurricane, which netted six hits and six runs. The Athletics pulled two double steals on Luke Sewell in this round.

RED SOX ANNEX

BOSTON, May 16. (AP)—Victor Sorrell, the young Detroit pitcher, was the victim of his own wildness here today, when the Boston Red Sox nosed out the Tigers by 5 to 4 in eleven innings. Two passes and an infield single filled the bases with none out in the eleventh, and Regan's short sacrifice to Easterling allowed Rothrock, a pinch runner, to score with the winning marker.

Helen Wills Seeded in Easy Half

FRENCH FAVOR YANKEE CHAMP

Play for Hard Court Title Starts Next Monday

Mrs. Mallory is in Bracket With European Stars

Hunter May Meet Cochet in Third-Round Match

PARIS, May 16. (AP)—Helen Wills, American and Wimbledon tennis champion, is seeded in the upper and easier half of the draw for the women's singles in the French hard-court championships starting Monday.

Mrs. Molla B. Mallory, the former American champion, and Miss Penelope Anderson, Richmond, (Va.) girl, who came abroad as Miss Wills' playing partner, are bracketed in the lower half together with Evelyn Colyer and Betty Nuthall, English stars, and Kea Bouman of Holland.

Frank Hunter, principal American entry in the men's singles, faces keen competition early in the tournament. His third-round opponent probably will be Henri Cochet, assuming that the French star disposes of Sydney Wood, New York boy, in the second round.

Jean Borotra is in the second quarter of the men's draw along with Gerald Patterson of Australia, while Jacques Brugnon is in the third, and Rene La Coste in the fourth quarter.

There are sixty-four entries in the men's singles, forty-two in the women's singles and more than a dozen nations represented.

LUTZE VICTOR IN MAT SCRAP

ment. He landed in the lap of a plump lady, while Lutze barked his shins on the reporters' bench as he was looking for a soft place to light.

The first fall gained by Lutze was very similar to the one with which Lewis speared Lutze. It was a terrific body slam after Cantonwine appeared to have Lutze on the road to ruin with a series of devastating headlocks.

As Cantonwine is one of Lewis's buffers this seems to be a case of "turn about is fair play."

Lutze worried Cantonwine through the match with his jack-knife and scissors on the arm, and this brought about Cantonwine's downfall for the second time shortly after the intermission. Lutze secured an unusually powerful hold, and Cantonwine, weakened by previous exertion in breaking away, was pinned for keeps.

Lutze's victory was a popular one, particularly with the fair sex, who cheered lustily whenever he secured a decisive hold and booed loudly when Cantonwine employed what they believed were unnecessarily rough tactics.

The curtain-raiser was won by Tex Wright, a big fellow who stowed Felix Lopez away with a reverse body hold in 4m. 28s.

AMATEUR HOCKEYITES TO BATTLE NEXT WEEK

Amateur hockey will have its final fling during the next two weeks, announcement having been made at the Winter Garden yesterday that Universal and Edison will play a three-game series, starting Monday, for the right to meet Paramount in a series for the amateur title.

The simon-pure puck chasers were interrupted in their league schedule by the appearance of the Minneapolis Millers here and the boys have been hot to decide a winner. The teams have been working out regularly in hopes of continuing their argument so they are in good shape. Total goals in the three Universal-Edison games will decide the winner.

RICKARD PICKED TO BOSS CONVENTION

NEW YORK, May 16.—Tex Rickard, Madison Square Garden promoter, today announced receipt of an invitation to supervise the accommodation of the delegates and crowds at the Democratic National Convention to be held in Houston, Tex., June 26. Rickard said the invitation came from Jesse Jones of the Democratic National Committee and indicated that while he will attend the convention as an observer, the task of handling the attendance will be assigned to Jim Eustis, who was associated with Rickard in the handling of the Democratic convention in old Madison Square Garden, four years ago.

Bowling Notes

Jensen's Parrots of this city, two-time winners of the five-woman team championship in the women's auxiliary of the Pacific Coast Bowling Congress, will defend their title tonight on the 9 o'clock squad at the Dome Recreation, Ocean Park.

Mildred Hopping, "Babby" Taylor, Margie Webb, Barbara Lloyd and Philena Bohlen make up the Jensen's Parrots five. It is one of the best bowling combinations in the country and fans outside of Los Angeles will watch eagerly for the total of the local team. Barbara Lloyd topped the women's league this season with 175 average for seventy-two games, and Mrs. Bohlen set a new Coast record when she pounded out a 600 total to annex the individual title at last year's annual meet at Oakland.

Setser Recreation five of Santa Monica set the pace last night in the women's 650 team classification with a 1976 total. Mrs. Hazel McNutt, anchor woman, registered 490 total for high series and pounded out the high mark of 190 total in her last game.

The new leaders in the men's doubles appeared on the afternoon shift, when two teams shot into a tie for first place, with 1192 total Pete Locicero and H. Burt of San Jose, got a fine start with 445, 407, only to run into four splits and a miss to finish with 340. Jack Bitzer and Dave Feig, members of the Puritas Water Boys of Venice, started with 373 and backed it up with 395 and staged the big finish, 424, to tie the San Jose team for the leadership. G. Thompson team-mate of Bitzer-Feig, pounded out 201, 207 and 217 for 625 and third place in the open individual event. Norman Burch, fourth member of the same team, shot his way into a tie for fifth place with a 604 total. The scores follow:

NEW RULE PASSED BY GOLF BODY

Southern California Golf Association Strikes Blow at Unfair Publicity

The following resolution was adopted at the last meeting of the board of directors of the Southern California Golf Association, it was announced by Chester S. Lyday, secretary:

"It has come to the knowledge of the board of directors of the Southern California Golf Association that some of the member clubs of the organization have been paying golf writers of newspapers and golf periodicals in return for publicity given to such clubs in the columns of the publications by which the writers are employed.

"This practice is not consistent with the dignity of member clubs of the association and it is subversive of the best interests of the game to which we are all devoted. It creates an unjust discrimination against clubs which do not attempt to increase their publicity by such a method. It is not fair to the publications whose columns are by the practice made more than ordinarily accessible, and such a practice is discountenanced by them. The board of directors of the association hopes that the practice may be terminated wherever, if at all, it is still being indulged.

"An indulgence in the custom which is above condemned, either directly or indirectly, will hereafter be a sufficient ground for expulsion from the association of any member club which practices it.

"Hereafter no club will be admitted to membership in the association without pledging itself not to engage in such a practice, either directly or indirectly.

"If due publicity is being denied any member club by any newspaper or other publication, the best method of correcting the omission is by dignified appeal to those who manage the affairs of the publication and direct its policies."

Escalante and Guerrero Mix in Ring Tonight

After a six months' absence, Tony Escalante will appear at the Pasadena arena tonight, where he will square off with Joe Guerrero in the ten-round main event. Both boys are primed for action and should furnish the patrons of Morrie Cohan's stadium with action galore.

Al Sing and Bobby Rodriguez lock horns for the third time when they mingle in the six-round semifinal. Both Chinese and Filipino hold decisions as the result of previous engagements.

Domingo Suzana, who won at the arena two weeks ago, will fight Luke Langello in the four-round special event, 120 pounds. Four-round preliminaries will be George Savage vs. Ray Molina, 127 pounds; Julian Campa vs. Charles Flynt, 125 pounds.

Cobb Creeps Up on Rivals

While the leading members of the Big Six were idle yesterday through rain or gaps in the schedule, Ty Cobb took the opportunity to add a home run and a single to his record. This gave Tyrus three points necessary to break a tie for fourth place existing between him and Frisch, who was idle, along with the entire first division.

Harry Heilmann, the only other Big Six entry to swing a bat yesterday, failed for the first time in eight games to add to his record, which dropped back from the .390's as a result.

FISH BITING WELL AT SANTA MONICA

SANTA MONICA, May 16. (Exclusive)—Despite cold weather that sharpens the appetite and more or ess frightens off the fish, anglers off the Santa Monica municipal pier are turning in catches of barracuda, halibut and sea bass. According to Jack Dugan, "commodore" of the Capt. T. J. Morris fleet of smacks that operate locally, the bass are being found in profusion amid the kelp beds a short distance out to sea. Aside from the kelp bass there is also the calico or striped variety of bass.

HARRISON GETS TRIP TO OLYMPIC GAMES

Southern California enthusiasts of the swim are rejoicing in the good fortune that has befallen Reginald Harrison, well-known representative of the Venice Plunge Swimming Association, and at present enrolled at Stanford University.

Playing a wonderful brand of ball for the Cardinals in the recent senior national championships contested in Chicago, Harrison was named by authorities in charge to act in the capacity of alternate on America's water-polo team in the coming Olympiad.

Coffee Planter Visits Port on Trip to Europe

Country Declared as Making Remarkable Progress

American Investments Given Credit for Change

American investments are yanking Salvador to the front with amazing swiftness, and that country is enjoying a prosperity unparalleled, in the opinion of Arturo Araujo, coffee and sugar planter arriving on the Panama Mail liner Ecuador yesterday, en route for a summer's tour of Europe.

"We've just sold the greatest coffee crop in Salvador's history, and other crops and industries are promising bountiful returns. We have surfaced more than 500 miles of formerly impassable roads, and an American firm now has a contract with our government to pave 1500 additional miles of highway.

"We are building modern bridges, schools and growing in every direction, but it has been the entry of American finances which have permitted us to set such a stride."

Other travelers disembarking here include William Pickwood, manager of a 3000-mile mountain railroad in Bolivia, bound for London; Julio Alcaine, civil engineer of Salvador, and Miss Helen Ludhum, writer for film magazines, en route from New York to Hollywood. The liner sailed for San Francisco last night after dropping coffee, sugar and hardwood.

BID ON PORT LOOKOUT STATION ACCEPTED

Bid of George G. Aitkenhead on the construction of the proposed new lookout station to be erected on top of Municipal Warehouse No. 1 in the outer harbor, to enable the Marine Exchange of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to keep close watch on incoming and outgoing vessels, was accepted at the meeting of the commissioners yesterday. His price was $2765.

The United Dredging Company was low bidder on the contract to dredge 32,500 cubic yards of soil from slip No. 232, when the bids were opened by the Harbor Commissioners yesterday. The bid was 28 cents a yard by hydraulic dredge. Merritt, Chapman & Scott bid 39.4 cents a yard, with a clamshell dredge. The harbor engineer was directed to go over the bids and report at the next meeting.

"California — Will you Come?"

A scene of Mt. Jefferson from Mt. Jefferson Park. One of the many beautiful snow-capped mountain peaks in Oregon.

OREGON, YOUR NEIGHBORING STATE, BIDS YOU WELCOME! Spend your vacation this year on your own Pacific Coast — the most scenic outdoor playground in the world! The trip by rail has been shortened in time, steamship service improved, and you have your choice of four excellent highways. All points of interest are easy of access, with excellent hotel accommodations everywhere, at reasonable rates.

A Vacation Paradise

Oregon is the natural Summer playground for Californians. The days are warm and sunny, but not hot; the nights cool and invigorating.

The forests, the hills, the valleys, are cloaked with emerald-green verdure; lofty, snow-capped peaks rise majestically heavenward, and everywhere an enchanting panorama of awe-inspiring scenery greets the visitor.

Enjoy Your Favorite Sport!

Fish to your heart's content for mountain trout and the fighting salmon—for in Oregon fishing is at its best!

Bring your golf clubs! Beautiful evergreen courses are to be found everywhere—sixteen in Portland alone, eight of which are of the "pay-as-you-play" variety.

Swim— hike— camp— whatever your favorite sport or hobby may be—you'll find it here aplenty.

HERE'S NEW WAY TO FIND WIFE

Watch What She Eats, Boys, And Shun Dyspeptics, Expert Advises

CHICAGO, May 16. (Exclusive)—One should judge his dinner companion not only by how she eats, but what. "If the woman you intend for your wife orders a pimento cheese sandwich, a strawberry sundae and coffee and calls it a dinner, let that be her last repast, so far as you are concerned, because with so little food judgment she probably will become a dyspeptic with the disposition peculiar to that disease and not a fit companion for life."

That was the advice to young men given by Miss Mildred Slattery, home economics expert with the National Food Show in progress here.

"On the other hand," went Miss Slattery, "if the girl should order this menu: Asparagus soup, creamed liver, spinach and a dessert of gelatin, slip the ring on her finger for she is probably a good cook and will make you a good wife."

...lished in every continent, with a sort of world conference over all.

The fears of negro Methodists that by this plan they would be set apart in a central conference of their own, a possibility they would vigorously combat, were quieted by safeguarding amendments made to the report first presented. They were assured that the plan is in no sense a concealed scheme for legislation to segregate them from their fellow-Methodists in America.

The practical segregation which now is operative in the negro membership never has been recognized in Methodist law, and the negro delegates are determined that it shall not be. They are willing that the two negro bishops shall work exclusively with the Methodists of their own race. They accept as settled the facts of all-black congregations and all-black conferences. But they oppose any proposal which would give these adjustments the effect of law. They want to do their own segregation, and by choice, not compulsion.

BREAKS AVERTED

Today's action averts the very real danger that Methodist churches in other lands would break away from the mother church in America, and organize themselves into so many national and independent Methodists.

And it makes sure that the Methodist-Episcopal Church, like the Roman Catholic Church, will continue to operate beyond all political boundaries and be in scope and personnel a genuinely international denomination. While large powers of self-government will be given to the various central conferences, the whole church, democratic in spirit and representative in form, will continue to determine the larger matters of doctrine and government.

The amendments adopted today are like amendments to the American Constitution. They must be sent down to the 138 annual conferences for ratification. Forty of these conferences are outside the United States. The almost unanimous vote here indicates, so Methodist observers believe, a favorable vote in the conferences. It will be taken during next fall and the spring of 1929.

APOSTLES CREED RENAISSANCE FAVORED

KANSAS CITY, May 16. (AP)—Renaissance of fundamental teachings of the apostles creed, the articles of religion of the universal church of Christ, and the fifty-two sermons of John Wesley was commended to the quadriennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here yesterday in a report brought out from the committee on state of the church, with only one dissenting vote.

The committee report again brought before the conference in modified form condemnation of the increeping of modernism, which the delegates refused to entertain in the early days of the conference two weeks ago.

CHURCH VERDICT REPORTED AGAINST BISHOP BAST

KANSAS CITY, May 16. (AP)—With the completion of the trial of Bishop Anton Bast of Copenhagen before a court of the Methodist-Episcopal Church here tonight, reports immediately gained credence among delegates that charges of imprudent conduct unbecoming a minister, against the Danish prelate, had been sustained.

There also were persistent rumors that the church tribunal will recommend permanent suspension of Bishop Bast when the formal report is presented to the general conference of the church here, probably tomorrow.

Review Asked for Rum Trial

WASHINGTON, May 16. (AP)—John P. Donnelley, a former Federal prohibition director for Nevada, today asked the Supreme Court to review its recent decision sustaining his conviction for failure to report to the Federal attorney an asserted violation of the prohibition law by James A. Curran at Reno.

Donnelley insists the effect of the supreme Court decision is to render criminally liable all prohibition-enforcement officers who fail to report all cases to Federal attorneys without regard to whether evidence collected by them is sufficient to warrant prosecution.

HIGHER SPEED LIMIT FOUGHT

Snook Announces Opposition to "Take Off Lid"

More Than Forty Miles He Calls Dangerous

Assemblyman's Proposal for New Law Denounced

SACRAMENTO, May 16. (Exclusive)—Although a careful survey has disclosed that increasing of the automobile speed limit from thirty-five to forty miles an hour has had no measurable effect in increasing accidents, according to Frank G Snook, chief of the State division of motor vehicles, he will oppose any effort to increase the limit beyond forty miles, he said today. Snook's statement was prompted by the latest attack on the forty-mile limit rule, which was made by Assemblyman Nielsen of Sacramento. Nielson announced that he will propose a bill at the next session of the Legislature to remove the speed limit and strengthen the code relating to reckless driving.

A court at Fresno held recently that a speed of forty miles an hour does not of itself constitute reckless driving. In so ruling the court dismissed charges against a motorist who was arrested for driving fifty miles an hour on an open highway with no other cars in sight.

"Forty miles an hour is fast enough," is Snook's declaration. "On a smooth road and under ordinary conditions forty miles is not too fast. To increase the speed limit or take off the lid altogether as is being proposed would be exceedingly dangerous."

Snook announced that he will appear before the Legislature in opposition to any measure to make the law more liberal in its application to speed.

The contention of Nielsen and those insisting on removal of the speed limit is that reckless driving constitutes the chief menace and that the construction of modern automobiles makes a speed in excess of forty miles an hour as safe as a speed below that limit. They point to the discredited arguments of the opponents of the forty-mile limit law that it would result in more accidents.

SINCLAIR GIVEN HONOR IN VOTE

Re-elected to Directorate of Consolidated Oil

Rumored Sale of Interests Shown to be False

Business of Company Climbs Report Discloses

NEW YORK, May 16. (AP)—Harry F. Sinclair, chairman of the board of Sinclair Consolidated Oil Company, today was re-elected a director at the annual meeting of stockholders.

HARRY F. SINCLAIR

Reports had been current in Wall street for several weeks that control of the company had been acquired in the open market by outside interests, and that Sinclair's re-election would be opposed because of developments in the Senate investigation of oil reserves, but nothing of this nature arose at the meeting. Mr. Sinclair's vote, however, was not as large as that for other directors, all of whom were re-elected. The vote cast for Sinclair represented 2,752,005 shares, while votes for other directors were 2,755,648 shares each.

INCREASES SHOWN

Refinery runs in the first four months this year increased 16 per cent to 10,548,000 barrels, Sinclair reported. Gasoline production gained 16.65 per cent to 351,216,000 gallons and gasoline sales increased 24 per cent to 251,757,000 gallons compared with the first four months of 1927.

Clarence Shearn acting as special counsel for the directors informed stockholders that after negotiations regarding exchange of stock of Sinclair Consolidated for Mammoth Oil Company shares in October 1922, Sinclair had offered to return the entire 250,000 shares of Sinclair Consolidated common stock and $400,000 in cash, representing dividends. The offer, he said, had been accepted by the directors.

IMPROVEMENT CITED

Mr. Shearn explained that he and former Judge O'Brien have been appointed special counsel for the directors to act in the situation arising from invalidation of the Teapot Dome naval oil lease by the United States Supreme Court.

Chairman Sinclair expressed his regret that the increase in the company's earnings during the first four months of 1928 were not proportionate to increased business, adding, "I assure you that it is only on account of prices."

Regarding conditions in the oil industry he said that "off in the hazy distance" he believes he can see an improvement.

ENGINEERS SEE NEW AIR MOTOR

It Burns Heavy Oils and Cuts Down Weight

Carburetor and Electric Ignition Lacking

Research on Gasoline Type Shows Progress

LANGLEY FIELD (Va.) May 16. (AP)—The development of a light-weight oil-burning motor and other advances in scientific research expected to reduce hazards and costs and increase the usefulness of airplanes have been explained before American aircraft engineers here by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

The heavy-oil fuel engine for aircraft, weighing less than three pounds per horsepower, has been devised in the committee's laboratories here after five years of experiment. A one-cylinder model was demonstrated to the commercial engineers yesterday during the third annual aircraft engineering-research conference and it was made known that the experiments have advanced far enough now to warrant the construction of multicylindered motors for actual use in aircraft.

NO FIRE HAZARD

This motor, it was explained, eliminates the fire hazard which attends the use of gasoline in the common types of airplane engines, the fuel supply being capable of extinguishing a flame unless raised to a very high temperature. It also does away with electric ignition and carburetion, since the fuel is sprayed into the cylinders under high pressure and ignited by the heat in the highly compressed air charge. In addition to these advantages with respect to safety and simplicity it produces more horsepower to the gallon of fuel, promising greater cruising radius and carrying capacity for aircraft equipped with such a power plant. The twenty-six-horsepower one-cylinder model develops 500 revolutions per minute.

The research workers are particularly hopeful that the oil-burning motors will prove of great value in aircraft constructed for heavy loads and long flights, including bombing, transport and passenger machines.

ALL POWER STROKES

Looking toward increased economy and efficiency in gasoline motors for use in planes built for high speeds and ready maneuverability, such as the pursuit and sport types, they reported considerable progress toward the development of an engine in which every down stroke on the pistons, instead of every other one, would be a power stroke. This, they pointed out, will approximately double the horsepower of a motor in relation to weight, permitting the construction of even lighter speed motors than have yet been devised. Beyond that lies development of a similar two-stroke cycle fuel-injection engine, work on which has already begun.

Solutions of other aeronautical problems which the committee's experts were able to lay before the aircraft engineers included much new data looking toward the reduction of spinning and stalling, the chief causes of airplane accidents, and the increased stability and controllability through improvements in wing design.

WORLD'S LARGEST AIRSHIP TO BE 731 FEET IN LENGTH

LONDON, May 15. (Exclusive)—The world's largest airship, the R-101, which the Air Ministry now has under construction, will have a capacity of 5,000,000 cubic feet, with be 731 feet three inches in length, 131 feet eight inches in diameter, and 138 feet eleven inches in height.

There will be five Tornado engines of 700 horsepower each, capable of generating eighty miles per hour at full speed and seventy miles per hour at cruising speed. The gross lift will be 85.3 tons, of which the disposable lift is seventy tons, including twenty-five tons for fuel, fifteen tons for water and thirty tons for passengers and cargo. Each propeller is sixteen feet over all.

There will be fifteen gas bags and forty-nine fuel tanks, of which thirty-seven will have a capacity of 225 gallons and twelve a capacity of 112 gallons.

WIRE RATE CUT TO BE SOUGHT

Western Union Earnings in State Held Excessive

Increase on Press Matter Granted by Commission

Interstate Body to Get Complaint in Ten Days

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16. (AP)—Declaring the Western Union Telegraph Company is earning from 20 to 40 per cent on California business, the State Railroad Commission today directed its attorney, Carl Wheat, to file a complaint before the Interstate Commerce Commission asking for a reduction in rates in excess of $2,000,000 a year. The commission allowed an increase in the company's press rates of $7700 a year on the ground that business was being conducted at a loss.

The commission, in issuing the order, declared it would be derelict in its duty to the public if the facts were not laid before the Interstate Commerce Commission, which has jurisdiction over rates for interstate business in which California is concerned. It was expected the complaint would be filed within ten days.

More than $1,000,000 worth of electric fans were sent from this country to tropical and semitropical countries last year.

City Control of Power Scored

STOCKTON, May 16. (Exclusive) Directors of the San Joaquin County Farm Bureau today announced the completion of a resolution in which they set forth that municipal ownership of light and power endangers taxes on agriculturists. The resolution reads that with the breaking up of private light and power systems, higher rates in the agricultural districts will result.

H. Cherry Jones of Farmington, who sponsored the resolution, declares that recent acquisitions by the city of San Francisco will result in the elimination of thousands of dollars from the total taxes paid to the State by the public utilities.

PROFITS OF CALPET OFF IN QUARTER

Earnings are equivalent to more than 12 cents a share on 31,979,943 shares of $25 par value capital stock outstanding at the close of 1927 and before the company merged with the Texas Corporation. In the first quarter of last year, 61 cents a share was earned.

Dividends paid for the period amounted to $515,341.50 and in the first quarter of 1927, $989,303.48. Surplus account, which at the end of the first quarter last year stood at $22,298,907.43, has dropped to $15,503,825.63. Surplus at the close of 1927 stood at $19,767,477.96.

Pan American Bank Reduces Capital Stock

Reduction in the capital of the Pan-American Bank from $2,000,000 to $1,000,000, the difference to go into a stockholders' auxiliary corporation, was announced yesterday by Leo M. Meeker, president of the bank.

The 20,000 shares of capital stock outstanding at this time will be reduced to 10,000 and the stockholders' beneficial interest in the auxiliary will be indorsed on the certificate. This means that the owners of the bank stock will automatically become holders in the auxiliary corporation, he explained.

The action has been approved by the State Superintendent of Banks, Will C. Wood, the board of directors, Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association, of which the bank recently became a full member, and by the stockholders. At the same time an adjustment in the bank rent was made which was satisfactory to the board of directors.

Mr. Meeker, newly elected president of the institution, in commenting on the capital reduction, stated that at the present time surplus of the bank amounts to $250,000 and undivided profits total $100,000.

Curb Rule Hits Small Traders

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16. (AP)—The governing board of the San Francisco curb exchange today took steps to eliminate trading in a small number of shares of low-priced stocks. The board ruled that no trading in less than 500-share lots will be permitted in stocks selling under $1 per share.

The order becomes effective immediately. In announcing the new rule the board said it was designed to curb undue speculation by those who are unable to carry on such dealings and that the small trading created an untrue market. Such trading, the board declared, tended to obstruct exchange floor facilities.

Members have been urged to provide a fair over-the-counter market for such lots through their offices in the interest of persons now holding less than 500-share lots of the low-priced stocks.

TRUST COMPANIES MERGE IN DETROIT

The Detroit Trust Company and Security Trust Company in Detroit, have consolidated, it was reported from Detroit yesterday. The combined invested capital of more than $13,000,000 gives Detroit the largest trust company in the United States in point of invested capital, doing exclusively a trust and not a banking business. The name of the consolidated companies will be Detroit and Security Trust Company. The Detroit Company, affiliated, has offices in this city.

PICTURE DEAL HELPS FOX

Signing of Contracts for Talking Devices Forecasts Large Earnings for Controlling Owners

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Fox Theaters Corporation and Fox Film Corporation will receive the major benefit of the contracts under which Electric Research Products has granted three of the largest motion-picture companies the right to use its talking-picture devices, Winfield Sheehan, vice-president and general manager of Fox Film, said yesterday. Both of the Fox stocks have been advancing in the last few days in reflection of this development.

Between them, the two Fox companies control 50 per cent of the capitalization of the Fox Case Corporation, said Mr. Sheehan. This company owns the rights to Movietone, the talking-picture device perfected by the Western Electric Company. All profits arising from the installation of Movietone equipment in the theaters and in the studios of the picture companies covered by the contracts will accrue to the Fox Case Corporation.

STOCKS ACCUMULATED

While both of the Fox stocks have been heavily bought in the last few days in anticipation of the profits to come through the Fox Case Corporation investment, Mr. Sheehan expressed the opinion that Fox Theaters Corporation shares have been under greater accumulation because of the smaller capitalization. The latest statement shows only 800,000 shares of Fox Theaters A outstanding and 100,000 B, the latter owned entirely by William Fox and his associates. Each of the Fox companies owns 25 per cent of Fox Case Corporation.

Mr. Sheehan also explained that only the entertainment rights under Movietone have been licensed to Paramount, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and United Artists, the three companies figuring in the deal with Electrical Research Products. The Fox companies, he said, retain the exclusive rights to use Movietone in the making of news reels, educational and political features. Fox Film will also continue to make regular features with the use of Movietone.

What the earnings of the two companies will total as a result of the contracts, Mr. Sheehan was unwilling to forecast. The possibilities can be visualized, however, from his statement that approximately 600 devices already have been installed in theaters, and 1000 will be in operation by the end of the year. Within three years he expects that 20,000 of the talking-picture devices will be in use.

FOREIGN ORDERS GAIN

Foreign installations of Movietone are beginning to account for new orders of considerable size. Theaters in France and Australia have contracted for the use of the device, he said, and are beginning to book the Movietone pictures and features.

Besides the possibilities from this new development in the talking-picture situation, Fox Film earnings this year will reflect the purchase several months ago of the Wesco Corporation, owning the West Coast and other theater chains. From these two sources alone it is expected that Fox earnings will easily pass those of the previous year.

In 1927 Fox Film earned $6.24 a share on the combined A and B shares outstanding, the same amount as was earned in the previous year. On Fox Theaters Corporation shares the earnings were the equivalent to 84 cents a share.

Four Printing and Dye Works Combine Assets

NEW YORK, May 16. (AP)—Merger of four dye works to form the Associated Dyeing and Printing Corporation, designed to be one of the largest factors in the dyeing, weighing, printing and finishing of fabrics for piece goods manufacture, was announced today.

The corporation will take over the business and most of the assets of Royal Piece Dye Works, Colt Dye Works, Cramer & King Company and Uhlig Piece Dye Works.

It will own and operate four plants in Paterson, N. J., and through pooling of the specialized methods of the merged companies will provide a complete dyeing and printing service for silks, rayons and mixed fabrics. W. L. Wirbelauer will be the president.

Penn City Bank Rate Increased

WASHINGTON, May 16. (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board announced today that the Philadelphia Reserve Bank had established a rediscount rate of 4½ per cent, effective tomorrow.

Directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco are scheduled to meet today when it is possible that the rediscount rate will be raised to 4½ per cent to conform with most of the other Federal reserve banks. The New York rate still stands at 4 per cent.

ODELL TO EUROPE

Word has just been received here by A. L. Schoenborn, vice-president of the Pacific States Savings and Loan Company, that Robert S. Odell, managing director, is en route to England, where he is to attend a conference of English building-and-loan societies. The invitation came to Mr. Odell through Enoch Hill, general manager of the Halifax Building Society.

American Bell Announces New Stock Offering

BOSTON, May 16. (AP)—The American Telephone and Telegraph Company directors today voted to offer to shareholders $185,000,000 new stock at $100 a share in ratio of one new share for each six held on June 1.

Payment for the new stock will be spread over eight months. With the first installment due on August 1, the second on December 1, and the third on April 1, 1929, subscribers will have the option of paying in full on August 1.

The money raised by this issue will be used in financing the needs of the associated companies of the Bell system and the long lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company in plant and equipment.

The issue is in line with the statement made by President Walter S. Gifford of the company in his last annual report that "it is the policy of the company to pay only reasonable regular dividends and for part of the new capital needed to offer from time to time new stock to its stockholders on favorable terms."

Seaboard Oil to Issue Stock

NEW YORK, May 16.—Directors of the Mexican Seaboard Oil Company will shortly offer stockholders rights to subscribe for the unissued stock of the company in the ratio of 5 1-2 shares for each 100 shares held, Harris Hammond, president, declared yesterday following the annual meeting.

The authorized capital stock amounts to 1,000,000 shares, of which 945,061 shares are issued and outstanding. Charles T. Fisher and C. R. Bitting of Fisher & Co., Detroit; Ogden Mills and J. Horace Harding, were elected members of the board. Other directors were reelected.

RESULTS EXPECTED

Control of Speculative Situation by Reserve Bank Forecast

That the Federal Reserve banks will eventually control the speculative situation is the unqualified assertion of McNeel's Financial Service.

McNeel's says in its latest survey:

"The stock market has been and continues to be largely a study in mob psychology and in money. There is never any way of measuring the extremes to which public speculation may go. Apparently, the only limitations on prices in general are the limitations of purchasing power and the limitations on the supply of money which purchasers of securities may borrow to buy stocks. The warnings of the Federal Reserve banks and the raising of various rediscount rates have not served to curb public speculation. There seems no doubt, however, that the Federal Reserve banks in the long run will control this situation and it certainly behooves those entering into speculative commitments to take this situation into account."

NET EARNINGS OF NATIONAL TEA UP

National Tea Company yesterday reported net earnings for the quarter ended March 31, last of $711,080.02, after Federal taxes equivalent after preferred dividends, to $4.30 a share on the 150,000 shares of common stock. This figure covers earnings after deductions for replacements and betterments and available for bond interest, income tax and depreciation.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 16. (AP)—Rallies from an early decline in the cotton market today were influenced by unfavorable features in the weekly report of the Weather Bureau, but on the whole the weather news seemed to make a better impression on sentiment and the market eased again. Active months were 21 to 24 points net lower in midafternoon, July selling around 20.75.

BUSINESS OF GLOBE GRAIN POINTING UP

Sales Gain of $704,020 Reported Over Similar Quarter for 1927

Sales of the Globe Grain and Milling Company for the first three months of 1928 amounted to $5,388,043, compared with $4,684,023 for the corresponding period of last year, an increase of $704,020, or 15 per cent, according to a report issued by the company yesterday. Sales for the twelve months ending June 30, next, are forecast at approximately $23,000,000, it was reported.

Plants are running at approximately 80 per cent of capacity. For the quarter ended March 31, production totaled 310,426 barrels of flour, compared with 293,587 barrels for the same period in 1927, the report stated.

With sales running approximately 15 per cent higher than last year an increase in earnings will be shown for the fiscal year ending June 30, officials of the company stated.

While anticipated higher earnings are partially responsible for the sharp advance of the company's stock on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange in the past week, a rumor current on Spring street advises that directors of the company will take favorable action on the proposed split-up of the common stock on a four-for-one basis at the next meeting. Directors deferred action on this matter at the last meeting.

It is also predicted in some quarters that the dividend rate on the common stock will be increased to conform with the increased earnings, regardless of the action taken on the split-up.

New Financing Schedule Out

Investment securities to be offered Pacific Coast purchasers today include a California public-utility issue of $1,250,000 American States Public Service Company first lien 5½ per cent gold bonds, due 1948, priced at 98½ and interest, to yield over 5.65 per cent, by a syndicate headed by Lonfstaff & Co., Blankenhorn & Co. and Bradford, Kimball & Co.

S. W. Straus & Co. will offer shortly an issue of $5,250,000 5½ per cent leasehold bonds, secured by the Sun Office Buildings, including the Consolidated Realty Building, Chester Williams Building and the Roosevelt Building.

An issue of $500,000 6 per cent cumulative participating preferred stock of the Federal Home Mortgage Company is being offered in units consisting of one share of preferred and one share of common stock by the R. H. Arnold Company of Los Angeles.

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

LONDON, May 16. (By Wireless) Markets were quiet and irregular today. Investments were steady to firm because of the growing strength of the Bank of England's position and the favorable position of the American exchange rate. Keen interest was taken here in the prospects of the State of New York making "legals" of the British funding and 5 per cent war loan.

Active markets, like artificial silks, gramophones, Marconis and hydroelectrics, were all inclined to be dullish, and kaffirs were again weak on French selling.

HYNES DAIRY BANK OPEN FOR BUSINESS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16. (AP)—Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Banks, announced the opening today of the Azores Dairy Bank of Hynes, Los Angeles county. The bank has a capital, surplus and contingent fund of $60,000. Permission for organization was granted November 14, 1927.

UNIVERSAL PICTURES EARNINGS INCREASE

Net earnings available for dividends of the Universal Pictures Corporation, for the first quarter of the year, are equivalent after preferred dividends to 72 cents a share on 250,000 shares of no par value common stock. This compares with 51 cents a share in the corresponding period of last year, it was reported yesterday.

ASSETS OF RAILWAY MUTUAL INCREASE

Total resources of the Railway Mutual Building and Loan Association as of April 30, last, amounted to $901,287.08 as compared with $302,152.44 for the same date a year ago, an increase of $899,134.64, or nearly 350 per cent, according to a financial statement issued yesterday by the institution. First mortgage loans held totaled $828,140.27.

MARKETS TO CLOSE

NEW YORK, May 16. (AP)—Governors of the New York Stock Exchange voted to close the exchange on Saturday to permit brokerage offices to catch up in clerical work. It also ruled that members of the exchange must keep their offices open. The curb market also will be closed.

Governors of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange also voted yesterday to close on Saturday.

PICK-UP IN TRADE REPORTED

Federal Reserve Bank Bulletin for May Declared Most Cheerful of Recent Issues

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

[Copyright, 1928, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, May 16.—Gloom is dispelled in the Federal reserve bulletin's analysis for May, published today, and a picture of business drawn that contains more cheer than has come from that officials quarter in a long time.

A 20 per cent jump in the production of manufacturers since December has lifted the output until in March it exceeded that for any previous month for which records are available. The present high level of manufacturing is explained by the recent order increases in steel, automobile, food and the paper industries.

What the new official figures show is that manufacturing activity, through its recent pick-up, has entirely offset the long and sharp down swing in 1927 production. This broad improvement in manufacturing activity has raised the level of production for the quarter as a whole higher than in any previous year. Here is a general sketch on the trend in 1928 business from the Federal reserve board that will come as a distinct surprise to those who fail to see any pronounced turn for the better in industry.

In any analysis of the recent improvement in industrial activity, significance naturally is attached to the gains made by the automobile industry. Production fell sharply last year after two years of volume output, for the reason that operations were suspended in the Ford plants. More recently Ford production has increased and, since other companies also have expanded their operations, big strides were made between December and May. Whereas, motor production for the former months was at its smallest volume since 1922, in the latter month it reached its best level since the middle of 1926.

Simultaneous with these gains in various manufacturing lines have come losses in the textile and leather industries. It is also plain that improvement in the production of minerals has nowhere nearly kept pace with that in manufacturing activity.

The movement of commodities through the different channels of trade slowed down toward the end of 1927, but in early 1928 has risen again to the level of a year ago. Special importance is attached by the board to the fact that it is in the agricultural sections of the country that the best gains over a year ago have been registered. Not only did prices of farm products advance last year, but they have remained consistently higher than a year ago, enabling farmers to market their produce at advantageous prices.

DEMAND IN IRON TRADE HOLDS UP

Little Change Reported from First Quarter Total

Slight Easing Down in Mill Activity Noted

Prices on Steel Products at About Old Levels

CLEVELAND, May 16. (Exclusive) This week, the 16th inst., Iron Trade Review says:

Momentum acquired during the first quarter still is carrying iron and steel demand along at a fairly high plane, but the volume of new business is easing off gradually. While shipments continue heavy, a slight recession is noted from week to week in mill operations. Orders are not as large as in recent weeks, and though there is no definite change in steel prices the easy tendency persists.

Valley pig iron has reached a new low level on the present movement, with small-lot sales at $17 base, or 25 cents under the recent minimum. Chicago furnaces have reduced foundry and malleable 50 cents to $18. A large tonnage of malleable for delivery over the second half to a Muncie (Ind.) smelter is reported to have been placed with a Cleveland maker at $16 base, furnace, or 50 cents under the recent minimum. Reports of Alabama iron being offered at $15.50 base Birmingham, do not appear to be substantiated, as only one car was sold in the Chicago market, under distress circumstances at that price, and small-lot orders continue to command $16. A Cleveland furnace during the week booked 50,000 tons for second half delivery. Production of beehive furnace coke has been reduced to contract requirements, steadying the market, while standard foundry grades are being offered at $3.50, or 10 cents less than a week ago.

Practically all consuming lines are taking normal tonnages of sheets and shipments to the automotive industry have been augmented by recent attractive specifications from General Motors units and the Ford Motor Company. Sheet sales, production and shipments receded in April, after the notable improvement made during March. April sales of 284,070 tons were 115,371 tons below those of March. April production of 327,909 tons was only about 10,000 tons below the monthly average for the first quarter, while shipments of 302,759 tons were approximately 10,000 tons above the monthly average for the first quarter. Strip steel shipments so far in May are exceeding the April rate by about 25 per cent.

A stronger tendency is noted in the market for sheet bars, one of two of the Valley producers announcing an advance of $1 to $34 for third quarter, although buyers are not displaying much interest and other producers continue to quote $33.

New York and Chicago structural steel markets reflect increasing activity. Pending business at Chicago exceeds 100,000 tons. Demand at New York is featured by 16,000 tons for a warehouse and 6000 tons for a Western Union Telegraph Company building. Awards include 3500 tons for a Missouri-Pacific Railroad bridge at Little Rock, Ark. Some increase is indicated for the third quarter contracting in plain material prices $1.90 Pittsburgh being the probable level.

Withdrawal of the $100 duty paid, Tidewater, price on ferro-manganese by one of the leading domestic interests, has been followed by all other factors in the trade and the price generally now is $105 on new business. Substantial tonnages have been placed under contract for subscribed half at 105.

The market for cotton ties has been opened for the season, with makers using a different method of quoting, based on quantities. Mill shipments in carloads delivered Atlantic and Gulf ports are $1.27 per forty-five-pound bundle. When 2000 bundles are purchased the price is reduced by 2 cents to $1.25 and on larger quantities the price is $1.23.

Iron Trade Review's composite of fourteen leading iron and steel products dropped 4 cents this week, now being $35.53.

DAMAGE SUIT TRIED

In a lawsuit being tried before Judge Samuel R. Blake, Henry Venegas is asking $25,000 damages for a fall into a sewer. The defendant in the action is J. C. Hickey who Venegas asserts was negligent in leaving the excavation open. Hickey avers Venegas should have looked where he was walking. The hearing will continue today.

JURISDICTION TO CHANGE

The Parks and Playgrounds Committee yesterday recommended to the Council an amendment to the ordinance granting the park department jurisdiction of street parking locations, triangles and intersections so as to prevent vendors of merchandise from trespassing on this property.

'THE STOCK MARKET

BY CHARLES A. DICE, Professor of Finance, Ohio State University

NO. 14 — ORDER TO BUY OR SELL STOCKS

After you have chosen your broker, make a deposit of cash and securities with him in sufficient amount to provide an ample margin for all the trading you expect to do in the near future. Do not at once ask your broker to quote you the minimum margin he will allow. Do not expect the broker to carry you on the same margin that he asks of his old and tried customers. Expect to establish your credit, and to do so, nothing speaks as loudly as plenty of margin always kept intact and careful, conservative trading.

PROCEDURE OUTLINED

Orders are of two general classes, buying or selling. Each of these classes then may be (1) at the market, or (2) limited. The investor calls his broker on the telephone and says "Buy 100 shares of United States Steel at the market." The broker understands this to mean that he shall buy the stock named as soon as he can reasonably transmit the order to the floor of the New York Stock Exchange and to his man there, who is to buy at once at the price then quoted at the steel post. If the order is given "Buy 100 shares of United States Steel at 144," the order is known as a limited order. A definite price is set, and the broker will not buy until the price goes down to 144. But suppose the price does not decline to 144 today; shall the broker consider the order good for tomorrow also? The customer's man or salesman on taking your order will ask, "Do you want that an open order?" or simply "open order?" A limited order with nothing specified as to the time of expiration of the order is taken as good only for the day on which the order is given.

TYPES OF ORDERS

The customary periods for which orders are given are as follows: (1) "At the market" — executed immediately at the market price; (2) day orders—good for the day on which the order is given; (3) "good through May 5" or "good May 3, 4, 5"—automatically void after May 5; (4) "G.T.W.—"good this week;" (5) "G.T.M." — "good this month;" (6) 'G.T.C." — "good till countermanded;" (7) open orders—good till canceled; (8) stoploss orders, also called stop orders — a limited order placed at a price that limits a trader's loss or protects a gain.

All these different types of orders may be used either in buying or in selling. Only limited orders, that is, orders to buy or sell at a fixed price, can involve time as implied in all the classes above, except "at the market" orders.

WRITER REPORTS ROBBERY

Jewelry valued at $500 was taken from the cabin of Dr. Julia Seton, writer and traveler, in Topangowood by a pass-key burglar sometime during the last few days, according to a report made to Sheriff Traeger yesterday. Deputy Sheriffs Jones and Higgins were assigned to investigate the case.

LINES OF PIANO AND MOTOR CAR COMPARED

MUSICAL INSTRUMENT OUTLIVES AUTO THREE TIMES OVER, MERCHANTS TOLD

While seven years is the life of the average automobile, pianos are kept in service more than three times that long, according to John S. Gorman, vice-president and sales manager of the Gulbransen Company, who spoke yesterday at a convention of piano merchants meeting under the auspices of the Martin Music Company, 734 South Hill street.

"About 2,000,000 American automobiles were scrapped in 1927," the speaker declared, "while it is doubtful if more than 20,000 pianos found their way to the junk pile. When a motor car reaches a state of hopeless senility, it goes to its last rest in the automobile grave yard. But a superannuated piano rarely sees the scrap heap."

PLAYERS AT MOSCOW SEND ACTRESS SHAWL

A wager made four years ago back-stage in the Moscow Art Theater in Russia was settled in Hollywood yesterday when Olga Baclanova, Paramount actress, received a beautiful embroidered Russian shawl. The shawl was sent by members of the Moscow Theater Company, who formerly were her fellow-artists.

The wager was made while the players were discussing their favorite stage and screen artists. Miss Baclanova picked Emil Jannings and wagered she would play in a production opposite him. She won the shawl when she appeared in one of Jannings's most recent productions filmed at the Paramount lot. With the scarf came a congratulatory message.

Wheat Market Eases Off on Rain Reports

CHICAGO, May 16. (Exclusive)—Rains over a good part of the grain belt had a depressing effect on prices, and while there was a strong rally at one time, the finish was easy, with wheat 2@2¼c lower and rye off ¼@1¼c. Corn was unchanged to ½c lower, and oats unchanged to 1¼c lower.

Dry weather reports from the Canadian Northwest with claims that the soil was drifting badly in some sections, was largely responsible for a good rally in wheat at one time, but the bulge brought in free selling and the market eased quickly with the finish about the low point. Both the winter and spring wheat belts this side of the international line were regarded as having received moisture to last for some time and winter wheat is heading as far north as Northern Oklahoma. A number of the local professionals who were on the buying side on Tuesday were credited with having sold during the day.

Crop comments from the winter wheat belt were somewhat more favorable, with improvement in condition indicated as the result of recent rain. September showed more strength than the July and finished at ¼c over the near-by delivery. Winnipeg was weak and 1¼@3c lower, with May leading. Argentine exports for the week were estimated at 3,756,000 bushels against 3,530,000 bushels last year. Export demand was slow, with sales of 250,000 bushels in all positions. Liverpool closed ½@¾d higher, with firmness in Plate and Canadian offers a factor. Realising sales caused a recession from the best figures.

Corn was easy early on local and commission house selling, but rallied 2@2½c from the inside figure on local short covering and closing of spreads with wheat, only to ease off again toward the last in sympathy with other grains. Limited country offerings and small receipts at terminal markets had some effect on sentiment. In the past three days shipments from primary points exceeded receipts by 1,200,000 bushels. Rains over the Central West, with mild temperatures, are expected to cause rapid germination of the newly planted corn.

Oats market was unsettled and was easily influenced by any good buying or selling, closing at the bottom on scattered selling. There was further selling of July and buying of September and the difference narrowed ¾c for the day and was 8¼c at the last against 10¾c on Monday. Rains in the Central West are expected to be very beneficial to the new crop. Rye was firm early, but eased with other grains later. No export business was reported.

Buying of July lard credited to foreigners, took the bulk of the early offerings and created a fairly steady tone, despite weakness and a 10@25c drop in hogs. Trading in all was moderate and although corn was weak at times, lard finished unchanged to 2½c higher.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Deluge of Selling Orders Causes Sharp Reaction in Local Market Stock Prices

General recessions were the rule yesterday in the trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. Heavy liquidation followed the trend of the New York market and prices reacted from the unusually high level of recent sessions. Under pressure of selling orders bank stocks closed off substantially. The oil group was also depressed while the balance of the list, with a few exceptions, closed down for the most part.

Pacific Mutual Life was the chief exception of the day and jumped 15 points to 825. Globe Grain continued its steady rise and marked up a new high at 135, and closed at 132, up 1 from the previous session. Southern California Edison maintained its high level at 52, while the 5 per cent preferred struck another top at 25 3-4, up 3-8. Pacific Gas and Electric preferred added 3-8 to close at 28 7-8.

Union Bank and Trust Company was the only bank stock to record a gain. It soared 19 points to record a new peak price at 269, where it closed. Los Angeles-First National dropped 9½ points to 152½. Merchants' National lost 8 to 280. California Bank closed off 5 to 164 and Bank of Italy, 3 to 301½.

Richfield was subject to the most activity in the oil list, and after more than 20,000 shares were transferred, closed down 3 points to 50. Republic Petroleum lost 6 cents to 65. Rio Grande was off 1¼ to 23¼. Union of California dropped 1⅛ to 52 and Union Associates, 1-4 to 54 1-4. Standard of California lost 3-4 to 60 3-4.

In the unlisted division, Electrical Products dropped 9 points to 176. Richfield preferred, with warrants, lost 1¼ to 20. Bank of America closed at 309 for a net drop of 8½ points.

Stock transfers totaling 448,689 shares established a new record for volume. The previous record was on Monday last with a turnover of 425,562 shares. Bond transactions amounted to $39,000.

RHODE ISLAND HOSPITAL TRUST COMPANY, PROVIDENCE, R. I., CORPORATE TRUSTEE

Mr. E. C. Sweet, President of the Rhode Island Ice Company, summarizes in part his letter to us as follows:

BUSINESS AND TERRITORY: The Rhode Island Ice Company, a Massachusetts corporation, has acquired the assets and business of eleven businesses which wholesale and retail ice, serving practically 75% of all Rhode Island and a substantial part of Eastern Massachusetts.

PROPERTIES: The properties acquired include one modern ice manufacturing plant, natural ice ponds and storage houses. Ice sales of the predecessor businesses were reported at 249,429 tons in 1927, of which 66⅔% was wholesale and 33⅓% retail.

SECURITY. These Bonds are secured in the opinion of counsel by a direct first mortgage on all the lands, buildings, machinery and equipment to be owned by the Company, except that the title to a single property constituting less than two per cent of the total value of all properties is open to possible question against which the Trustee holds indemnity, and except properties acquired from the Providence Ice Company which are subject to the lien of its first mortgage for the retirement of which funds have been deposited with the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company sufficient to retire on August 1, 1928 the entire amount of Bonds outstanding thereunder, when said mortgage can be discharged. The properties subject to the lien of this mortgage have been appraised by Chas. T. Main, Inc., Engineers, as of April 9, 1928, at $2,423,580, which is equivalent to over $2,190 per $1,000 First Mortgage Bond outstanding.

EARNINGS: The consolidated net earnings of the predecessor businesses after operating expenses, maintenance, adjusted officers' salaries and renewals, but before Federal taxes and depreciation, for the two years ended December 31, 1927, as certified by Charles E. CASE 61—of actual instances showing how ORGANIZED INVESTING is assisting average investors.

If you look forward to RETIREMENT

the case of Mr. C—will interest you

A business man recently requested our Organized Investing service to examine his investment position stating he expected to retire in four years.

He owned nearly $350,000 of securities; he was approaching 60 years, and had a dependent family. He had obtained $15,000 income from his securities during the past year . . . an average return of a little over 4%.

In our survey of this man's position we pointed out to him the fundamental weakness of depending upon a preponderance of equity securities for the assured income which he required. We counselled a gradual strengthening of his holdings before his business activities ceased . . . his primary aim being directed toward adequate as well as steady return.

In addition, we called attention to the fact that almost half of his stock holdings were centered in a single industry which, appearing stable on the surface, is influenced by an outside agency . . . not generally understood.

It will pay you to look into Organized Investing, which can help you to judge the strength of your investment position. It is a basic service which is rendered by Blair and Company without cost to investors . . . individual and institutional. Our booklet, ORGANIZED INVESTING describes the service in detail. Without obligation a copy will be mailed to you.

IN THE OPINION OF COUNSEL EXEMPT FROM PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX IN CALIFORNIA
DIVIDENDS EXEMPT FROM NORMAL FEDERAL INCOME TAX

Mr. Ben Weingart, President of the Company, summarizes in part his letter to us as follows:

CAPITALIZATION

	To be Presently Issued	Authorized
Preferred Shares—No Par Value	200,000	50,000
Common Shares—No Par Value	500,000	350,000

NO FUNDED DEBT

BUSINESS: The Consolidated Hotels, Inc., has been incorporated under the laws of the State of Delaware and has acquired from the Lincoln Investment Company the leases, furniture and fixtures covering 51 hotel properties in the city of Los Angeles. These assets are being conveyed to the Consolidated Hotels, Inc. free and clear of all debts of any kind or character together with $100,000 cash in exchange for 300,000 shares no par value Common Stock.

The Company is at present operating 51 hotel properties in the city of Los Angeles. This large scale operation is the outgrowth of ten years continued success by the Lincoln Investment Company. All of these properties are held under long term percentage leases. The percentage lease has proven over a period of time the most satisfactory rental arrangement that can be entered into between lessor and lessee on hotel or apartment house property. The Consolidated Hotels, Inc., has successfully applied chain store principles to hotel operation. The advantages of group buying power, unified management, greater efficiency and consequent greater profits, are the reasons for this Company's successful growth over a ten year period.

PROPERTIES: Among the 51 properties which we at present operate are the following hotels:

Abbey	Brann	Hollenbeck	Stillwell
Argonaut	Clift	Morrison	Westminster
Belmont	Ford	Oviatt	Lankershim

Operating a total of more than 5300 rooms, it is apparent that our company is in a position to accommodate in its various properties, guests desiring almost any general location and schedule of room rates.

EARNINGS: Estimated earnings of this Company, based upon actual present earnings, plus the income derived from the investment of the proceeds of this financing, should be, after the deduction of Federal income taxes and depreciation, at the approximate rate of $390,000 per annum. This amount is equal to approximately five and one-quarter times Preferred Stock dividend requirements and will result in net earnings of about eighty cents per share per annum on the Common Stock of the Company at this time outstanding. Any improvement in general conditions now existing in the hotel and apartment house business, will be reflected in substantially increased profits to this Company.

STOCK WARRANTS: The stock warrants attached to the Preferred Stock certificates entitle the holder thereof to obtain, on May 1, 1931, a like amount of Common shares of this Company on presentation of the warrant at the office of the Los Angeles Investment Trust Company, transfer agent for the Company. Common Stock equal to the amount of the Class "A" Preferred Stock outstanding will be held by the Los Angeles Investment Trust Company, and the holder of the Preferred Stock will be entitled to receive, during this period, any dividends paid on the Common Stock, together with any other stock dividends or stock subscription rights.

It is the intention of the Board of Directors of this Company to declare dividends on the Common Stock in the near future in such amount as the earnings, in their opinion, justify.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The purpose of this financing is to provide capital for the purpose of purchasing furniture and fixtures by which the scope of this Company's activities may be extended. Many desirable hotel and apartment house properties are now being offered by this Company for lease under our standard percentage form and with additional funds provided through the sale of this issue of stock, this Company will be able to show an immediate substantial return on the new properties acquired.

THE COMPANY WILL MAKE APPLICATION TO LIST THESE SHARES ON THE LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

This offering is made subject to the approving legal opinion of Messrs. Knight and Reynolds of Los Angeles for the underwriters, and Mr. Harold Larson of Los Angeles for the Corporation.

International Securities Corporation of America

PAR VALUE $100

Preferred as to assets and cumulative dividends over Class A and Class B Common shares. Cumulative dividends are payable quarterly March 1, June 1, September 1 and December 1. Redeemable on any dividend date, in whole or in part, on sixty days' notice, at 105 and accrued dividends. Dividends are exempt from the present Normal Federal Income Tax.

The following has been summarized from the letter of Mr. William R. Bull, President of the Corporation:

International Securities Corporation of America is the successor of International Securities Trust of America (organized in 1921), the pioneer general investment trust in this country. It is today one of the largest investment trusts of its kind in the United States.

The business of International Securities Corporation of America is confined strictly to the investment and reinvestment of its capital, surplus and reserves, in diversified, seasoned and marketable securities, both domestic and foreign. Its investment portfolio now includes over 500 different government, railroad, public utility, industrial and other securities, representing investments in over 30 different countries.

International Securities Corporation of America commands the services of American Founders Trust, which maintains a staff of economists, statisticians and other specialists in investment trust administration.

With its large resources, and the facilities available to it for the study of economic and business conditions, the Corporation is able to afford to the purchasers of its Preferred shares the advantages of expert selection and supervision, and of broad diversification of investments to a degree rarely available to the individual investor.

Upon completion of this financing, the outstanding capitalization will consist of $26,252,400 of funded debt, $25,000,000 par value of Cumulative Preferred Shares, all series, and Common Shares of no par value, of which 341,859 are of Class A and 600,000 are of Class B.

The Class A and Class B Common Shares have an aggregate value, at present market prices, in excess of $49,000,000.

We are offering the above Shares when, as and if issued and received by us, subject to the approval of the legality by counsel.

DRIFT ON STOCK EXCHANGE DOWN

ried to excess, coupled with growing uneasiness over the credit situation, was the primary factor behind the decline. Directors of the Philadelphia Federal Reserve Bank increased the rediscount rate from 4 to 4 1-2 per cent after the market closed and similar action is generally expected by the directors of the New York Federal Reserve Bank tomorrow.

DAY'S NEWS BULLISH

Curiously, most of the day's financial and trade developments were bullish in character. Directors of American Telephone and Telegraph Company cut the long-expected "melon" today by authorizing issuance of $185,000,000 additional stock at $100 a share to their 435,000 shareholders. Crude-oil production showed a decided decrease last week after a long period of overproduction and a further stiffening was reported in copper prices.

Early speculation for the advance centered largely in airplane stocks which have attracted an enormous following. As a result of the widespread publicity given to the proposed transcontinental air-rail line Wright soared 31 points to a new high record at 245, which contrasts with the year's low of 69, and then plunged to 219, closing at 219½ for a net gain of 5½ points. Curtiss soared nearly 24 points to 192 3-4, collapsed to 149 and closed at 156. Packard, which opened with a block of 20,000 shares at 80 and then moved to a new peak at 80 3-4 on buying influenced by belief that the company's airplane engine business would receive a decided stimulus, reacted to 76 and closed fractionally above that level.

RADIO REACTS

Radio plunged from an early high of 204 7-8 to 186 3-4, closing at 189½. General Motors dipped from 204 3-4 to 196 and went to 198 1-4. American Linseed fell from 106 3-4 to 98 5-8, American Zinc and Lead preferred from 96 to 88 1-8, Brunswick Terminal 39 3-8 to 31 3-4, Greene Cananea Copper from 129 7-8 to 119½, International Match preferred from 118 7-8 to 112 3-8, Montgomery Ward 152 3-4 to 142. Nash Motors 96 3-4 to 91, National Tea 271 to 255 and Victor Talking Machine from 97 3-8 to 91 1-8, partial recoveries being registered in most cases.

Adams Express broke 19 points below the previous quotation to 319 and net declines of 5 points of more were recorded by American Bank Note, American Railway Express, Baldwin, Russia Insurance, U. S. Castiron Pipe and a few others.

RAILS SLUMP

Rails yielded with industrials although losses were not nearly as large. Union Pacific, New York Central, Canadian Pacific, Reading, Delaware and Hudson, Texas and Pacific and Great Northern preferred were among the hardest hit, yielding 2 to 3½ points.

Call money held steady at the renewal rate of 5½ per cent all day. There was not quotable change in time money rates although the undertone of the market was distinctly firmer.

Reactionary tendencies predominated in the leading commodity markets. Wheat futures declined 2 cents and more a bushel and cotton nearly $1 a bale on improved weather forecasts. Coffee rallied 27 to 30 points and sugar quotations held steady.

Foreign exchanges moved within narrow and irregular limits. Sterling cables held around $4.58 1-4.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, May 16. (AP)—Interest in Arizona and Nevada wool continues fairly strong, with several large manufacturing concerns active in the market. Medium and clean basis prices are 1.08@1.10 for short French combing fine wools. Some wools coming in now are showing a better length of staple and these are bringing around 1.10 to 1.12, scoured basis. Demand for woolen wools shows a slight improvement, but sales lack volume because of absence of stock. Replacement of scoured wool is still difficult and mills are saying short wools in the grease very readily.

LONDON, May 16. (AP)—There were 16,872 bales offered at the wool auction sales today. Home and continental buyers were brisk buyers, especially among cross-bred varieties and high-grade wools were frequently in sellers' favor.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, May 16. (AP)—The rising trend of time money rates cast its influence upon the bond market again today. Trading was in greater volume than yesterday and prices were firm, but there was a hesitancy to buy, which bespoke opportunities for greater returns in the call money market and in time loans for which mixed collateral is required.

Dodge Brothers debenture 6s and Armour real estate 4½s were outstanding in the industrial group, the Dodge issue advancing 1 point, the greatest gain it has made in some time, evidently on reports the company is finding its operations more remunerative now that its new models are being distributed in quantity.

The influence of new interests in Armour are seen as the reason for improvement in that issue which reached a new top for the year at 94⅛. It dropped to 92⅞ at the close, showing a small net loss on the day.

Liquid Carbonic convertible 6s were in demand early, but with other industrials were affected by profit-taking in the afternoon. The coppers generally were under pressure, Anaconda's closing with a net loss of more than 2 points and Andes about 1½. Chile 8s and Tennessee 6s with warrants closed up 1 point on the day and Consolidated Coal refunding 5s touched the year's high.

Rails were inclined to heaviness, with St. Paul adjustment 5s of 2000, Canadian Pacific debenture 4s prominent in the downward movement. New York Traction issues eased, Interborough Rapid Transit 6s sagging 2 points.

The strength of Italian industrials again was the feature of the foreign group. Fiat 7s with warrants closed at the year's high, up 1½ points on the day. Montecatini 6s with warrants established a new high, but eased in later trading. French Republic 7s and Greek government 6s also made small gains.

Sudden buying of Liberty Fourth 4¼s featured the generally steady government obligations.

A $7,000,000 issue of Illinois 4 per cent gold bonds was reported oversubscribed, new offerings tomorrow include a $2,500,000 5 per cent gold debentures of the Union American Investing Corporation.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

Operators in the Seacliff field are paying considerable attention to the western end of that district, and three new projects are getting under way to start drilling there, according to reports from the field. The General Petroleum Corporation led the way by leasing several tracts near Mussell Rock several weeks ago, and the Wilshire Oil Company, and the Elmer Oil Company are following suit.

Both the Elmer and the General Petroleum Corporation are building derricks and plan to drill immediately, it is understood, and the Wilshire Oil Company is also building a derrick.

The Mussell Rock area is more than a mile west of the producing district at Seacliff, and is strictly unproven territory, but operations at Seacliff indicate the probability that the structure extends at least as far as the Mussell Rock area. The Shell company has considerable acreage in the new area, and is building a road into the property from its Ballard lease. The Associated also has some holdings near Mussel Rock.

The Elmer Company has just completed a lease of 160 acres from the Rincon Investment Company which controls 600 acres in fee, and a government permit on 160 acres additional.

Flows 800 Barrels

The Associated Oil Company is still getting 800 barrels a day out of its Cypress No. 2 well in the Potrero field, it was reported on good authority yesterday. The field is holding up consistently, and the gravity continues to be around 47 deg. The cut is less than 2 per cent, it is said.

The Cypress No. 1, which blew out a couple of times about three weeks ago, and furnished more excitement that Potrero has known for a year or more, is still standing idle, and so far as known, the Associated has made no plans to resume work on it.

An echo of the Associated Oil Company's work on the Johnson lease, in the eastern end of the Potrero field occurred on Monday with the filing for record of a quitclaim deed to the Johnson eighty acres. The Associated drilled the Johnson well to more than 5500 feet, without getting any encouraging showings, so far as could be ascertained at the time, and the property was quitclaimed shortly afterward.

Gets Good Well

The Sovereign Oil Corporation has completed its first well in the deep sand at Signal Hill, and is getting an estimated production of about 3000 barrels a day, according to field reports. The well was drilled to 6300 feet, and has a penetration of about 1000 feet of oil sand. It is located on Temple avenue and Twenty-first street.

The Sovereign is drilling two other wells to the deep zone at Signal Hill, and is preparing to drill three more, it is said. This company is headed by some of the men who formed the Marine Corporation in the early days of the Signal Hill field, and made it one of the outstanding independent producers of the field.

Officially Quits

The Ohio Oil Company has finally and officially abandoned its Miller No. 1 well in the Cypress district, after drilling the well to more than 6000 feet, according to official reports. The well never had any showings of importance, it is said. The hole was drilled on the George B. Miller ranch.

Near Completion

The Union Oil Company is completing its Long Beach Community No. 13 well in the deep zone at Signal Hill, according to field reports, which indicate that the crew is having some trouble bringing it in. Bottom of the hole is at 6475 feet.

Make Production Test

The Italo-American Petroleum Corporation is putting the finishing touches on its No. 1 well in the deep zone at Signal Hill, according to official reports, and expects to have the well on production in the next few days. Bottom is at 6305 feet.

Barnsdall Quits

The Barnsdall Oil Company has officially abandoned its Edwards No. 2 well fifteen miles west of Santa Barbara in the Goleta district, according to official reports. This well was drilled to about 2800 feet, and had some good showings, but the Barnsdall was never able to make a commercial producer of it. The well apparently was another one of the "teasers" which were about all any of the Goleta operators were able to get. Good shallow showings were found, and some high gravity sands penetrated, but production was almost invariably disappointing.

It is understood that the Barnsdall is contemplating further activity in the Goleta district, but no definite announcement has been forthcoming.

Official Report

The total number of new wells started in the State of California during the present year is not much more than half the total for the same period of last year, according to official reports from the office of the State Oil and Gas Supervisor. The figures show 367 new wells to date, against 607 wells in the same period of 1927. Total abandonments to date were 233, against 208 a year ago.

PAVING PROJECTED AT YORBA LINDA

YORBA LINDA, May 16.—Plans for a paving program, which, if carried out, will result in the resurfacing of sixteen and a half miles of streets and roadways in and around Yorba Linda at an estimated expenditure of $115,000 were definitely set afoot at a mass meeting of property owners held last night in the Yorba Linda Masonic Hall.

The meeting was called by the Chamber of Commerce, which has been working on the project for the past several months, and J. W. Hargrave, president of the Booster Body, presided. More than thirty ranchers and other large landowners of the district took part in the discussion and indorsed the move.

EDUCATORS OF MEXICO FETED

Chamber President Lauds Mission Here

Members Guests at Civic Leaders' Luncheon

Points of Interest In Section Seen

"Because it is recognised that through the interchange of ideas concerning the educational institutions of our two countries that they will come a closer understanding and respect for each other, I am particularly glad of this opportunity to welcome the members of the Mexican Cultural Mission," said President Eastman of the Chamber of Commerce, at a luncheon yesterday when the Mexican educators were guests of the foreign trades department of the chamber.

"This greater sympathy," he continued, "will have its reflection in the foundation of closer business relations, and speaking for the business and commercial interests of this city, in so far as it is possible, they are glad to welcome and encourage a greater interchange of ideas, not only along educational lines, but in other fields as well, since such interchange promotes travel and commerce between the two countries. In a recent visit to Mazatlan I inspected your school facilities there, and was greatly impressed with the educational developments sponsored by your government."

THEN TOUR HARBOR

Immediately after luncheon the party of twenty-eight visitors was taken by motor to the harbor for a tour of inspection and a boat trip, arranged through the courtesy of Capt. Sandberg, harbor traffic manager. A visit to the Spanish-American Institute completed the afternoon program.

In the morning, members of the mission were guests at the Breakfast Club, where Dr. Rufus Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, was the chief speaker. In return for three cheers given the delegation by the club members, the Mexicans joined in a chorus of "Vivas," led by Prof. Federico Mariscal, head of the group, thereby establishing around the horseshoe breakfast table an entente cordiale which no diplomat could hope to equal.

FRATERNITY BANQUET

Following breakfast, the visitors were driven through the residential districts of the city, with George W. H. Shield, supervisor of modern language department of city schools and general chairman of the program for the guests, pointing out the homes to them.

In the evening, members of Sigma Delta Pi, honorary Spanish society at the University of Southern California, were hosts to the Mexican educators at a banquet in the Student Union. After the banquet a reception was held giving the faculty, members of the society, and advanced and graduate students of Spanish at the university an opportunity to meet and welcome the guests from the southern republic. President Von KleinSmid, Prof. William Rice, head of the Spanish department; Henry Niese, Los Angeles Consul for Argentina, and Prof. Antonio Heras, formerly of the University of Madrid, presented the visitors.

Plans for the entertainment of the Mexicans today include morning and afternoon visits to Los Angeles city schools, observation of the filming of pictures at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios in Culver City, dinner at the Hollywood Hotel as guests of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and attendance at Grauman's Chinese Theater as guests of the management.

ORAL-FILM DEAL CONFIRMED

Paramount and M.-G.-M. Purchase of Western Electric Talking-Picture Rights Confirmed

Confirmation of advices from New York to the effect that the Paramount Famous Lasky and the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer corporations have consummated deals with the Western Electric Company whereby they acquire full rights to a new device which permits the synchronization of sound to film action on the screen was given yesterday by executives here.

Nicholas M. Schenck, president of M.-G.-M., announced an entirely new policy of handling talking-motion pictures following the signing of the contracts, while Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president of Paramount, declared that corporation is prepared immediately to enter the field with the Western Electric process.

"It is the belief of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer that the importance of sound in pictures is too great to permit of any indiscriminate use which may hamper its ultimate full expression," Mr. Schenck stated. "The application of sound to pictures will unquestionably, in its final development, help to make the motion picture more than ever the greatest single entertainment force in the world."

"For some months," Mr. Lasky stated, "we have been conducting our own experiments and already have completed one stage for the tests, leading to the time in the immediate future when Paramount will launch its first talking-motion picture film. It will not be many months, in my opinion, before all pictures will be synchronized to contain every feature of natural sound, including dialogue."

In conclusion Mr. Lasky expressed enthusiasm for this new development within the motion-picture industry and made known that the deal just completed is the result of a personal study of a year.

MANY HEAR LECTURE ON PHILOSOPHY

First of Series Given by U.C.L.A. Union Attracts Professors and Students

The first of a series of annual lectures in philosophy, under the auspices of the Philosophical Union of the University of California at Los Angeles, was delivered last night in Millspaugh Auditorium on the university campus before some 500 professors, scientists, students and members of the organization, by Charles Henry Rieber, professor of philosophy at the university and the president of the union.

The lecture was in the nature of the inauguration of a program for the coming year of a series of talks and papers in the general field of philosophy, and the annual presentation lecture is expected to bring eminent thinkers from other universities in this country and abroad to the meeting in Los Angeles.

For his subject last night Dr. Rieber chose: "In Default of Demonstration," and sixteen philosophy professors from Southern California universities and colleges were guests of honor and seated on the platform with Dr. Ernest C. Moore, director of U.C.L.A., who presided. Among the professors were Herbert Wildon Carr, R. T. Flewelling and John E. Broodin of the University of Southern California; Thomas G. Burt, Merritt Moore, A. W. Nolan and J. H. Coffin, of Occidental College; Bernard C. Ewer, Robert Denison, Raymond Iredell and Hartley Burr of Pomona College.

Announcement was made of the preparations now under way on the program for the coming year and "Society, the World and the Individual;" "Is There a Moral in Life;" "Pluralism and Monism;" "Freedom" and "The Significance of Religion" were mentioned as subjects now under consideration for lectures by the executive council of the Philosophical Union. Efforts now are being made to procure additional members for the organization, and it was pointed out that membership in the union is open to all who are interested in the serious discussion of major philosophical questions of individual and social life.

At the conclusion of the meeting Dr. Moore thanked those in attendance for the interest that has been manifest during the past year in the effort that has been made by the union to bring before the public dignified discussion of fundamental problems.

SMITH EXPENSE TOLD SENATORS

Friends Willing to Go Limit Financially

New York Donors Deny Hope of Personal Gain

vacation at Asheville, traveling, as Kenny readily stated, in Kenny's private car.

These three as well as Lehman testified that they were without information as to the structure of the Smith campaign organization and explained that this was entirely in the hands of others. Todd was perhaps the most picturesque of the witnesses but Kenny held the greatest interest for the investigators, chiefly because he had contributed more for the Smith fund than any other individual and because he is a contractor.

The New York ship builder leaned across the table, getting the purport of questions with difficulty. Frequently he asked the Senators to repeat and finally told McMaster, Republican, North Dakota, that he would have to speak up louder as he had "a bum ear."

NOTHING TO GAIN

Kenny, who replied to questions with staccato rapidity, testified, as did Todd and the two others, that he had nothing to gain either by having Smith in the Governor's mansion at Albany, or in the White House.

Each of the four placed his contributions to the Smith fund at the exact amounts reported to the committee last week in New York by George R. Van Namee, preconvention manager for the Governor. Lehman, who told the committee he managed Smith's gubernatorial campaign in 1926, said that the $2000 which he gave toward financing the western Smith movement did not pass through Van Namee's hands and consequently was not accounted for by him.

CASH AND CHECKS

Some of the contributions, the committee was told, were made in cash and some by check. In response to inquiries, the witnesses said they saw nothing unusual in cash transactions.

Members of the committee sought to establish what business relations, if any, each of the four witnesses had with the New York State and city governments.

Todd said he had no transactions with the State government whatever and that his dealings with the city were small.

"I built two ferryboats for the city, getting the contract under competitive bidding," he said. "I would have been glad later to have paid some one for keeping me from taking it."

CONTRACTORS QUIZZED

During the examination of Kenny, Chairman Steiwer asked him whether he ever had a State contract.

"Never," Kenny replied, later explaining that one of his companies had contracts totaling $242,407 with the New York City Fire Department from 1917 to 1925.

"Aren't these companies for which you build gas and electric plants under the control of the Public Service Commission of New York?" asked Senator McMaster.

"I assume so," was the response.

That angle was again brought to the fore later by Senator Bratton, who asked Kenny whether his business in any way brought him in contact with the Public Service Commission of which Van Namee is a member.

"No," the contractor replied.

RAIL CONNECTION

Kenny said that the only transportation corporation in New York in which he is interested was the Third Avenue Railroad Company. At one time, he owned considerable stock in this company, he said, but at present, his holdings are relatively insignificant.

Riordan told the committee that before the organization two years and a half ago of the County Trust Company of New York, of which he is president, he was head of the United States Trucking Company, and that while Smith was out of the Governorship from 1921 to 1923, he was associted with him in the management of that business.

Riordan testified that his bank is a pesository for both State and city funds but he stressed that many other banks also function as depositories.

TURNS PROPHET

Lehman brought smiles from the committee members when he said that he had no intention of making further contributions to Smith's preconvention campaign, but did expect to give liberally after he is nominated."

"Are you a Tammanyite?" Steiwer asked him.

"I am a member of the Tammany Society," Lehman responded.

Previously, Kenny and Riordan had told the committee they are members of Tammany, although Todd is not. All four, in response to inquiries, declared they never had discussed campaign funds or efforts with Gov. Smith and had never participated in any formal conferences looking toward his nomination at Houston.

WORKS IN SOUTH

Holland, in testifying as to his activities in behalf of Hoover, said they had been confined chiefly to the South, and that he had made several trips through that section to consult with party leaders. The $10,000 he expended came from Claudius H. Huston of Tennessee, former Assistant Secretary of Commerce, he said, with Perry H. Heath, treasurer of the Hoover Washington organization advancing $400 for expenses.

Holland told the committee he had paid out $2000 to Perry Howard, Republican national committeeman, from Mississippi; $2200 to Ben W. Davis, Georgia, national committeeman; $1000 to Oliver D. Street, national committeeman from Alabama; $2500 to the Protective Tariff League of Florida, and $500 to Glenn B. Skipper, who has put a slate of convention delegates in the field in Florida in opposition to National Committeeman Bean.

He said he also had paid out $200 a week toward maintaining headquarters conducted here by Perry Howard. He identified Davis and Howard as negroes, and said he believed Howard was an Assistant Attorney-General.

Mrs. Moskowitz testified at the afternoon session that $3968 of the $5000 turned over to the Democratic publicity bureau, of which she is the directing head, by the Smith organization, had been expended. She said the $5000 had been paid to reimburse the bureau for the expenditure of its own funds on behalf of the Smith campaign.

Mrs. Moskowitz said she was paid regularly by the State Democratic Committee, and in addition, received $350 a month during January, February and March from the Smith organization.

"Do you expect to get any more pay from the Smith organization?"

"I haven't been told so. We don't work for Gov. Smith for any other reason than that we like him."

LITERARY PURSUITS

She said the chief work the bureau has been doing is answering letters and sending out literature to combat matter circulated by "the Anti-Saloon League, and anti-Catholic groups, which were viewed as inimical" to Gov. Smith.

Mrs. Moskowitz declared that no money had been paid to any one in connection with various magazine articles about Gov. Smith, which have appeared in the past few months.

"That is absolutely against our policy," she said, adding that she had never seen a number of the articles to which the Senators called her attention.

Guffey, who received $5000 from the Smith organization, to aid in the campaign for [illegible] New York Governor in his State, told the committee he had been active for Smith since 1920.

"I think he is the one hope of the Democratic party," Guffey added.

"Have you oil and gas holdings?" Steiwer asked.

"I haven't much now; they defeated me in 1920."

Guffey testified that besides the $5000 sent to him by George R. Van Namee, he had collected $6350 from the forty Democrats in Pennsylvania.

DISBURSEMENTS

Telling of what he did with the $5000 sent to him by Van Namee, Guffey said he sent $4000 to David L. Lawrence, treasurer of the Smith organization, paid $1000 salary to Warren Van Dyke for helping to organize the slate before the primary, and paid $1804 to E. B. Zimmerman for traveling expenses for similar work.

The witness said he had paid his own expenses in traveling over the State in behalf of the Smith candidacy. He placed the cost at not over $600.

The bride wore a black tailored suit, helmet hat with black feather. A bunch of orchids adorned her pointed fox scarf. The bridegroom carried his wife's gorgeous sable coat over his arm; a white boutonniere sparkled on the background of his dark blue suit.

Mr. and Mrs. Menjou will remain in London until Tuesday and then return to Paris before returning to the United States.

Apparatus Turns on Siren and Snaps Flash Light on Safe Breaker

NEW YORK, May 16. (Exclusive)—A demonstration of the "Fotodetect," apparatus invented by Patrolman James O'Connell and Harold V. Robbins, a photographer, was staged today in the clerk's office of Yorkville court for Magistrate Joseph E. Corrigan, an old friend of O'Connell's.

The apparatus was attached to the safe and Magistrate Corrigan touched the surface of the safe when there was a bright flash and roar of a siren. The inventors explained Corrigan's picture had been taken and later showed it to him. They also showed him a picture of a robbery of a church poor box, taken by the apparatus.

KEAN VICTOR AT JERSEY POLLS

Stokes Defeated in Fight for Senatorial Nomination

Larson Leads Republicans in Gubernatorial Race

Hoover Delegates Swamp Line-up for Lowden

NEWARK (N. J.) May 16. (AP)—Former National Committeeman Hamilton F. Kean and State Senator Morgan F. Larson were nominated for United States Senator and Governor, respectively, in the Republican contests in New Jersey's primary yesterday. With all but 239 districts in the State reported tonight, Kean leads former Gov. Edward C. Stokes by 14,371 votes after a hectic nip-and-tuck day, while Larson's majority over his nearest opponent incmreased to 43,628.

The Democrats had no contests for these candidates. United States Senator Edwards was nominated for a second term and the gubernatorial nominee is William L. Dill, Motor Vehicle Commissioner of New Jersey.

Interest in the election of delegates to the national conventions was overshadowed by the bitter contests of the candidates for the Senatorial nomination and for the gubernatorial nomination.

DELEGATION FOR SMITH

The Democratic delegation of thirty-two was elected without opposition to Gov. Smith of New York. Frank O. Lowden, candidates in three districts were overwhelmed by candidates pledged to Herbert Hoover.

Smith will have twenty-nine votes at the Houston convention, the eight delegates at large each having a half-vote. The Republican delegates will have thirty-one votes, twenty-five pledged to Hoover and six to "Coolidge first, Hoover second."

The primaries over so far as New Jersey is concerned, the eyes of the leaders are turned tonight to Washington in apparent expectation of hearing repercussions from the Capitol to the cry of fraud which arose. Robert P. Carey of Jersey City, who trailed Larson in the gubernatorial contest, and former Senator Freilnghuysen, who ran third in the Senatorial race, have appealed to Atty.-Gen. Katzenbach to impound the Hudson county Republican ballot boxes and registry books.

LEADER ACCUSED

They charged that Mayor Hague of Jersey City, vice-chairman of the national Democratic committee, had through his police captains and ward leaders ordered Democratic votes into Republican ballot boxes in order to insure their defeat.

Two Republican Representatives in Congress, Harold G. Hoffman of the Third District and George N. Seger of the Seventh, were opposed for renomination, but defeated their opponents by large majorities. Their opponents were Donald S. Bowie and Edward C. Brennan.

Philip W. Crece was nominated over William D. Ives in a contest for the Republican Congressional nomination in the Twelfth District in which Mrs. Mary T. Norton, a Democrat, has been returned regularly.

Democrats had contests in two of the twelve Congressional districts.

School Girls Suspended for Public Smoking

FRESNO, May 16. — Cigarette smoking may be popular and an accepted fad among the flappers of some communities, but it is decidedly not the thing to do so far as Fresno High School girls are concerned.

The fag has no place in educational circles, and in emphasizing this fact, Howard Gaines, principal of Fresno High School, has indefinitely suspended five girls who were discovered in a store near the high school indulging in a quiet smoke.

In Spurgeon's possession at the time of his arrest was $25,000 worth of narcotics, according to the information received here.

The message was sent to Los Angeles police because local authorities had sent out bulletins on Spurgeon more than two years ago. The man is wanted here for investigation of several safe robberies, it is said. Federal authorities in Arizona, however, probably will prosecute the man there.

MEXICAN FLYER ON VISIT HERE

Army Man Laying Plans to Duplicate Lindbergh Jaunt, Arrives in Plane

Capt. Emilio Carranza, chief of the Mexican Army Flying Corps, who plans to make a nonstop flight from San Diego to Mexico City within the next few days, flew his new Ryan cabin monoplane to Los Angeles yesterday. He landed at Rogers Airport shortly after 10 a.m., and after turning it over to one of the Ryan corporation pilots to fly back to San Diego, spent the day among friends in this city.

The plane is almost a duplicate of that presented to Col. Lindbergh and with it Capt. Carranza hopes to partially duplicate the feats of the American flyer.

He plans to return to San Diego tomorrow and will start on his nonstop flight to Mexico City from the Mahoney Airport the latter part of this week or the first of next. If successful in the flight from San Diego, Capt. Carranza will attempt a nonstop flight to Wasnington, D. C., from Mexico City to repay the visit made to the Mexican national capital by Col. Lindbergh.

Capt. Carranza is the outstanding flyer of Mexico, and his forthcoming flight is being looked forward to with great enthusiasm by the southern republic.

Cryer to Name Aviation Field

Selection of a suitable name for the new aviation field in East San Pedro, on Terminal Island, was passed up to Mayor Cryer by the harbor board yesterday on motion of Commissioner Andreani, following a communication from the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce suggesting that the area be known as Allen Field, after President Allen of the harbor board.

The chamber sought to compliment the board by the selection of the name because of its action in providing the field, but the members decided it would not be proper for the commissioners to select a name because of this fact.

MEDICOS TO BE FETED

Dr. George Parrish and the City Health Department will be host to the members of the Los Angeles County Medical Society Monday night on the eighth floor of the health building. The gathering is to acquaint members of the society with the work accomplished by the department.

HARBOR PARLEY NOTICE ISSUED

Government Again Calls Public to Meeting

Meet in Federal Building First of June

Main Channel Dredging Work Now Completed

The War Department yesterday issued a second public notice calling attention to the public hearing the engineer corps will hold here June 1 on the breakwater extension and dredging proposed to improve Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors. The hearing will begin at 10 a.m. in Room 422, Federal Building.

"All interested parties," says the announcement, "are invited to be present or to be represented, particularly navigation interests and officials of any county, city, town or local association. They will be given opportunity to express their views. Oral statements will be heard, but all important facts and arguments should be submitted in writing."

DECIDE CHANGES

The hearing, in the language of the notice "is to consider whether any changes in the existing Federal project are deemed desirable."

The project includes a $14,000,000 harbor-improvement program, of which the government is to provide $7,000,000. Federal participation is conditioned on the two municipalities unifying their harbors and on certain other actions. Long Beach objects to unification. The Navy objects to the breakwater extension as proposed. Certain other objections complicate the situation.

Preparations for the hearing are under way by the City Councils and chambers of commerce of the municipalities and by a number of other organizations.

The Federal government has just completed dredging to a depth of thirty-five feet the main and east basin channels of Los Angeles Harbor, Harbor Engineer Nicholson reported yesterday. The Board of Harbor Commissioners then ordered the dredging of such inner harbor slips as are not already that deep.

ESTIMATES GIVEN

Nicholson estimates that 74,000 cubic feet of earth will be removed.

It will come from shoals adjacent to Berths 88, 90, 91, 92, 150, 151, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 215, 216, 217, 218, 227 and 228-A and B. Sixteen thousand yards will be dumped back of Berths 215, 216 and 218 and the rest will be towed out in barges to deep sea.

Bids for the work will be received until the 29th inst. at 9 a.m.

The United Dredging Company was low bidder on the contract to dredge 32,500 cubic yards of soil from Slip No. 232, when bids were opened yesterday. The bid is 28 cents a yard by hydraulic dredge. Merritt, Chapman & Scott bid 39.4 cents a yard with a clamshell dredge. The Harbor Engineer was directed to go over the bids and report at next meeting.

WIFE DIES WHEN AUTO OVERTURNS

Husband's Injuries May Prove Fatal as Result of Traffic Accident

Mrs. Thelma Campbell, 29 years of age, was killed and her husband, George L. Campbell, perhaps fatally injured, while their 3-year-old daughter escaped almost unhurt when their car overturned at Sixty-third street and Eleventh avenue early yesterday. Mrs. Campbell's body is at the county morgue and the husband is in the General Hospital.

According to witnesses Campbell swerved his auto to avoid collision with another machine, driven by George Sharphorn, 5842 Eighth avenue. The latter is not being held. The Campbell residence is at 3470 West Sixty-third street.

SPORTS BANQUET SUCCESS

Junior Chamber $100-a-Plate Diners Hear Rogers, Enjoy Good Menu and See Goal Almost Reached

The men who paid $100 a plate to be guests of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the banquet-room of the Biltmore last night ate a good meal, saw a good vaudeville show, heard Will Rogers talk and had the satisfaction of knowing that they had put the winter sports program of the junior chamber for 1927-28 on a solid financial foundation. That program calls for the annual $10,000 open golf tournament, polo tournaments, tennis meets, regattas and a series of winter sports.

It was advertised as a speechless dinner, but there was a good deal of talking. Its object was a serious one, for the winter sports program is considered of great importance to the recreational attractions of the city, but the conduct of the dinner was not serious—it was hilarious. The entertainment ran from ballet dances by movie stars to funny stories by Mayor Cryer and vaudeville stunts sent over by various motion-picture houses.

"There's my hundred," said Mr. Rogers, handing a bill to Durward Howes, president of the junior chamber, "so if I'm rotten I won't owe you anything. And that's not a gag. He is not going to hand that bill back to me. We've all got the same break here."

ROGERS WILDLY GREETED

Whistles, yells and a storm of applause greeted Mr. Rogers as he arose chewing gum.

"We all paid $100 to be here tonight because they told us there would be no speeches. Now, I'll tell you what I'm going to do. I'm going to raffle off the privilege of speaking and each chance to speak is going to cost $500. Lots of the people here are just dying to speak. It's a good chance. Maybe the Mayor would like to clear himself. It would be cheap, Mr. Mayor, at $500, to be able to give your alibi."

Later in the evening Mayor Cryer did talk for a few minutes but he did not touch on the subject of politics.

Several persons were invited by Mr. Rogers to talk but none of them seemed ready to respond which delighted the diners just the same.

LIKES JUNIOR GROUP

"I thought this dinner tonight was going to be about winter sports," Mr. Rogers continued, "but I find it's about nothing but golf and I think we're a lot of

"We hope to be able to let the general contract to start building not later than June 1," Mr. Sheldon stated. "In addition to local building materials, it will be our policy to procure technical services and equipment as far as possible in this locality. This being a western plant for western trade the company will hope to fill its requirements in these respects in this community and territory."

BUILDING PLANS

The layout under present plans calls for a main building, fireproof, of steel construction, 660 feet long and 420 feet wide, a two-story brick and concrete office building 40 by 140 feet, a boiler and pump house 50 by 97 feet, and a paint and oil storage building 40 by 42 feet.

The site for the plant contains twenty acres in the Laguna-Maywood industrial tract, represented by W. H. Daum and staff, and the buildings are so arranged as to accommodate additional units to double and triple capacity as and when required.

WORKING CAPACITY

The plant unit under present plans will have a working capacity of 200 Whippet and Willys-Knight models per day on a two-shift basis and for employment of 800 to 1000 men. Four and six-cylinder models in the Whippet and six-cylinder Willys-Knights will be turned out.

The main front of the plant will face south on Randolph street, at a point some 2000 feet west of Garfield avenue, and a 100-foot setback will be provided for lawn space.

It will back up on the Los An-

PRIZE WON BY STUDENT ARCHITECT

Scholarship in France Awarded U.S.C. Senior for Air Terminal Plan

Opportunity to study architecture in the School of Fine Arts for American students at the Palace of Fountainbleau, France, was won by Thomas Mulvin, 21 years of age, a senior in the University of Southern California school of architecture in a competition which was decided yesterday.

THOMAS MULVIN

Mulvin a Pasadena boy, expects to leave for Europe June 10 and to tour the continent following his three months' course at Fountainbleau, returning home after next Christmas. He will be accompanied on his trip to Fountainbleu and tour of Europe by Carroll Sagar, another Trojan student.

The competition problem involved was the designing of an air-transport terminal. The scholarship, valued at $750, was made available through funds raised by local architectural organizations.

AVENUE CELEBRATES

Celebrating completion of the paving of Brooklyn avenue, members of business and civic organizations and residents of the East Side have arranged a parade and street fair for Saturday night. The parade is to start at 5 p.m., and prizes will be awarded for floats and best decorated cars. Afterward there is to be a fireworks display, street dance and bathing beauty contest.

JUDGE JUMPS JOSHING JUROR

Irish Wit Withers Under Wrath of Court When Joking Remark Results in Mistrial and Loss of $2500 of County's Money

It may have been "Irish wit," as Juror No. 1 asserted, but it cost the county of Los Angeles about $2500 and Judge Sproul decidedly was not amused.

C. H. Silliman vs. National Mortgage Company et al, was on trial and had been for four days. At the noon recess the jurors, filing out to lunch, passed the attorneys, hurrying out with their brief cases.

"Ah, Counselor-r-r-r, ye've lost your case long ago, long ago," called out Juror No. 1, to Attorney William Wallace, wagging a finger at him kittenishly.

When court opened in the afternoon, Counselor Wallace pointed an accusing finger at Juror No. 1, and told the court what she had said. Judge Sproul called her into chambers, with counsel and a stenographic reporter. She turned out to be Kate Bierne O'Rourke, writer of short stories. She admitted the remark.

"Sure, and it was just Irish wit," she explained light-heartedly.

Judge Sproul frowned darkly. Counsel stared at the juror incredulously. Attorney Wallace moved for a mistrial and the court assented.

"Maybe you think this is funny," Judge Sproul admonished the juror, who was not so gay by this time. "But you have violated the express instructions of the court, and have caused a waste of four days of this court's time. It costs about $600 a day to operate a department, and a large sum of the public's money has been wasted by your so-called wit. If I thought you knew what it is all about I would punish you for contempt. But I will simply enter on the record that you are disqualified for jury duty, and discharge you."

Silliman is suing for $14,650 for services rendered.

BISHOP JOHNSON CALLED BY DEATH IN PASADENA

Venerable Episcopalian Long Led Development in Southland; Funeral on Saturday

The death of the Rt. Rev. Joseph Horsfall Johnson, bishop of the Episcopal Church in the diocese of Los Angeles, whose life for the past thirty-two years has been commingled with the civic and spiritual life of Southern California, occurred late yesterday at his home, 1590 Lombardy Road, Pasadena.

The end came to Bishop Johnson in his eighty-first year. He had been far from well for the last eighteen months, having been taken ill at Del Monte in August, 1926. Last summer he showed much improvement and was able to be about until a week ago, when pneumonia developed.

FUNERAL SATURDAY

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 11 a.m. at St. Paul's Cathedral, 615 South Figueroa street. W. Bertrand Stevens, bishop-coadjutor under Bishop Johnson, and his successor in the office of bishop of the diocese, assisted by Dean Harry Beal, will read the prayer book office for the burial of the dead, together with the celebration of holy communion. Interment will be at San Gabriel.

Bishop Johnson leaves his widow, Mrs. Isabel Davis Johnson, and one son, Reginald Davis Johnson, an architect. The son, who has been visiting in the East, was notified to return immediately.

Oxygen was administered yesterday in a final effort to stay the hand of death.

LONG, BUSY LIFE

Bishop Johnson was born in Schenectady, N. Y., on June 7, 1847, the son of Stephen Hotchkiss Johnson and Eleanor Horsfall. His school days were spent there until he was ready to prepare for college, when he attended school in Albany, N. Y. He was confirmed in St. Paul's Church, Albany. He entered Williams College and was graduated with the degree of bachelor of arts in 1870. Among his contemporaries and friends in college were the late Francis Linde Stetson, Francis E. Leupp, former Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and Dr. Harry Pratt Judson of the University of Chicago.

He always retained great affection for Williams College and was a frequent attendant at alumni meetings, and the meetings of the Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity, of which he was a member. Following his graduation from college he entered the General Theological Seminary in New York, from which he was graduated three years later. He was ordained deacon in 1873 and priest in 1874 by Bishop Potter, the elder. His first work in the ministry was as rector of Trinity Church, Highland, N. Y., where he served from 1874 to 1879.

COMES TO CALIFORNIA

His next charge was at Trinity Church, Bristol, R. I., where he remained until 1881, in which year his marriage to Isabel G. Davis of Worcester, Mass., occurred. He then assumed the rectorship of St. Peter's Church, Westchester, N. Y., and remained there until 1886, when he accepted a call to Christ Church, Detroit, where he exercised an unusual position of leadership in church and community affairs for ten years.

Until 1896 the Episcopal Church in Southern California had been under the jurisdiction of the Bishop of California, whose headquarters were in San Francisco. At that time the eight Southern counties were set apart as a separate diocese, and on the call to elect a bishop, Dr. Johnson was chosen. He accepted and was consecrated bishop of Los Angeles in Christ Church, Detroit, on St. Matthias's Day, February 24, 1896. Since that time, Bishop Johnson has remained in continuous service, and has developed the diocese from relatively small beginnings to its present strength. He has been unusually successful in the development of church institutions.

The Hospital of the Good Samaritan, with its great new building on Wilshire Boulevard, stands as a monument to his interest in serving humanity and its development is due to his remarkable executive ability. The Harvard School, founded by Dr. G. C. Emery, was purchased by Bishop Johnson for

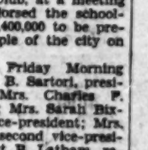
ORTEIG'S SON AND BRIDE IN LOS ANGELES

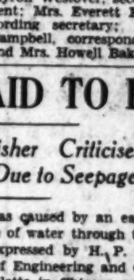
But They Didn't Travel by Air as Lindbergh Did to Win Father's $25,000

J. B. Orteig, son of Raymond Orteig who posted and awarded the $25,000 cash prize won by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in his flight to Paris, arrived with his bride in Los Angeles yesterday. They are stopping at the Biltmore.



"This wedding trip is not costing as much as airplane history and we feel that it is a lot safer," laughed the young man as he persuaded his wife to pose for a picture.

"It is to be done, dear; it is the penalty of getting mixed in with world events," he added.



Mr. and Mrs. Orteig were married at the Brevoort Hotel in New York April 18, last. The former is assistant manager of the Brevoort and Lafayette hotels of that city and his wife was Estelle Blanc, daughter of Eugene Blanc of the Hardware Club of New York.

"We have had a wonderful trip to the Coast by way of the Panama Canal and particularly enjoyed the motor ride from San Francisco to Los Angeles over the coast route," said Mrs. Orteig.

Club Women Urge Voting of $29,400,000 to Build Needed Schools

Supporting the $29,400,000 bond issue to be voted on June 5, next, to provide funds for new schools and equipment for the city's educational system, many civic and other organizations have joined the campaign this week.

This announcement was made yesterday by Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, Superintendent of City Schools, who gave out the following indorsement of the bonds received from the Friday Morning Club:

"The board of directors of the Friday Morning Club, at a meeting of the board, indorsed the school-bond issue of $29,400,000 to be presented to the people of the city on June 5."

Officers of the Friday Morning Club are: Mrs. J. B. Sartori, president emeritus; Mrs. Charles F. Turner, president; Mrs. Sarah Bixby Smith, first vice-president; Mrs. Myron Westover, second vice-president; Mrs. Everett B. Latham, recording secretary; Mrs. Daniel Campbell, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Howell Baker, treasurer.

DAM CRASH LAID TO FAULT

Engineering Journal Publisher Criticises Reports St. Francis Break Due to Seepage

Failure of the St. Francis Dam was caused by an earth movement at the dam site and not by the seepage of water through the foundation of the dam. Such is the opinion expressed by H. P. Gillette, well-known engineer, in the current issue of Engineering and Contracting, a technical journal published by Mr. Gillette in Chicago and received in this city yesterday. Mr. Gillette's statement is made following several weeks of personal investigation of the St. Francis Dam disaster.

His article reviews at considerable length the various possible causes of the dam's destruction advanced or studied by the engineering groups assigned to investigate the disaster. As a result of his own investigations and studies, Mr. Gillette in his statement takes issue with the three official engineering committees which concluded that the dam failure was due to the crumbling of foundation material under pressure of the water held behind the structure.

LIKE GIANT VISE

That a ground movement occurred at the dam site prior to the breaking of the dam Mr. Gillette declares has been proved conclusively by a careful triangulation survey made by engineers of the Los Angeles Bureau of Water Works and Supply. This survey has disclosed, he states, that the west side of the canyon moved more than one inch toward the east canyon wall. This movement compressed the massive concrete structure as though it were in a colossal vise and crushed either the foundation rock under the dam or the dam itself, or both, the Chicago editor declares.

The editor of the Chicago engineering journal disagrees with those who have intimated that the dam failure may have been caused by water seeping through the structure's foundation. Commenting on this phase of the question he states:

"The writer had passed by the dam several times during the construction and since it was finished, and had stopped to see the nature of the construction. The rock foundation appeared solid, and the seepage after completion was not in the least alarming.

SEEPAGE COMMON

"The mere fact that water had been seeping through the conglomerate is not sufficient evidence that this caused the dam to fail. Water frequently seeps through concrete

The Lancer

by Harry A. Carr

THIS is the first time I've ever ridden 300 miles to look at a tree. But it was worth while.

I've seen Grand Canyon, the Canadian Rockies, Niagara Falls and Mayor Cryer; but I have never seen anything that gave me the soul kick of this old giant sequoia—"Gen. Sherman."

WHY NAME IT?

It's a very foolish name for such a tree.

It doesn't look like Gen. Sherman. It looks like an old Hebrew prophet—in sackcloth and ashes—his beard blown against his breast.

Imagine the absurdity. This tree was 2000 years old when Christ was crucified. It was a sapling when Ur of the Chaldees flourished. And then to christen it after a commonplace general of the Civil War.

THE YES TREE

It's the mercy of the Lord that it was discovered before the days of Hollywood, or it would have been named after Louis B. Mayer, the film magnate. I shouldn't be surprised if it would be yet.

DUMB

Two or three facts stand out in reference to this really wonderful trip. Chiefly the dumb stupidity of the people in the little towns on the way in.

No one at any of the hotels could tell you how or when you could see it. We inquired at three garages marked "Information about the park," without being able to find out if the roads had been washed out by the rain.

MISSING CHANCES

None of these little California towns seems to realize the asset they have in these tourist marvels. They seem to think of sightseers rather as a kind of migratory bird of passage which unaccountably comes and goes at certain seasons.

UNCLE SAM'S BOYS

It being two or three days before the opening of the season, we ate with the government workers of the park.

It was refreshing to find so many specimens of the apparently extinct American race . . . after Hollywood—where an American needs an interpreter to get around.

Most of these boys are hand picked, these park jobs being the star vacation jobs of the world.

DEVOTEES

You could tell how long they had been in the service by the way they talked of the "tree."

There are thousands of enormous giants in the park, but there is "the tree." The lives of these foresters are absolutely wrapped around it.

Their idea of something two steps more degraded than a potato bug is the lumbermen who are cutting down such trees in unprotected districts. It's my idea, too.

YEH; KINDA OLD

The extent of their loyalty to the tree is measured by the age they give it.

One of the rangers told me confidentially that it went back to the age of reptiles—which would give it a couple of million extra birthdays.

I am sure he has the secret conviction that this was the tree Noah's dove found when he went out on that little side trip.

THE POWER OF INACTION

The greatest impression I carried away from "the tree" was

Boy Prisoners Found After Being "Lost" in Jail Many Weeks

SIFTING OF CASE TO BE LAUNCHED

Youths Held Without Trial Since March 21

Defendants Finally Taken Before Judge

Two Brought from North on Car-Theft Charge

Startling disclosures that two 18-year-old youths were held in the County Jail nearly two months before arraigned for stealing an automobile in San Pedro on March 9, last, were made yesterday in Municipal Judge Baird's court when the defendants were given their first opportunity to plead to the charges.

Languishing in jail since March 21, last, four days after being returned to Los Angeles from Nevada City, where they were captured by county officers in an asserted stolen automobile, Babe De La Cruz and Marvin Dennison, the prisoners, were arraigned on the charge by Judge Baird and their preliminary hearing set down for 10 a.m. today. Bail was fixed at $250 each.

Meanwhile, local authorities are attempting to place responsibility for the laxness that caused the two youths to be confined fifty-five days before being heard on the charge. Deputy Sheriff Daniel Crowley, transportation officer, who returned the prisoners here, was absolved of blame when De La Cruz and Dennison both stated they heard him notify the San Pedro police division on March 21, to take them into court.

Policeman E. R. Dunphy of the San Pedro division, who signed the felony complaint and was responsible for their appearance in court, stated he learned only Tuesday that the Sheriff's office had brought the youths back from Nevada City. He signed the complaint at the instance of G. A. Arnold, 668 West Twenty-seventh street, San Pedro, whose automobile was stolen on the streets of the harbor city.

ANIMAL BUREAU KEPT BUSY

Large animals examined by the Department of Humane Treatment of Animals last month numbered 1379, according to a report made public yesterday. Of these twenty-four were suspended from labor and four destroyed. Seventy warnings and reprimands were issued, three arrests made and two convictions obtained. Twenty-eight carloads of stock in transit and 1966 crates of poultry were inspected.

Homes were found for 102 dogs of the 637 which were impounded, 509 being destroyed and 26 carried over. Cats destroyed during the month totaled 577. Licenses sold in April numbered 3581, fees amounting to $9106. Sales of stock, pound fees and miscellaneous income brought the month's receipts to $9381.50.

Western Traffic Meeting Will Take Up Tariff at Closing Session Today

The fact that railroads are amenable to the regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission while steamship companies are not was discussed in the sessions of the Western Traffic Conference convention at the Alexandria yesterday. Announcement was made that today's executive session will be thrown open at 11 o'clock to rail carriers, steamship companies and other transfer companies for discussion of tariff questions.

Chairman R. C. Thackara of the United States Intercoastal Conference of New York was to have appeared before the convention, but thus far has not been present.

Railroad traffic agents were guests of honor at yesterday's luncheon, which was given by the Los Angeles Retail Dry Goods Merchants' Association. President W. A. Baker of the conference based his address on the spirit of co-operation that is being shown by the railroads.

Announcement was made yesterday of the first western meeting of the Associated Traffic Clubs of America, which is to be held in San Francisco and Oakland June 12 and 13, next.

This morning's session will conclude the convention of the Western Traffic Conference with the selection of the convention city for 1929. The afternoon has been set aside for inspection of Los Angeles stores by delegates.

to the mills, crushers at work with a capacity of 3000 tons a day, trucks carrying cement and rock over the highways to all parts of Los Angeles and to the coast extension of the Southern Pacific which the syndicate hopes to have northward from old Long wharf to the ocean terminus of Pulga Canyon.

OWNERS TO ORGANIZE

The property owners in the affected district plan to organize a protective association this week to inform the public of the proposed industrial zoning and to present a united opposition to the Council's committee on the 28th inst., at the City Hall against the granting of the application.

The application for the permits for the two parcels was filed with the City Planning Commission on April 24, was heard by the commission on May 2, and approved by the commission and sent to the Council on May 4, with the commission's recommendation that the industrial zoning applications be granted. In setting forth the reasons for the commission's favorable action on the applications, President Danburg of the commission said:

COMMISSION'S REASONS

"The members of the commission were and are convinced, as stated in the commission's recommendation to the City Council, that the plants will not be against public health, convenience or interest. The proposed plants will be located in deep canyons in the heart of 20,000 acres of raw mountain land. The entire property is now not useful for residential purposes. There are no residences within several miles of the proposed sites. We have recommended that in granting the permits the restriction be imposed that at no time shall the land within 1000 feet of the plants be subdivided or sold for residential purposes.

"The need for limestone and other stone building materials and cement in this city is great. Here is a near-by supply. The quarries there have been in operation for several years without injury to anyone or to any property. To build plants there to convert this stone into materials for building will be of benefit to Los Angeles building operations and at the same time injure no one.

"In the opinion of the commission to prohibit the owners of this property from excavating and converting the stone on their property would be an injustice to them and at the same time do nothing to promote the public interest or the interest of those who own property in the western part of Los Angeles on which they intend to build.

"The zoning recommended for these two parcels is not permanent, but is a revocable permit to be granted under Section 4 of the city ordinances. Should conditions change, should the operation of the plants and of trucks handling materials from the plants prove a public nuisance, and should be objected to by property owners, the permits can be revoked by the City Council."

Actor Loses in Collision Suit

Norman Kerry, screen actor, owes $2351 to D. A. Hamburger, widely known business leader, in the opinion of the jury in Judge Tryon's court, which yesterday returned a verdict for Hamburger in the sum for damages.

Hamburger sued as the result of an automobile accident in which he was injured. His car and one owned by Kerry collided at Sixth street and Commonwealth avenue.

'Hitch-Hiking' to be Discussed

Among the problems to be considered during the Pacific Coast Conference of Social Work at Yosemite National Park, the 22nd to the 26th inst., will be the practice of "hitch-hiking" by adventuresome boys and girls in their teens, it was announced yesterday by Rev. Robert E. Lucey, D.D., president of the California Conference of Social Work, who will preside. The practice of obtaining "lifts" from motorists is a serious source of delinquency, it is declared.

William Plunkert of the Community Boys' Lodge, and Dorothy Wysor of the Travelers' Aid Society, Los Angeles, are to lead in the discussion of the problem at Yosemite.

Other speakers scheduled for the conference include Gov. Young; Dr. Haven Emerson, Columbia University, and Sidney Hillman, labor leader of New York.

this: That there is no dramatic force equal to the static force of immovability. The awful calm stillness of forty centuries of absolute concentrated quietude gives this tree something that even the terrific power of Niagara lacks.

THE LAST

There will never be any more big trees—not even if we wait 4000 years for them.

For some unexplained reason this species of tree now lives only 150 years.

As with the old Hebrew prophets whom it suggests, the secret of long life has gone. It was born when the Bible says that men lived for centuries on end.

BEAUTIFICATION APPROVED

Beautification plans of the Japanese district near Fish Harbor by the Fu Kai Ki Association met the approval of the harbor board yesterday when the organization was granted permission to erect a latticed arbor in the center of Terminal Way, between Terminal and Way streets. The cost, to be paid by the association, will be $300.

MAPS APPROVED

Recommendation of the following assessment district maps was filed with the Council yesterday by the Public Works Committee, Park Drive between Avon Park Terrace and a point near Duane street. Woodley avenue between Magnolia and Ventura Boulevards, Third street between Pacific and Grand avenues.

ADVERTISING ASKED

An ordinance authorizing the expenditure of $5934 advertising the Venice district was submitted the Council yesterday by the City Attorney.

DAM COLLAPSE LAID TO FAULT

itself, following the horizontal seams between the successive layers of concrete.

"Many rock-fill (uncemented rock) dams and most earth dams are founded on earth. Seepage is common through and under such dams."

After expressing the opinion that no substantial evidence has been produced by investigating committees to warrant them in making the finding that the dam was resting on unsafe foundation material, Mr. Gillette, in another portion of his statement, points out:

"Many engineers, including the late William F. McClure, former State Engineer, had viewed this dam site before and during construction, and none had condemned it. Evidently they had forseen neither failure from landslides nor because of other defects of the natural foundation."

CRITICISES SURVEYS

Mr. Gillette then describes in detail the surveys that have revealed that a ground movement occurred on the west side of the dam site. He then expressed his optnion that it was such a ground movement that caused the dam to go out.

Sharp criticism of the methods employed by the three official boards of engineers assigned to study the dam failure is expressed by Gillette in a lengthy editorial published in the same issue of his engineering magazine.

After pointing out that reports on the dam disaster were made by engineering committees, appointed by the State, the District Attorney of Los Angeles county and the City Council of this city, Mr. Gillette in his editorial, declares:

"None of the three reports involved a study lasting more than nineteen days. The shortest time spent by any committee (the State committee) was six days.

STUDY TOO BRIEF

"The extreme brevity of the study of this dam disaster by these three committees is alone sufficient to destroy confidence in their conclusions as to the cause of the accident.

"The complete failure of all three committees to look seriously for any facts indicating an earth crust movement is apparently ascribable to the absence of any seismograph records that indicate an earthquake just prior to or at the time of the dam failure. The nearest seismograph is about forty miles from the dam. It would not, therefore, record a minor earth movement.

"Failure to wait for ground-movement surveys and haste in gathering and reviewing pertinent facts, render these three reports unreliable as to their conclusions relating to the cause of failure of the St. Francis dam."

KIN SUED FOR ESTATE

The will of Julia A. Mead, who died October 23, 1927, at the age of 76 years, leaving an estate worth $20,000, was attacked yesterday in a contest instituted by a niece and a nephew. They assert the decedent was unduly influenced by a sister, Mattie A. Anderson, who is sole beneficiary under the will.

O'Neil Hearing Delayed Until Next Tuesday

By stipulation the preliminary hearing of Jack (Hutch) O'Neil, brother of Sally O'Neil and Molly O'Day, actresses, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was continued yesterday by Justice of the Peace Hibbing at Sherman until Tuesday at 10 a.m.

Attorney Richard Cantillon, representing the defendants, apprised the court that several important defense witnesses are out of the city and requested that the hearing be postponed. The prosecution did not oppose the move.

O'Neil is accused of injuring a waiter at a cafe last month with a soda bottle. He was arrested at his home, 6141 Franklin avenue, on April 29, last, after two shots were fired at him by Policeman Puckett to prevent his escape. O'Neil also was fined $100 by Municipal Judge Wilson last week for battery, preferred by a night clerk at 1805 North Wilcox avenue, Miss Sally O'Neil's residence. The clerk accused O'Neil of striking him when he complained that too much noise was being made in the apartment.

KERRIGAN TO HAVE BURIAL TOMORROW

Ex-Secret Service Man and Real Estate Dealer Will Rest in Forest Lawn

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 11 a.m. at the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Cemetery, for John F. Kerrigan, who was stricken Sunday evening while at dinner at the Deauville Beach Club, Santa Monica, and passed away at the Santa Monica Hospital. Funeral arrangements are in charge of Pierce Brothers.

Mr. Kerrigan was born February 2, 1855, in Bucksport, Me. He came west as a very young man and settled in Portland, Or., where he met and married Atlanta M. Jenner in 1880. She was the daughter of Dr. E. K. Jenner of San Francisco, direct descendant of Dr. Jenner, who discovered the smallpox vaccine.

Mr. Kerrigan became connected with the United States secret service in Portland and was known all over the country for his success in that line. He remained in the secret service many years and was appointed by President Roosevelt to go to China after Horace McKinley in an Oregon land-fraud case, and after a chase of 36,000 miles succeeded in capturing McKinley in Northern China.

He held the position of Deputy United States marshal in Portland many years. Upon leaving the service he came to Los Angeles in 1916 and became actively engaged in the real estate business in the Los Feliz district.

Mr. Kerrigan leaves his widow, Atlanta M. Kerrigan, and his daughter, Mrs. Lotta Eva Lehigh.

Today's Bible Text

I will sing unto the Lord as long as I live; I will sing praise to my God while I have my being. Psalm civ:33.

NOT READY

It must be remembered that an $18 wash dress is not for mama to do the washing in.

CORK CARS

The Irish people are eagerly urging the establishment of a Ford assembling plant in their country. Cork is to be the site. Maybe the idea is that Henry could use Cork instead of rubber.

OPEN PLACES

It has been found in court that a Chicago bandit and murderer is suffering from dementia praecox katatoni. Perhaps the only thing that will help the poor devil is plenty of fresh air.

ANOTHER REASON

The eastern physician who declares that winter colds are largely caused by the tremendous amount of coal smoke during the inclement months of November, December and January, is just giving the easterner another reason for coming to California.

SLIGHT DISTINCTION

Georges Clemenceau now denies that he ever made the statement that it would be impossible for France to meet its debts to the United States. He may have said it was improbable, but the word impossible is not to be used in connection with any French adventure.

MAKE IT UNANIMOUS

The Mexican election is not until the first Sunday in July, but the campaign is virtually at an end and Gen. Obregon is resting quietly in his home until the flutter of the ballots shall call him forth. There is no announced opposition and the unusual spectacle of an uncontested election for the Presidency of a great republic may be observed.

EGGS FOR THE PRESIDENT

A case of new-laid eggs sent to President Coolidge by a California admirer arrived at the White House at an inopportune moment, just when the President was out on the lawn pinning medals upon trans-Atlantic flyers. There was no chance for anybody to make a presentation speech in which the merits of California eggs were extolled, but the eggs spoke for themselves on the White House breakfast table next morning. And what they said was, "Can you beat us?"

MUST FLY HIGH

Now that the Mayor has signed the ordinance regulating the flying of aircraft over the city it is likely that there will be less swooping down of airplanes piloted by reckless aviators who seem to take delight in seeing how closely they can skim over tall buildings, to their own peril as well as that of their passengers and the people below. Air passengers certainly are entitled to security, and it is hoped that the ordinance, which embodies the aircraft regulations of the Department of Commerce, will be rigidly enforced.

THE DOG WATCH

Delvers at Columbia University want to know more about dogs. They seek evidence as to the intelligence of the animal in his contacts with humanity. Has Fido any sense at all or does the master only think so? Some eloquent tributes have been paid to the unselfishness and loyalty of the dog and the quizzers would know if these encomiums are warranted. Seems a funny theme for researchers, but perhaps it is better than cutting up guinea pigs to find out what they think of infant baptism.

A BUMPER CROP

German manufacturers are putting out a cushioned bumper of rubber and steel that will take up the shock of almost any motor collision without much damage to either car or driver. On tests where the car has been driven into a concrete wall at the rate of forty miles an hour the man at the wheel has escaped unhurt and the car not been materially damaged. The bumper costs nearly $50, but the insurance companies are already giving a reduced rate on cars that are putting it into use. If all our Fords had this annex they might be behaving like goats, just for the joy of it.

BY AIR AND RAIL

The announced combination air-rail service soon to start between New York and Los Angeles, by way of the Pennsylvania and Santa Fe railroads and two airplane hops, is proof not only of the commanding position aviation is now taking in the thought of the transportation world, but of the commanding position Los Angeles has in the thought of the traveling public. Under the plan projected, the time between the metropolis of the East and that of the West will be cut to forty-eight hours. A passenger may leave New York at 6 p.m., travel by rail to Columbus, step into an airplane after breakfast, hop to St. Louis for lunch, fly to Wichita, Kan., by evening, transfer there to rail again, and again be lifted above the clouds when the train reaches New Mexico, to wing his way to the Pacific before nightfall of the second day.

All the flying will be by daylight, all the rail travel by night, thus minimizing the hazards and also reducing the strain of continuous air-travel. According to the announcement, the fare to be asked for this extraordinary service is moderate, approximately two and a half times the railroad fare or around $275. This is asking a premium of $80 a day for the saving of two days, surely not an excessive amount for big business men or those in a hurry.

Interested in Transcontinental Air Transport, the name of the new company offering this service, are, besides the railroads mentioned, the Ford, Curtiss and Wright airplane companies and banking interests associated with Blair and Company. All the $5,000,000 capital stock of the company has been taken up and no stock will be offered to the public.

If the pioneer service is a success, of which the projectors appear to have no doubt, it will be extended to other cities and to other rail lines as fast as developments warrant. It seems logical to assume that a fast express service for small packages will be developed in time in connection with the passenger service.

One of the most significant things in connection with the venture is that the Pennsylvania and Santa Fe railroads, both of which take extraordinary care to insure the safety of passengers and both of which have highly creditable accident records, apparently are convinced of the safety of air travel.

This combination service will be different from any other offered in the world, so far as is known here. Flying schedules in the European commercial air services sometimes extend to an hour or so after sunset, but in most cases use of both rail and air is unnecessary in reaching a destination as few schedules are of more than twelve hours. The Berlin-Constantinople service is scheduled at thirty-one hours, but with stops on the way. There is little real night flying, commercially; Imperial Airways of England is planning a London-Marseilles night service, but has not yet started it. It is felt the public is not yet educated to night flying, considering it more dangerous than it really is, and that night service must be developed gradually.

In the case of the Transcontinental Air Transport, the nature of the country to be traversed has had its influence as well as the time of day. The rails will be used through both the Alleghenies and the Rockies, mountains being more hazardous whether by night or day for airplane travel.

Other good transportation news is contained in the item that time of freight service between here and Chicago is to be cut to a week, which will give ten-day service from the Atlantic seaboard. This was fairly good passenger time fifty years ago.

Transcontinental Air Transport means more tourists and more business for Los Angeles, and the new service will be welcomed. It adds point to the assertion that all eyes in the East are fixed upon Southern California, to have this first projected air-rail service with Los Angeles as its goal.

THE PUBLIC AND TRIALS

Right of the courts, under exceptional circumstances, to exclude the general public from criminal trials where evidence of a salacious nature is introduced, is upheld by implication in the decision of the United States Supreme Court denying Wallace C. Gaines a review of his conviction at Seattle for murder of his daughter, Sylvia M. Gaines. Gaines, sentenced to hang, asserted that the action of the trial judge in permitting only newspaper men, members of the bar and holders of passes to be present in court during the taking of evidence deprived him of his life and liberty without due process of law and so violated the Fourteenth Amendment.

The decision of the court seems to establish the principle that the general public has no inherent right of attendance at criminal trials. Presumably, if the issue were squarely presented, the Supreme Court would hold that the trial court's discretion in making exclusions must be exercised reasonably, but that all the rights of the defendant are preserved if enough outside observers are present to obviate secrecy.

The testimony in the Gaines case was so revolting that the Coroner's inquest was halted before its conclusion. Soon after the trial began, the trial judge said: "Before adjourning I wish to say that the atmosphere is pretty unbearable. I know the jury must also feel it.". He then made his exclusion order.

The purpose of conducting trials in public is not to satisfy the morbid curiosity of people with perverted minds, but to satisfy the public that justice is being administered fairly and impartially by those public servants, the courts. So long as that end is attained a wise restriction on attendance would seem to be in the public interest.

THE ROUND HOUSE

Over in Germany a Munich architect is building an exhibit of spherical homes which may be seen at the Dresden exposition. One of them is eighty-two feet in diameter and on its different floors has stores, offices and apartments, with cafes on the roof and in the basement. With ball-shaped buildings streets will seem much wider and there will be light and air in every direction and from every outlook. By putting the structure on ball bearings, so that it could be turned about at will a further elasticity of the home would be provided.

The LEE SIDE o' LA

BY Lee Shippey

IT HAPPENED at an auction sale on Los Angeles street, where the crowd was interestingly mixed, ranging from con to con—connoisseur to confidence man. One of the connoisseurs had just picked up what looked to him like a real find, and reached for his pocket book. He had lost it. There was a moment of confusion and excitement, and then the auctioneer announced:

"A gentleman in the crowd has just lost his purse, containing $500. He wishes it announced that he will give anyone who returns it to him a $50 reward."

There was a moment of absolute silence. Then a laconic voice on the edge of the crowd sang out:

"Fifty-five!"

A rival bidder on the other side immediately caught the idea, and barked: "Sixty."

Justice to Justice

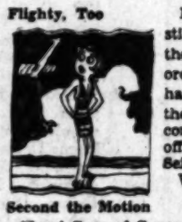
Martin Justice, the illustrator, told us the foregoing story, so we can't doubt it—for we have heard that truth and Justice always go together.

The State Bird

Lee: Now that the poppy has been adopted as the State flower, a campaign to select a State bird has been announced. Among the birds suggested are the woodpecker, the flicker, the roadrunner, the hummingbird, and about fifteen more.

As is always the case, one community or limited group seems to think what is appropriate in its circle is appropriate for the whole State. Plainly the flicker would be appropriate for Hollywood only, the thrasher to the athletic group, the hummingbird to the aviation section, the woodpecker to the State Legislature and the escrow to the realtors. But the roadrunner—ah, there's the bird representative of all California.—Daly Dodge.

Flighty, Too



Leeside: Men still hold most of the aviation records, but they have nothing on the girls when it comes to taking off.—Seymour Seitz.

What, nothing!

Second the Motion

"Lead Cure of Cancer Predicted." I move that we begin with the good old-fashioned western lead cure for fake cancer specialists.—Bill Payre.

This Compensating World

Our idea of retributive justice: An "easy payments" salesman being worked on by a "painless dentist."

Sternly

Leeside: I've just been taking a straw vote in our set which may be worth a paragraph. I find that all the henpecked men are strongly, though confidentially, in favor of companionate marriages, but all their wives are sternly against it.—Holly Woodlass.

Political Friends

(Gov. Smith told the Senate he had not turned a hand nor spent a dollar to promote his candidacy, but it was developed that $108,000 was being spent by his friends.)

I have been all too shy of politics.
It dawns on me I'd rather choose to run.
I've looked askance at politicians' tricks;
But, boy! I'd surely like to master one!
This little life would be a peck of fun
If carefree I could seek my favorite ends
And never give a single thought to man—
Just say: "All that is handled by my friends."

What sweet, unselfish lives they all must lead,
Those friends who rally round a candidate,
Theirs must be pure and lovely hearts, indeed,
Theirs must be souls to make our faith elate!
How can we feel alarm about the state
When selflessness so bright a rainbow sends?
Oh, grocer, landlord, milkman, hesitate!
Collect no more from me—just ask my friends.

TENNYSON MABIE.

"The rest cure a lot of fellows need," our friend the office manager, tells us, "is a cure for the rest habit."

Yet Many Would Like to Hear It

We feel full of self-congratulation today, for a lawyer has just called on us and left us no poorer. On the contrary, he left us richer by one paragraph. He informed us the legal profession is one which requires more and more tact and diplomacy. "In these days of short skirts and transparent stockings," he said, "one must be careful to look upward when he informs a feminine client: 'You have a nice legacy.'"

ROAD-HOG ROUND-UP

The large herd of road-hogs cluttering up the highways is about to be abolished by a huge round-up by the police. This will be appreciated by the human beings and some other animals on the highway.

Hidden behind a white shirt and a pulled-down hat, the road-hog wallows his way down the center of traffic regardless of the rights of others behind. He is not a hit-and-run jackal; he is usually too fat to accommodate himself to the speed of others. With a car, a tank of gas and a throttle, he takes the best on the big road even as he takes the best in the trough in his sty at home.

Caring only to waddle along, unless he has a chance to steal the right of way at an intersection, he resents anybody else arriving. The hen crosses the road without much apparent reason; but the road hog lurches from side to side without signal, but with an uncanny accuracy in getting in the way of everybody else who wants to move. He cares as much for life and property as a pig in a puddle.

The police do well to rid the streets of swine. These human herds are the only remnants of bygone days. If they could be rounded up and shipped to Chicago where they dispose of such animals, the ordinary citizen would not feel so much like rendering the lard out of them over a slow fire.

And yet the road hog does not even make a good porker. He is a liability who fills the hospitals and feeds the hoosgows. He has a shout after his kind and his personality runs true to form. His true nature usually sticks out above his collar. When he brings on catastrophe, he squeals like other pigs. When he gets everything in the big road he wants, he gives a grunt and goes on. Rounding him up is hardly sufficient, unless grinding him up into sausage should swiftly follow.

The trouble is, this greased pig is too slippery to be caught. And even when he is put into a pen, the stench offends the public and he is a nuisance in the community.

The fundamentalist appears to be right about evolution; for the streets are jammed with portly specimens in whom the theory does not seem to have worked.

WHITTIER ENTERTAINS

Southern California has many products, and each fruit, vegetable, article or what-not enjoys an annual basking in the limelight.

For every community some specialty and for every specialty some fair, festival or exposition. San Bernardino, the navel orange; Anaheim, the Valencia; Fresno, the raisin; Compton, the bunny-skin; Yucaipa, the rosy apple; Tehachapi, the pear; Whittier, the avocado; Beaumont, the cherry; Pomona, Riverside and others, their various assortments.

This week Whittier occupies the place of honor and the avocado sits proudly on the horticultural throne.

A late comer as contender for high honors among the fruits of Southern California the avocado has risen in favor with grower and consumer at a pace that makes the old apple blush at its forwardness, the orange glow with indignation and the lemon turn yellow with envy.

The avocado is a very Lindbergh among fruits and this week Whittier acts as its Guggenheim. Such a combination is irresistible. Some people believe that the avocado is an acquired taste; and those who have not yet acquired it can find no better way to remove this disability than by visiting the big tent near Whittier Boulevard.

The "friendly towne" needs no introduction and the avocado needs no apologist.

LITTLE HOPE

The jazz craze will not last long—John Philip Sousa

By James J. Montague

When ragtime first raucously burst on our ears
In a day not so far in the past
The most of us listened with top-lofty sneers
And said: "This stuff never can last;
We never will stand for a jig-jiggy song
That puts all our nerves on the rack,
And we know in our hearts that it will not be long
Till the stately old waltz will come back."

But the stately old waltz took a long peaceful rest
With the schottisches, polkas and reels,
While ragtime, increasing in power and zest
Found its way to our hearts and our heels.
The time grew more ragged, the trombone and drum
Added zip and eclat to the din,
The banjos banged louder their rum-ti-tum-tum
And we knew that the jazz had come in.

Yet still we were hopeful. "Have courage," we said,
"This fashion of musical shocks
In a very short time will as surely be dead
As is Adam's proverbial ox.
The noise is too loud and the notes are too sour,
The time is impossibly fast.
Such tunes may endure for a little brief hour,
But we know that they never can last."

Yet the jazz is still here, and the waltz is still gone,
The trombones still brazenly bray,
The drumsticks and castanets click on and on
And will do so for many a day.
The saxophone toots and the oboe replies,
And, although Mr. Sousa sees red,
He will find when the last lilt of jazz music dies
That we'll get something worse in its stead.

Whip 'Em Into Shape

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your commendable editorial entitled "The Whipping Post" for criminals, citing the impressive sermon of Dr. C. F. Aked, as recently conveyed to his congregation, and which has been broadcast in pamphlet form, for public consideration, is well worthy of your good paper, by extending to well wishers of reform the most pronounced results of the lash, as practiced by Canada and England, and even by our own State of Delaware.

It's quite evident the physical pain endured by the criminal is incalculably more impressive and fear retarding than confinement and remorse, even though the comforts of prison life, in some instances have been multiplied by the charm of the radio.

Articles O. K.

HOLLYWOOD, May 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I wish to thank and congratulate The Times for the J. Carroll Mansfield drawings, but especially the letter press. Having read so much since those days of all manner of stories and articles, filled with inaccuracies, it is a wonderful satisfaction to read these descriptions. As I was "Leslie's" chief correspondent and also connected with several leading dailies, I had reason to know the facts. Incidentally, my photographs of the landing at Daiquiri (June 22) and of the Rough Riders' first battlefield (June 24) were published in the New York Evening Journal four days before any other from the front. There has not been a single erroneous statement in any of Mr. Mansfield's articles. Thank you again.

Back to the Fodder

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The Sunday Times informs the world "that plumpness is now the order of the day in Filmland." We who know "inside facts" regarding our young women predicted if the style of a boyish form lasted many more years, that more and more young girls would be ready for the grave when they were a few years older; for they were surely developing many insidious diseases.

Again, married women wanting a boyish form too, while starving themselves, expected their husbands to starve also; which experiment has so often ended in a divorce court.

We older happily married women have found out as Napoleon did, "Empty bellies do not win wars." The most contented married couples that I know personally do not count calories.

Are There No Playgrounds?

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In a recent issue of your paper a writer states that when looking for a site for a house he selects the neighborhood where three-fourths of the residents take The Times, which indicates a high state of culture. He might have added, with equal truth, that where the streets of that neighborhood are filled with roughnecks playing ball there is a smaller per cent of culture.

Many people selecting residences pass on to a quiet section where their lawns are protected from ball players, where their nerves are not racked by all sorts of noises, and where their children do not come in contact with such characters. The streets are for traffic, and auto drivers should be protected. If they happen to run over a ball player there is a great noise about "hit-and-run fiends."

If there is an ordinance against playing ball on the streets, it should be enforced. If there is not such an ordinance one should be passed, and enforced.

Question: What is anise used for and what yield per acre may be expected? M. G.

Answer: Anise is grown chiefly for its aromatic seeds (fruits,) which are used medicinally and also in baking and for flavoring confectionery. The oil distilled from the seeds is used medicinally in cordials and also for flavoring various beverages. Yields of anise seed are quite variable, since the plant is very sensitive to unfavorable weather conditions. In a good season from 400 to 600 pounds per acre may be reasonably expected.

ON WITH OBSEQUIES

BY ALMA WHITAKER

After all, perhaps Mr. McFadden has the right idea. It is time we retired to the mausoleum and the halo.

We mothers, having survived the tumultuous applause and blessings of Mother's Day, having blushed behind the flamboyant advertising; having quivered with embarrassment at the copious and indelicate admonitions to buy us presents; having heard our sons and daughters implored not to continue their cruel neglectful contempt of us; having heard ourselves gurgled and warbled over on the radio, in vaudeville, on the phonograph, in prologues; having been confronted with "pomes" dedicated to our temporarily conspicuous virtues, and having shrunk with sensitive alarm from the soggy flattery hurled at us from platforms and by civic luncheon speakers

No wonder one Austin McFadden, of the Woodlawn Mausoleum Company, instinctively seized upon this occasion to remind the family that they should think about burying mother on Mother's Day.

Hence, when we read the following article in a Santa Monica newspaper, we understood that Mr. McFadden's heart was really beating with the noblest emotions—toward some one:

ON MOTHER'S DAY, THINK WHERE YOU'LL BURY HER, ADVISES AUSTIN McFADDEN

Austin McFadden of the Woodlawn Mausoleum Company today gave the press the following statement:

"How wonderful for us to think and have a Mother's Day and why we should plan now for that everlasting sleep in this beautiful Woodlawn Mausoleum now being erected at Pico and Fourteenth street, Santa Monica. In this beautiful marble structure surrounded by sunshine and flowers and all that contributes to reverence and beauty this we owe our Mother. So that through the centuries of the human history it will stand. Built of the most enduring material known to man, marble, bronze, steel and concrete, defying the elements and the ages, permanency and stability are written in every line of its graceful architecture—this we owe our Mother."

IN PROFILE

BY WYNONAH JOHNSON

One of the favorite indoor sports, it seems, is for easterners to come to Southern California, and then go back to write their impressions. They irrupt in every home paper and magazine, and usually wax most facetious about the naivete of the Californian, his belief in his climate and his future; they bemoan the fabled wildness of Hollywood night life and sing its dullness and respectable domesticity. We are an overgrown village, we are all realtors, we go to movie premieres, we eat in cafeterias.

Well, we do—cheerfully and unashamed. We are; and we have, just like they say. But that isn't the point. What I rise to remark is, that our visitors should do exactly as Joubert did, when he remarked: "When my friends are blind of one eye, I look at them in profile." There certainly are enough things in the profile of Southern California to look at and to enjoy, without the captious visitor getting excited over our full face. We don't expect him to buy real estate if he is disappointed. But we see no reason why he shouldn't content himself with the side view if he doesn't like the front.

Everybody who goes to Philadelphia, or to St. Louis, or to Portland doesn't break into headlines immejit on returning home. Why should our visitors? One of Emerson's choicest remarks might be engraved at the top of the letter paper the hotels use, and the observation cars, and the steamships: "We must be as courteous to a man (or a city!) as we are to a picture, which we are willing to give the advantage of a good light."

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Among the charming brides-elect of the season is Miss Katherine Greene, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Greene of 2342 Buckingham Road, whose betrothal to Claude Leach, a senior at Stanford, was formally announced Saturday evening at a delightfully arranged party.

The secret was revealed by cunning little birds on the tally cards distributed by the hostess preceding the card games, and a telephone call from her fiance at Palo Alto was an enjoyable feature of the evening, offering the guests an opportunity to personally congratulate him.

At the card games Miss Billie Thomas, Miss Marion Trowbridge and Miss Leah Lea were the fortunate prize winners, each receiving a pretty gift, as did Miss Helen Howard, the winner in a clever puzzle contest.

The supper tables were covered with pretty cloths and centered with crystal baskets filled with Cecile Brunner roses and ferns. Miss Greene plans to leave within two weeks for Stanford to be present for the various social activities which always accompany the commencement exercises, and following graduation Mr. Leach will come south and the wedding is planned for the autumn. Those included at the announcement party were Miss Lillian Trowbridge and Miss Marian Trowbridge of Fullerton, Miss Margaret Balch of Hollywood, Miss Billie Thomas, Miss Helen Coger, Miss Helen Howard, Miss Leah Lea, Mrs. Art Stuker, Miss Katherine Brown and Miss Evelyn Ives.

Benefit Luncheon

A group of ladies forming the general committee which is arranging a benefit luncheon to provide funds for the science building of the new Loyola University have completed plans to conduct a plate luncheon booth at the university groundbreaking exercises Sunday, the 20th inst., at University City. The luncheon is to be held at 1 p.m. the 31st inst., in the Ambassador Hotel.

Among members of the committee are:

Mrs. Arthur Wright, chairman; Mrs. Joseph Scott, Mrs. Oliver S. Hershmann of Pittsburgh, Pa., Mrs. Naldo Stokes, Mrs. H. C. Werts, Mrs. George Esker, Miss Mariana Etchemendy, Mrs. Frank Tatum, Mrs. Albert E. Cheap, Mrs. Charles E. Birthday Dinner

Spring flowers in various shades of red, intermingled with ferns and feathery white gypsophilia blooms, were generously massed in two large baskets to serve as the main decorative motif for the birthday dinner table at which Miss Margaret Van Sickle was the hostess at the Deauville Beach Club the 11th inst.

Blue nut cups, gay little paper dolls in colonial attire, each bearing aloft a tiny red sunshade, serving as place cards, and a huge snow-white birthday cake decorated with golden poppies and the green of their leaves completed the artistic ensemble of the dainty table set on the edge of the dance floor in the Galerie des Rois of the club.

The gracious little hostess, Miss Margaret Van Sickle, who was celebrating her sixteenth birthday anniversary, is an unusually attractive dark-eyed girl with black hair and white skin. She looked very lovely in a soft flame-colored chiffon dance frock. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Van Sickle, were also dining at the clubhouse on the same evening.

Miss Van Sickle's guests were Misses Moray Fore, Maxine Paul, Margaret Shaw, Nemo Spears, Jean Lewis, Katherine Smith, Marion Kendall, Messrs. John Rougeot, Carl Elliot, Ray Bellenger, Herbert Fish, Carl Shebel, Jackie Morehouse, Bob Sherry, Lynn Garbett, Henry Wishart, Joe O'Donnell.

Luncheon Party

A beautifully appointed luncheon was given in the Gold Room of the Victor Hugo Thursday May 10 in honor of Mrs. J. Oppenheimer of New York City by Mrs. Joseph Kaiser of 400 South Windsor avenue. The tables were beautifully decorated in spring flowers and attractive and unique place cards were used. After luncheon the afternoon was spent at cards. Among the guests were Mrs. Percy Davis, Mrs. Robert Matheson, Mrs. Melville Norton, Mrs. Sam Isaacs, Mrs. Phil Hunt, Miss Leah Hunt, Mrs. Joe Ferguson, Mrs. S. These birthday anniversary luncheons are a monthly affair at the Big Sisters' League and the one today will also be an open meeting.

Enjoyable Affair

One of the enjoyable affairs of the week was the bridge party given yesterday afternoon at the Deauville Beach Club by Miss Dorothy Williams, attractive daughter of Mrs. Elmer B. Williams of Gramercy Drive. The guests included members of the young hostess's bridge club, Miss Frances Daniel, Miss Doris Coger, Miss Alice Hamill, Mrs. Alfred Harrison, Miss Jane Fliedner, Mrs. Evis Wilson, Miss Alice Campbell and the hostess.

Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. E. C. Rivinius of 1615 East Mountain avenue was hostess at a beautifully appointed bridge luncheon at the Hotel Huntington. The table was laid in the Crystal Room, which was decorated with spring flowers, all the mirrored wall space reflecting greenery and lovely blossoms. Pink roses, delphiniums and bridal wreaths were employed in the ornamatation of the long table and the favors were clever designs repeating the pink rose keynote of color. The guests were Mrs. E. R. Baldwin, Mrs. Carl Newman, Mrs. Theodore White, Mrs. Charles Rodi, Mrs. Fred L. Petrequin, Mrs. J. H. Menzies, Mrs. S. N. Crosby, Jr., Mrs. J. W. Williams, Jr., Mrs. George Lee, Mrs. C. A. The Junior-Senior Class Celebrates With a Dinner

By Florence La Ganke

When Nancy opened the mail she found an air mail letter from California. Peter's niece, who was attending a finishing school on the Western coast, was begging her aunt's help for the Junior-Senior Class banquet. She was on the committee and was in despair.

"What do you think, Aunt Nancy, of a class that is so foolish as to choose maroon and gray for class colors? You simply can't use those colors in food or flowers. Now we were much wiser, our colors are yellow and white. But what can we do?"

Aunt Nancy sent an answer by air mail, first wiring her niece that help was coming. She told her to disregard the class colors for flowers and food. She might use little crepe paper trees of knowledge with bases tied in class colors. On the trees were tied tiny cards giving studies which had proved fruitful.

For menu she suggested:

Fruit cocktail of canned pears and grapefruit and chopped mint and a dash of ginger ale. Then she planned baked ham, mashed potatoes, new asparagus au gratin, spiced prunes, crusty rolls. The salad was of canned string beans with radish garnish. The dessert was a combination of pineapple ice and strawberry cream. The cakes were white with a pale pink or paler green icing. The colors were white, pale pink and green. The flowers were sweet peas.

The best way to set a table is told in Nancy's leaflet on "Table Etiquette." Write to Nancy Page, care of this paper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope, asking for her leaflet on "Table Etiquette."

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

by Dr Frank McCoy

author of "The Hour Prior to Dinner"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, whenever in the Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

WELL-PROPORTIONED CHILDREN

It is rather distressing to walk along the streets observing the number of sickly, undernourished, deformed, toxemic individuals sufferings from the long-continued effects of a pernicious diet. This is particularly heartrending to me because I realize that these unhealthy beings could practically all be splendid examples of physical development and correct education.

I have given a number of lectures before high-school student bodies, and I would estimate that about two-thirds are starving for food out of which they could build proper bone and cell structure. The other third appeared to be overweight, but nevertheless lacking in mineral elements.

These mis-shapen, slickly appearing high-school students are the results of many years of wrong dieting. If a child is brought up on white bread and jam, there is little chance for him to have a strong bony framework. I could observe in the bowlegs, knock-knees, anemic, pimply complexions and slouching backs how little our educational system is doing in the practical instruction of food chemistry.

Some of the lower-grade schools have recently installed dietitians to supervise the food that is given in the school, but although some improvement over no supervision, the chief aim of these dietitians is to produce spectacular gaining reports and as a consequence the children are stuffed with quantities of acid-forming, mucus-producing foods which add weight but, unfortunately, no health. The increase in weight is usually caused by uneliminated waste poisons, and is directly responsible for the many cases of swollen tonsils, adenoids, appendicitis and tendencies to the children's diseases.

I believe, however, that the mother should be chiefly responsible for preventing this condition of acidosis. Growing children must be provided with foods containing calcium, silicon and iron. All of the cooked and raw greens contain these important minerals, without which a child cannot build healthy bone, nerve or blood tissues.

Not only is it important to select the right foods, but it is necessary to combine them properly, and I advise the complete elimination of the white-flour products, sugar from the diet, as a craving that seldom exists is a positive indication that we are not eating a well-balanced diet.

The menus which I will give next week in this column will be of good wholesome foods for children. I have written a little article called "Diet for Children," which I shall be delighted to mail to anyone who need a change of diet.

Mothers should make a careful study of these menus and from health hints in the columns of health articles in the more progressive magazines.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: I. G. T. writes: I have been dieting according to instructions in the paper and have lost thirteen pounds, but of late I notice after eating my reducing diet begins to take effect in a very pronounced manner in my mouth. What could be the cause and will it disappear?

Answer: You should be glad to lose more weight, and I urge you to keep on dieting until you have reached normal. The condition will disappear. This is from an improper balance of the digestive fluids, and correct eating will correct such troubles.

Q.: Mrs. E. D. writes: Will you please tell me what foods are best for my family? We are living on a ranch, so have our own vegetables and chickens, our own milk and cream, and we have our own fruit and nuts. Also, I have a question: What foods are best when we use the juice of fruits?

A.: Generally speaking, we recommend the animal and poultry products, such as meats, milk, cream, butter, eggs, fowl, eggs, rabbit, fish, etc.

Q.: A. C. writes: What is the proper food and liquid to take in a case where there is no urine. It has been going on for several years, sometimes for quite a long time, sometimes scarcely any. I will be thankful for your helpful advice on the subjects which we get from your paper."

A.: It is useless for me to attempt to give you any specific advice as I cannot tell what is causing the pus in your urine. A thorough competent diagnosis will find out the cause of your trouble. Please write to me again, giving your name and address, and I will be glad to give you suggestions about the treatment from my point of view.

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of food cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 139 South Broadway.

STRAWBERRY WHIP

Mash two cupfuls of fine strawberries and rub through a sieve into a cold bowl. Proves its own Excellence

WHEN you try Modess, there will be no question in your mind as to its overwhelming superiority compared with other sanitary napkins. It is so soft and yielding, so inconspicuous, so free from square chafing sides and clumsiness, yet so absolutely dependable.

The specially woven Johnson & Johnson gauze is softened and then for greater comfort is meshed with a film of cotton. An entirely new substance is used for the disposable filler—soft and fluffy as cotton yet amazingly absorbent. The sides are smoothly rounded and shaped to prevent chafing. The soft back repels moisture. Modess is instantly disposable.

If you wish to buy Modess without discussion, we suggest that you hand the Purchase Coupon below to the sales person.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

BAD HABITS ARE INDICATIVE OF NERVOUSNESS

If a child is nervous, he will manifest this in numerous ways. When small he will cry uncontrollably without reason; he will weep at sight of strange faces and exhibit terror of them. Sounds, though terrifying to all children, will affect him more strongly and he will shake and tremble and be difficult to quiet.

As he grows older, all of these symptoms will be exaggerated, and new ones added. The timid child, the child afraid of everything and anything, the child who cries out at night, and cannot be comforted until he is wakened, is showing a nervous unstable condition. Such children of course may have been made nervous by the treatment they receive at home. The punishments and threats and stories that are told to them have a fearful significance, creating this nervous condition which they later exhibit in their actions.

It is the nervous child who is the victim of various bad habits. Most mechanical habits, like thumb sucking and nail biting, lip chewing, ear pulling and so on, are engaged in because they are soothing to the child. He is comforted and calmed by doing this mechanical thing and temporarily withdrawn from the "madding crowd," which constitutes his environment. Early thumb sucking may not be caused from nervousness, but the nervous child will continue it long beyond the time the healthy child has gone on to larger interests.

Too few mothers realize what a stimulating world this is to the child. There are so many noisy parents, who shriek their delight at their wee offspring's cunningness, who allow grossness of habit and mirthful relatives to romp and paw the baby. He may be the object of innocent but terrifying embraces from aged relatives who squeeze him dangerously in their efforts to show their love. Too many adults don't restrain themselves from hugging and kissing small and defenseless babies.

If the child is naturally nervous by such treatment he is apt to be more nervous by each succeeding day. His ability of adjusting himself to his environment grows worse as he grows older. The noisy mother will start in early with screams at him, for the most trivial misbehavior. She should be told that nervousness as a reason for misbehavior doesn't help the child.

And in this noisy world there are all kinds of contrivances which tend to stimulate the already overstimulated child, jumpers and walkers, bells and whistles, radios, pianos, and noise of all kinds. We wonder that the nervous child can't be quiet and content. He craves for peace and quiet and will seek it in every possible way. Even the thumb he sucks his thumb or bites his nails is temporarily dear to his heart.

white-flour products and white sugar from the child's diet. The craving that children have for these is a positive indication that they are not being fed on a properly balanced diet.

The menus which I publish each week in this column will provide good wholesome tissues for growing children. I have written an article called "School Luncheons" which I shall be delighted to mail to anyone who send a stamped envelope.

Mothers should make a thorough study of these dietetic articles from health books and from the columns of health advice found in the more progressive newspapers.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: I. O. V. writes: "I have been dieting according to your instructions in the paper. I have lost thirteen pounds—did not think I could. I notice after eating, when digestion begins to take place, I have a very pronounced metallic taste in my mouth. What would cause this, and will it disappear?"

Answer: You should lose more weight, and if you will keep on dieting until your weight becomes normal, the metallic taste will disappear. This is probably from an improper balance of the digestive fluids, and continued dieting will correct such trouble.

Q.: Mrs. K. D. writes: "All my family are being benefited by your diet and health articles in the paper, and we wish to tell you of our appreciation. Also just one question: What foods are acid when we use the term 'protein'?"

A.: Generally speaking, we mean the animal and its products, such as meats, milk, cream, cheese, fowl, eggs, rabbit, fish, etc.

Q.: A. C. writes: "Please tell me the proper food and liquid to put in a case where there is pus in the urine. It has been going on for several years, sometimes the pus is quite heavy and sometimes scarcely any. I wish to thank you for your helpful advice on various subjects which we get through the paper."

A.: It is unwise for me to attempt to give you any special advice as I cannot tell what is causing the pus in your urine. Go to a competent diagnostician and find out the cause of your trouble and then write to me again, giving your name and address, and I will send you suggestions about the cure from my point of view.

CELERY ROOT SALAD

Wash, scrub and rinse clean three celery roots, place in a saucepan, cover with boiling water, add a slice of lemon and a teaspoonful of salt and boil until tender; plunge into cold water, drain and peel. Peel the sliced quarters lengthwise and sliced quarters crosswise. Place the sliced celery root in a cold bowl, rubbed with a clove of garlic, cover with French dressing. Let stand two hours. Drain, mound on shredded lettuce and cover with the dressing made by mixing one cupful of sour cream with one teaspoonful of mustard, one teaspoonful of salt, three tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and a quarter of a teaspoonful of cayenne pepper.

STRAWBERRY WHIP

Mash two cupfuls of clean strawberries and rub through a sieve into a cold bowl. Mix with the whites of two eggs, one cupful of sifted sugar and two teaspoonfuls of gelatine dissolved in four tablespoonfuls of hot water. Beat with a wire whip until it will hold its shape. Serve very cold in tall stemmed glasses.

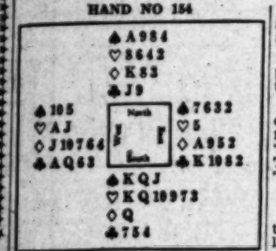
SOUND AUCTION BRIDGE

by Wilbur C. Whitehead
The World's Greatest Authority...

Each day is published a complete hand presented by Mr. Whitehead. These hands may be played with cards by one, two, three or four players. Fill out a chart of your own and compare it tomorrow with Mr. Whitehead's play. Do this each day and carefully read Mr. Whitehead's explanation, and you will find that your knowledge of the game will progress rapidly. Compare your bidding and play with that of your friends—the comparison may be illuminating.

HAND NO 154



South is the dealer. What is the proper bidding and play?

Record the bids that each player should make, assuming that he does not see any of the other hands.

These hands must not be bid or played "Double Dummy," i.e., as though all four hands were exposed.

NOTE—In recording the Auction, or the play, use "S" for Spades, "H" for Hearts, "D" for Diamonds, and "C" for Clubs. Use 'N.T." for No Trumps, "DBL" for double, "REDBL" for redouble.

Mr. Whitehead will answer questions concerning your Bridge problems. Write to him care of this paper, inclosing self-addressed stamped envelope.

Pass	Pass	5H	5S
Pass	Pass	DBL	Pass

Final Bid: 5 S. DBL. Played by North.

Salient Points of the Bidding

South, with seven Hearts with four honors and a worthless side hand, bids three Hearts. The bidding then continues conventionally, North carrying it to five Hearts and East to five Spades, North doubling the final bid.

Salient Points of the Play

Trick 1. West false-cards the eight of Hearts, but North reads the play correctly, confident that West has another Heart, since otherwise South must have held eight originally, with four honors, in which case South's original bid would have been four instead of three. Moreover, with such holding, South would probably, after North's assist, have bid up to five Hearts. South's play of the King of Hearts on his partner's Ace not only showed control of the suit (which was unnecessary) but also was tantamount to a command to continue with Hearts, notwithstanding the singleton in Dummy, rather than shift to another suit. North interprets this play as an indication of weakness in the Club suit, the suit to which shift would naturally be made.

Trick 2. North debates as to whether to lead another Heart or shift to Diamonds. His decision to lead a Heart was based upon sound reasoning, and saved the game. North realized that the Declarer by stripping his own hand and Dummy's of both Hearts and Diamonds could throw North in the lead with the King of Spades and force him to lead Clubs away from his minor tenace. To accomplish this strip play, Declarer must enter Dummy's hand twice. North, therefore, immediately kills one entry by the lead of a Heart and effectually blocks the winning end-play that otherwise would have been possible.

SECURITIES ACT CHANGE SOUGHT

Corporation Bureau Would Extend Powers

Injunction and Prosecution Control Asked

Amendment to be Urged on Legislators

Criminal prosecution and relief by injunction with both actions under the direct control of the State Corporation Department instead of various county district attorneys or the Attorney General is the purpose of a proposed amendment to the State Corporate Securities Act now being considered by the committee on the Corporate Securities Act of the State Bar of California.

The proposed amendment, which comes from Commissioner of Corporations Friedlander and which has been under consideration for a number of months, probably will be presented at the next session of the Legislature and will carry with it a recommendation from the Commissioner that it be adopted.

CLAIMS DISCRIMINATION

According to Commissioner Friedlander in his outline to the State Bar, other departments of the State do not have to go outside of their own offices to have their legal difficulties solved while his must go to the Attorney General for all important rulings and to various prosecutors for all criminal actions.

A direct control of all matters coming under the Corporate Securities Act could be placed in the hands of the Commissioner according to Mr. Friedlander without additional expense to the State and would enable his office by means of injunction proceedings and criminal prosecutions to clamp down on violators without being placed at the mercy of other prosecutors who may not understand the complications of the State act.

In his communication to the State Bar Committee Mr. Friedlander said:

EXPENSE SLIGHT

"Naturally, the question will arise as to the expense that might follow the changes I have suggested. I have given this question careful thought and I cannot see where much expense can be incurred beyond that called for at present in the proper enforcement of the law. The change will not entail the establishment of another legal department, as some persons seem to think. We have the equipment and only the inadequacy of the law makes it dormant.

"It will be noted that the jurisdiction of this department for all practical purposes ceases upon the revocation of the permit and if there be added to the Corporate Securities Act 'injunctive relief,' it will extend its jurisdiction beyond the present point."

DEPENDENT STATUS

At the present time, according to Mr. Friedlander his department may revoke permits but when criminal prosecution should be made his investigators and his attorneys must after having worked up a case, depend upon various prosecutors for legal action. In many cases it is impossible to secure the necessary action on account of the press of business in the District Attorney's office or because of a lack of understanding.

In this connection the Corporation Commissioner in his letter to the State Bar said:

"To my mind and in the opinion of many able attorneys and business men with whom I have discussed the entire subject, the question of giving the Commissioner of Corporations added jurisdiction, so that the Corporation Department may represent itself in civil and criminal proceedings having a direct bearing on the Corporate Securities Act must be the most important phase of the work of anybody studying the law for the purpose of recommending any amendments. I also want to say that I am strongly in favor of such changes."

"Inventors" of Money Machine Found Guilty

Eugene Brignola and William Cardone, asserted inventors, yesterday found themselves facing prison terms of one to ten years. They were convicted of grand theft before Superior Judge Wilson.

According to testimony, Brignola and Cardone exhibited a machine to Andrew Cuccio that produced four $10 bills from one original ten-spot. Cuccio was so enthused over the prospect that he gathered $11,500 together and invested it. Then, it was said, Brignola and Cardone disappeared as did also Cuccio's $11,500.

New Jorgensen Divorce Filed

A new suit for divorce was filed yesterday by Hans William Jorgensen against Eva Mudge Jorgensen. A former suit, in which "Death Valley Scotty" had been named, was dismissed last week just as it was about to go to trial.

The present action charges desertion, and it is expected that no defense will be made to it.

PHONE MEN ENTERTAINED

The plant department of the Southern California Telephone Company entertained more than 3600 telephone men last night at its annual smoker at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium on El Centro street. Included in the program were athletic events, music and novelties. The Harold Roberts Golden State Band furnished the music and others who entertained were Armenta, tumbler, the Bell Clare Brothers, hand balancers, and Juggling Nelson.

PORTABLE SETS TO BE DELETED

Two California Stations in Commission Order

Another Radio Examination Announced

Twelve Million Receivers at New Estimate

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

There is considerable radio news in Washington releases of the day.

The Radio Commission has issued an order canceling the licenses of all portable broadcast stations on July 1.

Sixteen portable broadcasters are put off the air by this order, seven of which are in the Chicago area. Two of the sixteen are in California: KGGM, owned by Jay Peters at Inglewood; and KGFO, the Brant Radio Power Company, Los Angeles.

The general radio station list has been decreased this week by two stations voluntarily surrendering their licenses, WHBA, of Oil City, Pa., and WEAM, operated by the Borough of North Plainsfield, N. J.

MUNICIPAL SET CEASES

Other Washington news includes the fact that applications for positions as assistant radio inspector in the Department of Commerce are being sought by the United States Civil Service Commission. The final date for receiving entries is June 26 and competitors will be assembled fifteen days later for examination.

Vacancies will be filled in the field service throughout the country, including Hawaii, Alaska and Porto Rico, at entrance salaries of $2400.

Competitors will be rated on theoretical and practical questions on the construction, use and adjustment of radio apparatus and auxiliaries and on education, training and experience.

AUDIENCE INCREASES

Estimates of the radio trade now place the number of receiving-sets in use in the United States at nearly 12,000,000, serving an audience of not less than 40,000,000 persons. Figures on the number of radio sets privately owned have recently been compiled by a number of bodies at the request of the Federal Radio Commission, which is anxious to furnish Congress with dependable figures on the number of receiving-sets in use in the country.

Figures compiled by branches of the trade indicate that 7,500,000 standard receiving sets of loud-speaker volume are now in use in the United States in addition to large numbers of crystals and one-1 tube receivers of obsolete type which are still in wide use on farms and in rural sections, and including which the total is placed at between 11,000,000 and 12,000,000.

MANY CRYSTALS

Few persons, even in the radio industry itself, it is pointed out, realize the large number of small crystal sets which have been put into circulation, particularly as premiums. One group of banking institutions is declared to have distributed 200,000 of these sets, combined with customers' savings banks. Other large quantities have been sold direct to customers by chain stores and mail-order houses.

Among standard receivers at the present time alternating current sets in cities constitute 90 per cent of all set sales, it is estimated. One large manufacturer has disposed of approximately 200,000 such sets since December, 1927, and a second maker is following close behind him with nearly the same output during the past six months.

International Relations Body to Hold Session

Second annual conference of the Southern California Councils on International Relations will be held Saturday in the La Canada-Flintridge Community Church auditorium, with Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War, Washington, D. C., as the principal speaker. Attending will be representatives from councils in Long Beach, Pasadena, Los Angeles, Riverside and Fullerton.

Frederick J. Libby's topic, "Major International Problems Today," will be the chief interest of the afternoon session and will be followed by a discussion as to the problems on which local organizations should focus their activities.

Dr. Lincoln Wirt of San Francisco, western secretary, National Council for the Prevention of War, will speak at the evening session on "As a Nation Thinketh."

CHURCH WINS TAX FIGHT

Courts Hold Free Auto Park Used by Parishioners Cannot be Assessed by County

Church property used for parking buildings is tax exempt, the State Supreme Court, sitting in San Francisco, held in effect yesterday.

The decision was in the case of the Immanuel Presbyterian Church against County Auditor Payne and County Treasurer Hunt. In addition to the property on which its building stands in the congested business district, the church owns an adjacent lot, which is used without charge by parishioners for automobile parking space during services.

Under the law which says that churches need not pay taxes on real property convenient to the use and occupation of church buildings, the county officials taxed the church $2268 in 1923 on the parking station. The church paid the tax and appealed to the Board of Supervisors, which ordered the money refunded.

Thereupon the case was appealed to the Superior Court, which held the property was tax exempt. On an appeal to the Appellate Court, Justice York sustained the Superior Court upon the ground that parking space is convenient and necessary to a church building if the church is located in the downtown district where the streets are congested.

Yesterday the Supreme Court denied a petition for a hearing of the issue before it and thereby in effect sustained previous findings.

"GRAIN O' DUST" LEADS CHOSEN

Archainbaud Selects Ricardo Cortez and Alma Bennett; Harry Langdon May Sign With United Artists; Olive Borden Stars in F.B.O. Film

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

George Archainbaud, who is to direct the screen version of David Graham Phillips's "The Grain of Dust" for Tiffany-Stahl, is as busy as he can be these days lining up a cast, since he wants to be sure to get the very best players possible for the leading roles.

Ricardo Cortez, says the director, comes nearer, to his way of thinking, to typifying the hero than any other player in the business, and up to the time of this story's going to press he was the choice of the studio, although no contract had yet been signed.

Alma Bennett, instead of Claire Windsor, is to have the feminine lead, Miss Windsor being slated for another production not yet ready for announcement.

John Stahl stated yesterday that no time nor expense was to be spared in making this very dramatic story one of the best pictures of the coming year.

Harry Langdon's Plans

There is ever so excellent a chance that Harry Langdon may remain with First National, according to word we heard yesterday.

However, the comedian himself would not confirm the report. He has received many offers, including a very fine one from United Artists, while one of the more important comedy companies has made him a generous proffer, so far as money is concerned, to make a long series of two-reelers. However, he wishes to keep on with the feature length comedies, especially now that he has had success with "Long Pants" and some other feature comedies produced by him.

Langdon pays out some $1800 per week for aids in the way of gag-men and advisers, not to mention story writers, and he has several splendid new story ideas which he wishes to embody in films.

His newest comedy is called "Cock-a-Doodle-Doo," and judging from a few reels of it that I saw run off at the studio yesterday, it should be a veritable knock-out, with a delightful line of fresh gags.

Langdon has received a number of offers from vaudeville, and one for the Follies from Ziegfeld.

Donald Reed in It

The fact came to light yesterday that Billie Dove is to have two leading men in "The Night Watch," her forthcoming First National vehicle.

BILLIE DOVE

Donald Reed and Paul Lukas are to be the two masculine leads who will fight for the love of the beautiful Billie, according to word received yesterday.

Reed recently made a good impression when he played opposite Alice White in "The Mad Hour."

Alexander Korda, who directed Miss Dove in "The Yellow Lily," will also direct her in "The Night Watch."

Olive Borden With F.B.O.

Now that Olive Borden is started again on her film career there seems to be no stopping her. She was signed yesterday to star in a picture of the underworld which F.B.O. is to produce and which is titled "Gang War."

Olive Borden

Miss Borden just recently completed a production in which she is to be starred by Columbia, with John Boles appearing opposite her as leading man.

Richard Dix Takes Vacation

Richard Dix feels that he has every right to have a little fun before starting work on his next Paramount picture. He is, therefore, leaving within a day or two for his San Fernando Valley ranch, where he will spend his time looking over his fruit trees and loafing.

Lasky Gives Banquet

Dinner coats and evening dresses were being brushed with hectic energy at the Paramount studio yesterday in anticipation of the banquet in honor of the visiting executives from New York, to be held tonight on one of the large stages. Jesse L. Lasky and B. P. Schulberg are playing host to S. R. Kent and others from the home office, and all stars, featured players and studio department heads are assisting their boss.

Patsy Ruth Miller's Next

Not one idle moment has Patsy Ruth Miller had since returning from Europe.

Now she is cast, according to the announcement of John Stahl made yesterday, to play the leading feminine role opposite George Jessel in "George Washington Cohn."

Colleen's New Accomplishment

While Colleen Moore was down in Honolulu, she became skillful at the difficult sport of surf-board riding, and she can hardly wait for a day off from work at First National studios to go to the seashore and give an exhibition of her cleverness.

COLLEEN MOORE

"I've promised to show my husband (John McCormick) how to manage the surf-board," declared Colleen yesterday, "and I do hope I shall be in good form Saturday afternoon, when we go to Balboa. Otherwise, I shall naturally never hear the last of it."

Miss Moore took a peek at the volcano on Hilo while she was down there, but otherwise didn't bother herself, much with sight-seeing, spending her time resting and swimming.

Gran Replaces Actor

Albert Gran, rather than J. Farrell Macdonald, is to play the father in Madge Bellamy's current Fox vehicle, "Mother Knows Best." This news was fortheoming yesterday. The reason given was that Macdonald is to go into another production.

Universal Buys Stories

As further indication that the production activities at Universal are to continue indefinitley, coincident with the official opening of the studios comes the announcement that Edward J. Montagne, scenario editor-in-chief of the Carl Laemmle organization, is augmenting the scheduled program with the purchase of new additional stories. "Salvage" is one of the stories bought. It is by John Clymer.

According to an unconfirmed report, "Salvage" will be Mary Philbin's next starring vehicle. Wesley Ruggles will direct.

Harry Gribbon's New Part

Just in case you miss Harry Gribbon, you needn't worry. You are going to have a chance to see him again in pictures.

HARRY GRIBBON

Gribbon has just signed for the cast of "Tide of Empire," with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and is to have the comic role of a shyster lawyer who joins the noble army of '49'ers in the gold rush.

The comedian has just finished playing an important role with Buster Keaton in "Snap Shots."

Cecil De Mille Vacations

With the completion of "The Godless Girl," both Cecil B. De Mille and Jeanie Macpherson are taking vacations.

The director has left for a three-weeks' cruise on his newly-fitted and renovated yacht, the Seaward, which was nearly destroyed by fire last fall. His first port of call is Avalon, where he will anchor this week before sailing south in search of tuna.

Billie Dove to Star at Loew's

The new show at Loew's State, starting tomorrow, divides honors equally between the stage and screen offerings. Billie Dove has a highly romantic love role as the heroine of "The Yellow Lily," a story of Hungary, by Lajos Biro. Alexander Korda directed the picture for First National and the cast includes Clive Brook, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Marc McDermott, Jane Winton and other favorites.

On the stage, Sweet William and Bad Bill, "those funny black-face artists," will make their first appearance on any stage on the Coast, heading Panchon and Marco's "Bath Tub" idea.

LINA BASQUETTE DANCES

Lina Basquette will again be cast as a dancer in "Celebrity," her first starring vehicle for C. B. De Mille. Miss Basquette has made but five pictures since re-entering screen circles and in three, "Serenade," "

SWORDS TO CLASH IN KEN-GEKI

Impressive Performances Promised When Japanese Meet on Stage

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The Ken-Geki or Japanese sword plays with drama and a special dance fantasy to be presented by Sid Grauman, Charles Chaplin and others at the Windsor Square Theater tomorrow night and Saturday are attracting wide attention from lovers of the unusual. Mitsuru Toyama, playwright and leading actor of the company of thirty Japanese, and his wife, Koharu Ohara, danseuse of the Imperial Theater of Tokio, have, through an interpreter, given The Times a few illuminating words of explanation of the strange and impressive entertainment which will be offered.

M. Toyama specialises in plays of the comparatively modern Japanese school, rarely going back over 1500 years for his dramas. He and the other male members of his company are of necessity trained swordsmen and that means that from the time they were 8 years of age they have devoted themselves to this art, which is the center around which education of a samurai, or ruler of the feudal times, which only ended within the last hundred years, was built.

Feminine actors are a very recent revival upon the Japanese stage as they were abandoned over fifteen centuries ago because of too great dependence upon their physical charms, rather than upon the development of their art, for advancement. Within the last fifteen years a few women have again taken up the profession. They have stepped onto the stage from rigorous training as dancers. Only the best dancers are permitted to become actresses and the two dancers, Ohara and Tanaka, who present the dance fantasy, "Felicity to Spring," on these programs, are also actresses in the Toyama company. As the love element is decidedly secondary in all Japanese drama the scarcity of women is not noticeable.

The two sword plays to be given depend almost entirely upon intense action for their effect. Both "Ishimatsu Mori" and "Yoso Kida" are modern adaptations of old action dramas. They are played without masks.

In considering these sword plays it is well to remember that to a Japanese the sword is a symbol of power, which a samurai child assumes at the age of five, signifying loyalty and honor. Many temples and families in Japan hold swords as objects of worship. Any insult to a man's sword is a personal affront and swordsmiths rank with the finest artists and approach their craft with prayers and purification.

"Ishimatsu" was written by Toyama, director the company. It is a historical tragedy of clan intrigue cut down from six acts to two for American consumption.

"Yoso Kida" is a tragedy also, of the civil war toward the end of the Shogun dynasty in 1863.

Over all the intensely dramatic action the sweet-toned, flute, the samisens and bells blend with singing voices and at proper moments, the terrifying war drums, are heard in off-stage music.

Filmarte's New Program Opens

Starting tonight at the Filmarte Theater in Hollywood, "Surrender," a Universal picture, will head the bill. Mary Philbin and Ivan Mosjukine lead a cast of players who were chosen for their ability to interpret the exacting roles of a drama laid in Galicia during the early days of the World War, and also for accuracy as to type and manner.

On this second Filmarte bill, "Rhythms of a City in Minors," a drama of life in the undercurrent of a city, made by Harry Sweet and Hal Davitt, also holds a place.

"Head Hunters of Ecuador," showing the experiences of a few plucky explorers among cannibals, and "How Lady Dobbledud Got Her Title," an amusing travesty by Tom Geraghty, complete the program chosen by Miss Regge Doran, the director of the Filmarte, to balance "Surrender."

LITTLE SYMPHONY TO PLAY DILLON WORK

Adolf Tandler's Little Symphony program at the Biltmore Ballroom on Saturday morning will include a first performance of Fannie Dillon's orchestral suite, "A Letter from the Southland."

"RED HAIR" SHOWN

Clara Bow, the vivacious star of "It," makes a new hit in Elinor Glyn's story, "Red Hair," now playing at the Forum Theater.

Morosco's "Hellcat" Purrs Tonight

Jeanne Navelle
Plays the title role in the drama of the Javanese Isles which will be unfolded for the first time this evening at the Belmont Theater.

BASHER BILL SWAGGERS IN

Heralded as a new type of characterization for Emil Jannings, "The Street to Sin," starring the German actor, opens at the Million Dollar Theater today.

Featured with Jannings in the new film are Fay Wray and Olga Baclanova, who have two widely differing types of roles. Miss Wray appears as the little welfare worker who changes the life of Jannings's "Basher Bill," and Olga Baclanova is Annie, a woman from "The Street of Sin." It is an odd coincidence that it was Mme. Baclanova's role as the nun in "The Miracle" that won her the part of Annie.

In the new film Jannings has the role of a burly ex-prizefighter of the London slums.

On the stage is a specially prepared prologue, "Limehouse Nights."

ELSIE JANIS LEADS ACTS

Elsie Janis, fresh from triumphs in concert and with many new impersonations and much comedy, will be the headline attraction at the Orpheum starting Sunday matinee, when the newly organized Keith-Orpheum vaudeville will make its bow in Los Angeles completing a country-wide chain of vaudeville theaters.

A bill of unusual magnitude will inaugurate the new vaudeville offering and support Miss Janis.

Kitty Doner, "America's greatest male impersonator;" Fred Allen and company, "Hap" Farrell and Florence, Margaret Severn and the Neal Eisters in "A Modern Fantasy," and Lorin Raker and company in "The Beauty Doctor" will be a few of the interesting offerings.

Bob Anderson and Polo Pony and Frank Wilson in "Cycle-Ology" will complete the bill.

Muddy Waters Complex Told by Stage Star

"I want to play a scrubwoman again," said Ethel Barrymore, now appearing in the Biltmore Theater in "The Constant Wife," the comedy in which she is acting the wife of a prominent and successful London physician.

Few theatergoers recall the appearance of the beautiful Ethel Barrymore, then a young girl in her first success under Charles Frohman's management, in Galsworthy's "The Silver Box." At that time she portrayed Mrs. Jones, the scrubwoman. Miss Barrymore had already played many parts which called upon her make-up box, such as Mrs. Gray in "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire;" a married woman with a daughter 17—herself a young actress of 19 years of age; and more remarkable still, offered the choice of mother and daughter, the young Miss Barrymore chose the more interesting part, even if it did mean gray at the temples and long earrings to make her look old.

If her public will stand for it, Miss Barrymore would like to play character parts again; but with a second venture into the field of Somerset Maugham comedy—the first was eighteen years ago in his "Lady Frederick"—Miss Barrymore finds a lovable, amusing, and at the same time, searching characterization which audiences seem to most enjoy seeing her play.

TITLES "HORSE OPERA"

Julian Johnson, editor at the Paramount studio, is writing the titles for "The Vanishing Pioneer," a Zane Grey western picture in which Jack Holt is featured. Exterior scenes of the picture were filmed on two extensive location trips, one to Zion Canyon, Utah, and the other to Yosemite National Park in California's Sierras. John Waters directed.

Lovers Rampant in Quaint Play

Among the very few plays which can lay honest claim to the description, "romantic comedy," "Pomander Walk," the next Hollywood Play House repertory offering, achieves distinction among period plays by its almost unique presentation of many loves and lovers. Joseph Schildkraut, director-general of that theater, believes this work holds all records for its content of heart interest."

"The average dramatic work," Schildkraut declares, "is considered to contain a full share of romance if it includes one or two love affairs, but 'Pomander Walk' has no less than four, all of which are equally absorbing in interest and appeal."

Given in many countries, "Pomander Walk," has a long history of success. Both in New York and in London it has been extremely popular. At the Hollywood Play House it will be seen for the first time in Los Angeles.

Doris Lloyd is Honored Guest

Doris Lloyd, one of the stars of "Interference" the melodramatic hit now in its last week at the Mayan, will be the guest of honor at today's matinee of "The Trail of '98" at Grauman's Chinese Theater.

Miss Lloyd, who plays one of the leading roles in this picture, has arranged a theater party for this occasion, and the entire cast of "Interference" will be Sid Grauman's guests, it is reported.

Recognized as one of the outstanding dramatic actresses on the Pacific Coast, Miss Lloyd finds the screen as successful a medium as the speaking stage. In "The Trail of '98" she enacts an outcast woman of the dance halls; in "Interference" she is seen as a leader of the most sophisticated and conventional English society.

HANDCRAFT EXHIBITED

Vine Street Theater Flourishes Art Objects from Poland

An exhibition of Polish peasant art and handcraft is to be held on the mezzanine floor of the Vine Street Theater, where Edward Everett Horton is holding forth in "The Gossipy Sex." The exhibition will start this afternoon and will continue until the following Thursday, which brings it up into the run of the first week of Horton's new play, "The Queen's Husband."

Poland has long been known as a land of great musicians, but few know that this country has a very ancient art tradition which has been kept alive for centuries through the faith and idealism of its peasant folk. Intellectual artists of Poland have come to recognize this and have gone to live and study among the peasants.

The exhibition will be in charge of Isabel and Mary Wilkie, who have brought it to many cities. It will show handloom weaving, tapestries, embroideries, wood carvings, etchings and rugs.

MARJORIE RAMBEAU IS SIGNED

Henry Duffy Acquires New Guest Star; Engagement Here Follows

Marjorie Rambeau, dramatic actress, has been signed by Henry Duffy for a series of great starring engagements with the Duffy companies in Vancouver, Seattle and Portland. Later it is expected that Miss Rambeau will be seen in Los Angeles and San Francisco under Duffy's management in a new play now being written for her by Olga Printzlau.

Miss Rambeau will open her season under Duffy's management in Vancouver July 2, appearing first in "The Goldfish," the greatest success of her starring career. She also will appear in "Enter Madame," "Anna Christie," "Antonia," "Daddy's Gone A-hunting" and the new play by Miss Printzlau. From Vancouver she will go to Seattle and Portland.

This will give Duffy three guest stars at present, Berton Churchill appearing with the Henry Duffy Players in Portland, and Leo Carrillo with the Duffy company in Seattle. He also has the original New York cast of "Tommy" playing at his new President Theater in Los Angeles.

Ovations Greet Prologue Tenor

The lyric tenor who is said to receive more radio fan letters than anyone else insists that he gets a bigger thrill and more satisfaction by appearing four times a day in a motion-picture theater. James Burroughs is the man, and it is not difficult to appreciate his attitude after witnessing the response at the United Artists Theater, where he is appearing in Hugo Riesenfeld's "Serenade," a stage prelude to D. W. Griffith's production, "Drums of Love."

Burroughs will remain during the "Gaucho" engagement.

"Stopping the show" is a serious matter in a continuous policy program, where the shows are run on a split-second schedule, but the United Artists management is permitting unlimited receptions after every Burrough's appearance.

Although a native of the Pacific Coast, Burroughs has spent most of his life in Europe studying music in the conservatories of Paris, Berlin and Vienna. His first professional engagement in California was in San Francisco, as the star of the musical comedy, "Polly."

Chief Cline is Appreciative

George Bancroft in "The Dragnet" comes to the Metropolitan Theater Saturday. The Publix stage revue will be "Dancing Feet," featuring Harry Rose, New York vaudeville headliner.

Chief of Detectives H. H. Cline yesterday sent a letter to George Bancroft, the star, which reads in part:

"'The Dragnet' is a most wonderful picture and held everyone of us enthralled for a full hour, and when a picture can hold the attention of such hard-to-please criminal experts as were assembled at the Metropolitan Theater, it must be good."

DIRECTOR PROFFERS TWO LONG CONTRACT

Any time that Edward G. Robinson and his wife, Gladys Lloyd, featured players in "The Racket," which on Sunday closes a successful run at the Belasco Theater, wish to leave the stage and take up film careers they have a golden opportunity. Clarence Brown, the director, has made an offer to place these players under a long-term contract to him personally.

Robinson and Miss Lloyd would gladly accept Brown's offer but both of them are due back in New York in the near future to commence rehearsals in a new play which opens in the East in August. Later, Robinson and Miss Lloyd will probably come back to Los Angeles and sign the contract with Brown.

SCHOOL BONDS CARRY EASILY

San Diego Voters Pass Upon $2,313,000 Program

Four-to-One Majority Least Given Three Issues

Purchase of State College Site is Approved

SAN DIEGO, May 16.—The vote on San Diego's school-bond issue of $2,313,000, with all but seven precincts accounted for, stood today as follows:

Elementary-school bonds, 21,334, yes; 4803, no.

State College site purchase, 21,457, yes; 3791, no.

Detail studies of improvements on schools already erected and new buildings will be started immediately, according to Will Angier, secretary of the Board of Education. Actual construction cannot be started, he said, until the money for the bonds is received in about sixty days. In remodeling the schools it is planned to use the same architects who supervised the original construction. In erecting new plants new architects will be chosen by the school board.

Official canvass of the votes will be made next Tuesday, Angier said, and plans for advertising the bonds will be made at that time.

The proposed new State College site in the eastern part of the city will be cleared at once and preparations made for the new plant, E. L. Hardy, president of the institutions, announced today. It is planned to have the new college building ready for occupancy in the fall of 1930. As a result of the purchase of the present college grounds by school authorities for $325,000 the State College will pay rent equivalent to the amount of interest on the bonds, Angier explained.

Results of the election show that the State College bonds carried almost 7 to 1, the elementary-school bonds of $998,000 carried more than 4 to 1 and the high-school bonds of $900,000 were victorious with a 4-to-1 vote.

VENTURANS APPROVE BONDS FOR SCHOOL

VENTURA, May 16.—The $100,000 grammar-school bond issue, on which Venturans voted yesterday, carried by eight to one, a tally of the votes revealed today. The vote was 135 for the bonds and 17 opposed to the bonds.

The funds from this bond issue will be used largely to acquire new land for the grammar-school system.

FULLERTON ORDERS ISSUE OF $35,000

FULLERTON, May 16.—Fullerton citizens yesterday approved an issue of $35,000 bonds for new construction work at the Ford-avenue school. Only 508 votes were cast. The bond issue was favored by 401 votes to 107 against.

In addition to the Ford-avenue building program repair and maintenance work will demand additional funds this year, it was said, and some alterations are contemplated. The school board has the right to use the money for any work in the school district which seems advisable.

The ford-avenue addition, which is the principal project planned for this year, is not expected to cost more than $29,000 completed and the remainder of the $35,000 will be available for other work in the grammar-school system.

Fisherman Has Wound to Back Angling Story

UPLAND, May 16.J. D. Orendorff was home again today explaining to his friends why he tarried so long at Corpus Christi, Tex. Orendorff went fishing in the Gulf of Mexico. He caught a fish, and then the fish caught him, so it required the care of physicians and a hospital to get him in shape for his return home.

Orendorff went after deep sea fish. He hooked a huge swordfish. One of Orendorff's hands rested on the side of the boat as he tugged to bring the swordfish to him. Then the fish made use of its weapon. The denizen of the deep made a stab at Orendorff's hand with its sword, struck the target and pinned his hand to the side of the boat.

Orendorff cried for help and other fishermen had to subdue the fish before they could draw its sword from the boat and out of the victim's hand. Orendorff vouches for the story by displaying his wounded hand and doctor's bills.

SANTA BARBARA TO REVISE CITY LAWS

SANTA BARBARA, May 16.—Revision of the city charter to remove defects which have caused the City Council considerable difficulty in handling municipal affairs is to be undertaken by that body. It became known today that the Council in informal sessions already has discussed some of the desired changes, and Councilman Laselle Thornburg, an attorney, is drawing up a list of proposed changes.

The Council proposes to submit the changes at an election as soon as they can be put in form, instead of calling for an election of a board of freeholders to make the corrections.

Among the provisions of the charter which have irked members of the Council is one requiring that all municipal work costing more than $500 be let by contract.

DANGLING CHAIN TRIPS CAR

Ontario Police Seek Hit-and-Run Truck Driver After Pair Are Injured in Freak Mishap

ONTARIO, May 16.—When a chain hanging from the rear of a truck became entangled in the front wheel of a touring car as the truck sped by, the touring car somersaulted through the air, severely injuring one of the occupants, and gave the Southern California police another hit-and-run driver to run down. D. A. Guisado of Los Angeles, riding in the light touring car driven by G. J. Maldonado, 242 North Flower street, Los Angeles, was the more severely injured of the two in the queer mishap in West A street at 4:30 a.m. today.

According to Maldonado, he was driving his auto on Valley Boulevard, which is A street in Ontario. A truck passed in the same direction. A chain dangling at the rear of the truck became entangled in the left front wheel of the touring car, causing the machine to hurtle end over end through the air. Dr. W. M. Chapman took several stitches to close one of the wounds in Guisardo's head.

Police were notified the truck failed to stop to render aid, but instead, sped from the scene.

BABY GIRL DROWNS IN FREEZER

Quest for Toy Dropped Into Ice Cream Packer Ends in Tragedy

VENTURA, May 16.—Virginia Torres, 14 months of age, was drowned in an ice cream freezer yesterday, according to word from Piru where the child lived. Coroner Reardon was investigating the case today.

The little girl had been playing with a tobacco can. When the plaything fell into a freezer filled with water that was standing near a hydrant in the Torres yard, she is thought to have reached for the can and toppled in the freezer. No one was near to see the accident and when the child later was missed she was found dead in the water.

It was the heavy outer packer into which the child fell, which explains why it did not tip over as she clambered onto the side. The body was taken to the French and Skillum mortuary at Fillmore in preparation for the burial at Piru this afternoon. The little victim's father is Cruz Torres, a Piru laborer.

School Probes Student Death

PASADENA, May 16.—While school officials were investigating the report of physicians that Elwood Cronk, high-school senior, died as the result of an infection contracted from the floor of the Pasadena High School gymnasium, funeral services for the young gymnast were held today at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale.

Cronk's family declared that he contracted an eye infection when his eyes became suffused with blood as he was doing a hand-stand on the gymnasium floor. He died at his home Monday, and Dr. O. M. Harrah, his physician, reported today that the cause of his death was meningitis.

School authorities are attempting to learn all the facts in connection with the youth's death, and Howard Pattee, head of the city school welfare department, stated that there is no connection with the germs which caused Cronk's death and the "fungus" growth which was said to have been prevalent in the high-school locker compartments several months ago.

Keppel Tells Legal Jokers

GLENDALE, May 16.—The school laws of California have been drawn to safeguard the rights of the minority at the expense of the rights of the majority, declared Mark Keppel, County Superintendent of Schools, in a discussion of the statutes governing the administration of the schools before the Glendale Realty Board today.

"The introduction of 'jokers' into school legislation has resulted in establishing the State education system on minority rule, and this condition calls for change," Keppel said.

The adoption and enforcement of the tenure of office law, however, have proved beneficial to the teaching profession, he asserted, as it is steadily working toward the goal when worthy teachers will be assured permanent positions, while the itinerant teachers who fail to render efficient service for the money expended on them will be eliminated.

Discussing the election of boards of education under the variety of laws in force in the various cities in the State, Keppel advocated that all boards should be elected so that they should be revolving and that only a certain number of the members should be retired from office at any one year.

DATES CHOSEN FOR LAGUNA FESTIVAL

LAGUNA BEACH, May 16.—Dates of the Laguna Beach fiesta have been set for Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 15, 16, 17 and 18, according to an announcement made by Howard Pianalp, president of the fiesta board. No definite plans for the central theme have been made, it is said.

Pianalp sketched tentative schemes for the fiesta. The parade is to be revived on a larger scale than in previous years and the dramatic entertainment is being planned on an elaborate scale, it is said. Cylan Hall has been named chairman of the dramatic section in place of Mrs. W. Rankin, who resigned.

The site has not been selected as yet, however, several locations will be submitted for discussion, Hutchinson said.

NEWPORT BEACH, May 16.—Operation of a bootleg ring employing young boys to sell liquor to dance-hall patrons has been discovered and the ring has been suppressed, according to Chief of Police Rowland Hodgkinson. As the result of the police investigation of the liquor ring, the Chief said that Theodore Carandanis of Newport Beach is under arrest.

Carandanis has been charged with possession of liquor and with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He will be tried next Monday on both charges.

CAFE OWNERS BATTLE CITY

Council's Right to Make Them Pay for Removal of Garbage May Be Contested in Court

SANTA BARBARA, May 16.—Restaurant men of Santa Barbara, as a unit, will oppose the plan of the City Council to force them to dispose of their garbage under the proposed new city ordinance, it was announced today.

C. R. Stock, president of the cafe men's association, declared that the restaurant owners would appear before the City Council to oppose the ordinance, Attorney Major McGregor having been retained at a meeting last night at which eighteen restaurant operators were present.

"Why should we pay the city to have our garbage hauled away," Stock asked, "when C. A. Storke will collect it for his hog ranch free of charge? It seems to us that the demands of the city are unreasonable and we believe that we should not be penalized by an unfair ordinance. Restaurant garbage is the most valuable that can be obtained, and we will oppose any move to make us pay for having it hauled away."

Stock declared that if the proposed ordinance is passed tomorrow afternoon Attorney McGregor will be asked to file suit.

Some time ago the Council made a contract with Rudeen & Beckley, hog-farm operators, by which they agreed to pay $425 per month for all city garbage. This firm now threatens to sue the city because it is not getting all the garbage.

AUTO DRIVERS RUN GAUNTLET

Traffic Cops "Capture" City and Quiz All Motorists Who Happen Along

ONTARIO, May 16.—Ontario was "captured" by State and county traffic police today in a drive launched to see that all automobiles and trucks are properly licensed and that the drivers are complying with the State law. In the group of speed cops were six from the State department and local police. Walter P. Greer, inspector from the State division, is in charge of the squads.

All main thoroughfares were guarded by uniformed traffic officers. Shortly after they started operations this morning a line began forming at police headquarters. The squad expected to continue work here Thursday.

CITY STOPS TAXI DANCE AT POMONA

Council Revokes Permit When High License Fails to Close Hall

POMONA, May 16.—Coming as a sequel to the "battle of the blonds and brunettes," a fistic combat in which four dance-hall girls clashed on a hill near here and were fined $100 each, the City Council today ordered Rose's "Taxi" dance hall closed as a public nuisance.

According to patrons, male dancers were required to pay 10 cents for a forty-five-second "round" with "imported" blond or brunette dancers to the strains of a jazz orchestra. Some of the girls, according to reports, earned $5 to $8 per evening, according to the preferences of the patrons, who ranged in age from 18 years of age up.

Further complaint was caused by reports that Rose is asserted to have conducted private dancing classes after the evening's dance, which ended at midnight. The lessons lasted until the small hours of the morning and police were barred, it was said, the lessons being conducted behind locked doors.

The Council recently passed a new license ordinance, designed to affect such places, which set the daily license fee at $100, but this failed to stop the dance so the Council ordered the place closed immediately and Rose's license revoked. The dance hall was located upstairs at 545 West Second street and drew patronage from over the Pomona Valley.

Architect Dies in Operation

PASADENA, May 16.—Everett Phipps Babcock, Pasadena architect, died suddenly today in the Pasadena Hospital, where he was undergoing a minor operation.

Babcock had not been seriously ill, but because of a slight ailment he went to the hospital this morning to have his tonsils removed. Death is reported to have occurred while he was on the operating table.

He was born in New York City, and won his early recognition as an architect in Tacoma, Wash., and in Portland, Or. Coming to this city five years ago, he became known as the designer of many beautiful homes, and as the architect for the Singer Building at 520 East Colorado street. He was a member of the Annandale Country Club and of several architecural associations.

His widow is Mrs. Clare Delano Babcock of 855 Roselind Road, San Marino. A brother-in-law, H. Louis Delano, lives at 660 South Allen avenue.

Funeral services will be held on Friday at 10 a.m. in the chapel of Turner & Stevens Company. Rufus S. Chase will officiate and interment will be private.

Shave Costs Pioneer $25 at Riverside

RIVERSIDE, May 16.—A barber seldom practices his art upon the countenance of William McMahan, 62-year-old pioneer resident of this city, who wields a razor himself, but yesterday McMahan visited a local shop and ordered a shave, apparently not knowing that local tonsorialists have recently adopted a new and higher scale of rates.

When McMahan was handed a bill for thirty-five cents, he objected loudly and long. And when his vocal protests were unavailing he announced he would not leave the barber's chair until the price of the shave was reduced to what he considered a reasonable charge.

For a time the barbers permitted him to remain in the chair, but when women patrons objected to the torrent of words with which he assailed present-day barber conventions, they summoned the police.

It required two muscular members of the force to remove McMahan from the chair, and a wrestling match is said to have been staged upon the floor of the barber shop before the protesting customer was removed from the premises.

Today, McMahan was fined $25, which he paid without protest.

BIG STRIDES BY CHAMBER

Pasadena Civic Organization Adds 547 Members

Endeavors of Year Revealed at Annual Banquet

Plans for Future Disclosed by New Executives

PASADENA, May 16.—Five hundred and forty-seven new members, said to be the largest increase secured by any chamber of commerce group in California during the last year, were added to the rolls of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce and civic association, according to the year's report which was read at the organization's annual banquet in the Hotel Huntington last night. The annual report was read by William Dunkerley, secretary, who has been re-elected for another two-year term.

LABORS RECOUNTED

Major projects on which the local chamber has devoted its energies were summarized. Due to the efforts of the organization, construction of an eighteen-hole municipal golf course has been started. A preliminary survey of a highway through the Sierra Madre Mountains to Antelope Valley has been completed. This highway will shorten the route north by thirty-five miles.

E. D. Melcher, rate expert on the chamber's pay-roll, aided in securing reduced interurban street-car fares which will net Pasadenans an annual saving of $180,000. Through its work on freight rates, an additional saving of $11,000 on sugar and apple freight charges was assured, it was said.

By adding a news photographer to its staff, the commerce group has been responsible for the insertion of 90,000 pictures in publications throughout the United States.

At the present time the chamber is working to obtain the Areadia balloon school for use by the county as a public park and is sponsoring the El Monte airport project.

The principal address of the evening was made by George M. Lord, an executive of the Western Air Express.

WORKMEN HURT IN FLOUR AVALANCHE

SAN DIEGO, May 16.—Crushed under hundreds of pounds of flour when a huge stack of the sacked commodity toppled over on them, Leslie Mull and Lovere Evans, employees of the Globe A-1 mill, were severely injured here today.

The two men were loading the flour on a truck when the stack buried them. They were rescued by fellow-workers and taken to Mercy Hospital. Mull's injuries were confined to severe bruises, but it was feared Evans may be internally injured.

Absent Judge Upsets Debate Championship

GLENDORA, May 16.—With the junior college debating championship of Southern California at stake, Citrus Union Junior College held a dual debate with Long Beach Junior College last night, but, due to absence of a judge, a decision was not granted. However, if judges decide to determine the victors on the basis of percentages, which were designated preceding the debate, Citrus will be awarded the championship with a total of 933 points, against the Long Beach total of 912.

Bertric Mull and Lucile Reed of Citrus met Margaret O'Connor and Joseph Anakin at Long Beach, where they upheld the negative, while Willis Hawkins and Carl Wright of Citrus defended the affirmative here with Tom Vasey and Ted Russell of the Long Beach School.

The debate subject was: "Resolved, that the Monroe Doctrine as applied by the United States at the present time should be condemned."

Citrus won one out of three judges at Long Beach and two of the three judges here, which evenly divided the count, as Prof. Ramsey Harris of Pomona College was absent, due to illness.

ALBATROSS WILL MAKE THIRD HOP

New Attempt to Break Endurance Record Due to Start Saturday

SANTA ANA, May 16. — The Albatross, constructed by the Zenith Aircraft Company of Midway City, will take off from the Orange County Airport Saturday in its third effort to break the world's endurance flight record.

This became known here today when arrangements were made with the Board of Supervisors to have the runway in shape for the take-off.

The ship will carry three men aloft and will be loaded with 1400 gallons of gasoline. The aviators hope to stay up seventy hours. Two previous attempts by the ship failed to reach the record mark.

San Fernando Flower Show Dates Chosen

SAN FERNANDO, May 16.—The second annual flower show of the San Fernando Valley Horticultural Society will be held Friday and Saturday, June 15 and 16, in the patio of the Porter Hotel here, W. J. Knecht, manager of the show, announced today. The show is expected to bring together hundreds of exhibitors and displays from all parts of Southern California. Last year the show was held in Van Nuys.

The exhibition is expected to attract many flower growers of the valley with displays of floral specialties. Assurance of a display of Armacost's and Royston's orchids has been received, according to Knecht. Other exhibitors will be Dr. A. D. Houghton, who will exhibit some of his rare blooms including the new gladiolus and cacti, the Altman Floral Company of Los Angeles, the Weber Water Gardens, C. L. Milne, president of the society whose display will be made up of gladiolus blooms and new seedlings; the larkspur gardens of Mrs. Quest and Mrs. Toy.

Besides commercial growers there are many amateur growers who are members of the association who will enter their finest blooms and plants. Only members of the horticultural society will be permitted to exhibit, aside from the schools, Knecht said.

IRATE RESIDENTS STOP TREE CUTTING

GLENDALE, May 16.—City park employees who started to trim some of the branches from the eucalyptus trees on Riverdale Drive and Central avenue were stopped when property owners on Riverdale lodged such protests with the city authorities that the work was halted. None of the trees had been cut down, and only the more prominent branches had been trimmed off, but the residents on Riverdale Drive opposed any further action and began a bombardment of the park department and members of the City Council by telephone that continued until the work was stopped.

REORGANIZATION OF CHAMBER PROPOSED

COVINA, May 16.—A movement to reorganize the Chamber of Commerce will take definite form Monday evening when members of the organization and the executive board will convene to outline plans, according to Edwin Jobe, president.

Whether to keep the membership small and have higher dues or smaller dues and a larger membership is one of the vital matters up for decision, Jobe said. The chamber has been inactive for more than a year.

ANNEXATION OPPOSED

Proposal to Annex Costa Mesa to Santa Ana Not Popular, Mass Meeting Discloses

COSTA MESA, May 16.—Any doubt as to the outcome of the election in Costa Mesa Tuesday, at which time the voters of this section will pass upon the proposal to annex to Santa Ana, seemed to have been removed today through the sentiment expressed at a mass meeting here last night. The sentiment was almost unanimous against annexation and hisses were heard when pro-annexationists attempted to defend the proposal to join with the county seat.

An argument between the chairman, W. C. Spencer, leader of the "joining" forces, and Roy Wurtz of the antis was terminated when a resolution was adopted to the effect that there should be no personalities.

At the close of the meeting a motion was made that the meeting go on record as opposed to annexation, but Spencer refused to entertain the motion on the ground that the meeting was not called for that purpose.

In explaining how the annexation got started, Spencer said that several meetings had been held of a group of South Santa Ana citizens and that they went to George Raymer, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, for leadership. Raymer, according to Spencer, explained that his organization had contemplated a much broader annexation program and he advised the Costa Mesa annexationists to wait until the proposal had developed. B. T. Anderson said he had been the original annexation leader and had later conferred with Raymer and Spencer as how to proceed.

The meeting adopted a resolution asking that a letter against annexation written by Col. S. H. Finley, County Supervisor representing Santa Ana, be sent to the Santa Ana paper with a request for publication.

Speakers against annexation included Roy Browning, engineer of the Irvine company; James Irvine, Sr.; LeRoy Anderson, George Waterman, Fred Opp, C. DeWitt, Will Shirley, W. Clark, Mrs. Clark Pinney, Roy Wurtz, C. Van Nest, Lew H. Wallace, G. C. Macleod and several others. The burden of defending the annexation scheme rested with Spencer, Maxwell Burke, C. B. Diehl and John Roeba.

Model's Designer Never Saw Naval Vessel

Tony Fuentes and His Cruiser

FILIPINO BUILDS "WARSHIP"

Exact Miniature of Battle Cruiser Made by Youth Yearning to Be Naval Architect

In a small bedroom in a West Sixth-street hotel a young Filipino, spurred by an ambition to become a naval architect and engineer for the Philippine Islands, has constructed a miniature battle cruiser with an amazing faithfulness to detail.

Tony Fuentes is the young fellow's name. He is 22 years of age. Seven years ago he left the islands and came to the United States. With his imagination fired by pictures of Admiral Dewey's battle craft which loosed the Spanish yoke from his people with a hail of steel at Manila Bay, he conceived the first offering to his ambition.

The wages from his job at a downtown store haven't exactly supplied him with all the luxuries of life, but they have served him in his study and work on the model craft. All his idle cents have been turned into wire, sheet iron, solder, small brass rifles, miniature anti-aircraft guns, lights that burn and motors that whirl the propeller shafts and spin the screws of the model.

TURRET GUNS SWING

Night after night he has burned the lights late, drilling holes, soldering, shaping and framing the little craft until it has become a thorough replica of its deep-sea sisters. The two turrets have rifles that swing and elevate, a battery of smaller weapons line the port and starboard. The blinker signal system is perfect, and she is belted with quarter-inch armor plate, a forbidding warcraft from truck to keel.

The boat is five feet, ten inches long, draws eight inches of water and is ten and one-half inches abeam.

And more remarkable is the fact that Tony hasn't seen any warships, but has gleaned his knowledge from naval architecture textbooks and pictures of battle cruisers. His working hours are too long to permit him to swing his feet from the docks and view the fleet at anchor or even visit a ship.

U.S.S. PHILIPPINES

Tony doesn't know exactly what fortune will permit him to continue his naval studies, but that is immaterial just now when he can lock himself in the little room and create a model and temporarily appease an ambition. He hopes to have his craft ready for launching on Westlake Park Lake next Sunday. The new brass plates astern name the ship the U.S.S. Philippines.

"We are always grateful to America," he says, "but some day she will grant us independence. Then we will need great strong fighting ships like those of the Stars and Stripes, and I want to hel; build them. I must learn how."

But there is no despair in his voice.

Pair Part as Paperhanging Poisons Peace

Paper was being hung, according to the divorce complaint Mrs. Eva M. Summers filed yesterday against William F. Summers. Technically, the paper-hanging was a community venture, but actually, Mrs. Summers related, she was doing all the walking about on planks laid across shaky barrels and her spouse was aiding with sound advice.

One of the planks teetered and Mrs. Summers slipped. One leg fell into a barrel and Mrs. Summers says she was badly hurt.

Eventually they took her to a hospital for an operation and Summers, calling on her there, opined out loud that she was not really ill, but that what she needed most was to calm her mind, she says.

It was all a course of cruelty, Mrs. Summers asserts.

Mystery Brew Blamed in Death

A mysterious black broth which he had brewed and which he shared with a friend caused the death of Nick Kakaras, 45 years of age, at the Hill-street Receiving Hospital on Tuesday, the 1st inst. This was announced by Police Chemist Walsh yesterday, following a chemical analysis of the fluid found by Detective Lieutenant Shannon of the homicide squad, who investigated. Walsh expressed belief that the brew had been made from poisonous herbs. Whether or not it was with suicidal intent has not been determined.

According to police, Kakaras and a friend named L. Lazarades, both became violently ill after they drank the potion at Kakaras's home, 819 South Wall street. Both were taken to the Hill-street Receiving Hospital, where Kakaras died within a few hours. The other victim was taken to the General Hospital, where he still is in a serious condition, according to hospital physicians, but probably will recover.

Kakaras's death was attributed by the Coroner to unknown causes and the investigation will not be reopened, so far as could be learned yesterday.

ATTORNEY LEAVES FOR COUNCIL MEET

Volney P. Mooney, Los Angeles member of the Government Special Legal Council, left yesterday for Washington, D. C., for the regular session there of the Federal Board. Attorney Mooney is one of the three western representatives on the special council of fifteen appointed by the American Bar Association to serve in an advisory capacity. The council meets three or four times a year to clear up entanglements in the various bureaus and to be given interpretations of laws.

DEFENSE IN BANK THEFT WINS POINT

Judge Refuses to Admit Confession Without Proof in $59,000 Hold-up Case

The defense scored a point yesterday in the trial of seven men accused of the $59,000 hold-up of two messengers for the Pacific National Bank, when Judge Edmonds ruled against the admission of the purported confession of one of the men on trial.

Judge Edmonds based his ruling on the theory that the prosecution failed to establish evidence of a conspiracy to rob the bank messengers, and he advised Dep. Dist.-Attys. Aggeler and Clarke that such evidence will have to be produced before the purported confession can be read to the jury.

Adjournment was taken to this morning, when the State will attempt to clear the way for putting the document in the record.

Those on trial on charges of conspiracy to rob and robbery of the bank messengers, are Charles Swafford, H. L. Cokes, Arthur Clensey, Horace M. Miles, William Woods, Julius Becker and Malcolm Jones.

Headed by S. S. Hahn, Griffith Jones and Stanley Visel, the entire battery of defense attorneys joined in opposing the admission of the asserted confession.

Two Arrested in Raid on Still

Two men were arrested and a large amount of supplies for asserted manufacture of alcohol confiscated when Federal prohibition agents under Assistant Administrator Peters and Deputy Sheriff Burt Hastings raided a place at 11921 Mulholland Road, near San Fernando, early yesterday.

In addition to finding a 100-gallon still in operation, together with 6500 gallons of mash, on the premises, the officers say, a truck drove into the place while the raid was on containing large quantities of sugar, yeast and empty five-gallon cans.

Pedro Disdaco and Lenneth Parkins, found in the place, were booked at the County Jail on a charge of manufacturing liquor.

PIONEER NATIVE SON DEAD

D. F. Lehigh Practiced Law Here Many Years; Services Will be Saturday

Funeral services will be conducted at the Little Church of the Flowers at Forest Lawn Cemetery Saturday at 1:30 p.m. for Daniel F. Lehigh, 81 years of age, who died at his home, 846 South Westlake avenue, yesterday morning after a two months' illness. Bishop W. B. Stevens will officiate and Pierce Brothers are in charge of funeral arrangements.

Mr. Lehigh was one of the oldest native sons of California. He was born at Fort Sutter, February 3, 1847. When a young man he entered the employ of the Western Union Telegraph Company in San Francisco and remained with that organization until 1866.

He left San Francisco and resided in Fort Vancouver, Wash., for two years, and then went to Portland, where he became superintendent of the Oregon Steamship and Navigation Company, and later became superintendent for the Western Union Telegraph Company for the northwest division, which included Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

In 1873 he married Mary A. Harvey, grand-daughter of Dr. John McLoughlin, president of the Hudson Bay Company, with headquarters at Fort Vancouver, and who also was known historically as the "Father of Oregon."

In 1890 he again returned to San Francisco, where for many years he was superintendent of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

He moved to Los Angeles in 1904 and thereafter for many years practiced law, his son, J. Vincent Lehigh, becoming associated with him in 1910.

His sister, Isabella J. Norris, who came to California in a covered wagon in 1845, died in April, 1926. He also lost his son, William F. Lehigh, a prominent real estate operator, in 1926.

WATER BILL DISCUSSED BY SWING

Effect on Riparian Rights Explained in Talk Before City Club Members

Speaking in favor of Amendment No. 27, to be voted on at the next California State election, Ralph E. Swing, State Senator from the Thirteenth District, told members of the City Club yesterday that the proposed measure, while in the interest of the public, guarantees protection to riparian rights.

"The amendment merely declares a policy which would make it possible for the State to divert and impound for public use the water which now is wasted by riparian owners," said Mr. Swing. "It takes no rights from the riparian owner but it denies him the power of injunction which at present is often used at the expense of the rights and progress of the people.

"A municipality now has the right to condemn private property for public improvements and to make compensation later, and the State amendment simply seeks to apply the same policy in dealing with riparian owners," said the speaker.

"There are many who advocate the limitation of riparian owners' rights by the exercise of the police powers of the State and the condemnation of private property without compensation to owners but I hope such a soviet doctrine never will be written into the law of this State," the speaker stated. "The answer to the question is to be found in Amendment No. 27."

In Step with West Coast Industries

The Far West does as it is done by. Since 1907, Broderick & Bascom Ropes have helped our Coast industries grow: logging, drilling, shipping, mining, building, quarrying, dredging, have all been speeded by the steel muscles of B. & B. Ropes.

Conversely, West Coast industries have made Broderick & Bascom's business grow. The past year's output establishes a new peak for the company. This was not accomplished by any special sales drive, by price cutting or change of policy. It is simply the inevitable result of producing a full line of high grade, dependable wire ropes; of pricing them fairly; of giving helpful advice to users; of cheerfully giving rush service when rush service is necessary.

The Broderick & Bascom factory at Seattle is devoted solely to manufacturing wire rope—not wire. Whether it is imported Swedish steel wire for Yellow Strand, or iron wire for ship's rigging, we select our stock with utmost care, rejecting flatly any wire that deviates from our specifications. Hence B. & B. Ropes are uniformly good.

Fifty years of wire rope making—twenty-one years on the Pacific Coast—supply an asset of knowledge and experience, valuable to any wire rope user.

B. & B. Ropes have been made in Seattle for over 20 years to serve the West Coast industries, economically and promptly, with high grade wire ropes of all kinds for all purposes; also to manufacture and deliver, on extremely short notice, special ropes for special purposes.

GOOD MAN, SPARE THAT HAIR!

Art Says "Cut It," but Actress Balks

Dolores Del Rio and Her Famous Tresses

DOLORES DEL RIO thinks the idea is heart-breaking.

Edwin Carewe, her director, believes it must be done for the sake of realism in pictures.

The argument, which came to light yesterday, is whether the Mexican screen actress must permit her much-talked-about hair to be shorn for art's sake.

A story which she now is filming under Carewe's direction calls for the hero to grab the beautiful Dolores by the hair, whip out his dagger and cut off her tresses for revenge.

Inwardly both Carewe and the actress feel it is "just too bad," if her locks are severed and they now are deliberating to find some way so that Miss Del Rio can escape the actual hair-cutting and still present it in a realistic way. Carewe was all set to go through with the actual shearing, but Dolores balked.

The director may win his point yet but Miss Del Rio long has been a long-hair advocate and as she is one of the few stars who has long tresses the odds are all in her favor.

Mrs. Cora Ehler yesterday filed a contest of the will of Gerd Ehler, who died April 10, 1927, wherein she charges that his children by another marriage had turned him against her so that he left all of his $350,000 estate to them. The will was drawn in 1926, when the decedent was 72 years of age.

SITE URGED IN EL MONTE FOR AIRPORT

San Gabriel Valley Files Plea With Supervisors for New Location

Resolutions asking the Board of Supervisors to buy the El Monte airport site of 960 acres were adopted by the directors of the San Gabriel Valley Associated Chambers of Commerce at a meeting at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce board room yesterday afternoon.

The San Gabriel association, representing twenty-two cities in the valley, through the resolution pointed out that the site northeast of El Monte would serve Los Angeles as well as the San Gabriel Valley and Pasadena, which has already requested the Supervisors to purchase it.

Features of the El Monte site brought to the attention of the Supervisors are that it has a runway of more than one mile, that the Pacific Electric has offered to deliver mail into the Arcade station from the site in twenty-two minutes, and that it has available adjacent territory of more than 700 acres for development of aviation industries.

JURORS SEE CITY HALL

Mayor Cryer and Building Manager Rodgers of the City Hall escorted the grand jury on a tour of the new edifice yesterday. The jurors made a complete inspection, examining the structure from the Lingbergh beacon on the apex of the tower to the 500-car garage in the basement.

RISE IN COUNTY TAXES PLANNED

Additional Levy of 4 Cents Considered by Board

More Finances Needed for Completing Hospital

Supervisors Find $4,572,000 More Necessary

An addition of 4 cents to the county tax levy to cover the cost of the new General Hospital appeared probable yesterday as the Board of Supervisors faced their annual task of drawing up the budget. An equal item in the 1929 levy, and a 6-cent levy in 1930 also were foreseen.

The building, for which $5,000,000 in bonds were voted by the electors several years ago, is going to cost $9,260,000. Of the bond fund, $312,000 has been spent on hospital buildings for the county farm, leaving only $4,688,000 available for the General Hospital. Thus there remains to be raised the sum of $4,572,000, and a tax levy appears to be the only feasible method of raising it.

Last Monday the board announced that it had approved all plans for completion of the hospital, on which work was started more than a year ago. The structural steel job is finished. The plans for completion, as announced by the board, contemplate splitting the schedule into five units and doing part of the work each year. Instead of letting one general contract it was decided to divide the work into twenty-six portions and advertise for bids on each portion.

In explanation of this the board states that it is felt more competition will be stirred up because of the large number of companies able to bid on small jobs, as compared with those financially capable of contracting for the whole.

No statement was made, however, as to how the completion is to be financed.

In an effort to avoid increasing the total levy for the year, it is probable that the appropriation for extension of the museum will be left out of the budget altogether, or slashed to a small figure.

Highest Railway Official of All World Arrives

Manager of the highest railroad in the world is William Pickwoad, who came in from La Paz, Bolivia yesterday on the Panama Mail liner Ecuador.

WILLIAM PICKWOAD

It is the Antofagasta, Chile and Bolivia Railroad, traversing 3000 miles through the Andes and attaining 16,000 feet altitude at Condor, Bolivia, in its service to nitrate and copper mines and the greatest tin mine in the world.

La Paz also boasts the highest golf course in the world at 13,500 feet and it is in use the year around, according to Pickwoad. He is president of the Strangers' Club, supporting agency of the course.

After four days in Los Angeles Mr. Pickwoad will proceed across Canada and sail for his old home in London, which he left a score of years ago to scale the heights, both professionally and altitudinously.

ALUMNI LIBRARY FUND GIFTS GROW

San Francisco alumni reported $2055; New York, $1260; Torrance, $1490; Glendale, $4090, and Long Beach, $3710. The total for the fund now in hand is $140,709.

The work will continue until every alumnus has had the opportunity to make a gift, A. J. Hill, Los Angeles chairman, stated at the meeting yesterday. The next report meeting is to be made at the Alexandria Hotel, the 22nd inst.

BARBERS "AIDE" "LIFTS" WATCH

Asserted Ex-Convict Facing Prison for Posing as Tonsorial Artist

While substituting for a barber, Earl Vaughn, asserted ex-convict, "lifted" a watch from Pat Riley, 536½ Crocker street, according to testimony given yesterday in Judge Burnell's court. As a result, Vaughn was convicted of grand theft and faces a penitentiary term of from one to ten years.

According to Riley he entered a barber shop in search of a little tonsorial going-over and Vaughn donned a barber's jacket to relieve the regular operator of the shop. When the shave was ended the essence of witch hazel lingered on, but Vaughn and Pat's watch were gone.

LARGESS OF HIS LAWYER AVERTS JAIL

H. C. Merritt, Jr., Cited on Contempt in Alimony Case Lacks $401 Ordered

As between Hulett C. Merritt, Jr., and the Superior Court and the County Jail, life is just one "munificence" after another.

When Mrs. Lou Merritt obtained a divorce Merritt agreed to pay her alimony of $1100 a month. On April 1 he became delinquent. Haled into court he explained that the only income he could rely on was a salary of $1250 a month, and that he had been able to keep up his alimony only by reason of the munificence of his father. But the paternal munificence had worn thin, Merritt said, so there he was in court.

Judge Yankwich found that Merritt's income was indeed only $1250 a month, and that he could not be expected to live on less than $450 a month. Thus he ought to have been able to pay $1600 at least on the alimony order for April and May.

"And the order will be that the defendant pay $401.33 forthwith or be held in the County Jail for two days as punishment for contempt," Judge Yankwich ruled.

Merritt did not have $401.33. Attorney Heid finally decided to get munificent. Counsel for Mrs. Merritt graciously consented to take Heid's check, so Merritt did not have to go to the jail.

TRANSFER APPROVAL

On recommendation of the Finance Committee, the Council yesterday authorized the transfer from the reserve fund of $4200 to cover the installation cost for the telephone exchange in the City Hall. The matter now goes to the Mayor for approval.

FRAME-UP TALE DISCLAIMED

Attorney for Woman Insanity Suspect Declares No Accusations Made Against Millionaire

Mrs. Helethea Murray, held in the psychopathic ward at the General Hospital on a charge of suspicion of insanity and intoxication, will be arraigned at 10 a.m. today before Superior Judge Gould, according to her attorney, Dwight Reay.

Reports that Mrs. Murray, or Kath, as she declares her name is, had made charges of a "frame-up" in her arrest, and had named a Southern California millionaire as the cause of her detention for examination as to her sanity, were denied by Attorney Reay yesterday. Chief of Detectives Cline, after an investigation of reports of oppression, peculiar tactics, missing letters and valuable jewelry, in connection with the arrest of the woman, declared that his office was not concerned with the further conduct of the case.

CLINE'S OFFICE THROUGH

"I have discussed the arrest of Mrs. Murray or Kath, as she is now reported to call herself, with Detective Lieutenants Anderson and McMahan," Cline said, "and as far as this office is concerned the case is closed. If the reports that are credited to the arrested woman are true, and she so desires, there is perhaps a civil action possible, but there have been no charges of false arrest, 'frame-up,' unfair detention, missing letters, diamond rings disappearing, and romance with a millionaire, made to my office. I understand Attorney Reay will represent the woman at her arraignment, and until she makes some specific charge, or her attorney places information of wrong-doing in my hands, our work is through. I suppose these reports will be brought out at the arraignment."

Attorney Reay spent some time yesterday conferring with Mrs. Murray at the hospital and late yesterday denied that his client or himself had made any charges against the police in connection with the arrest in the case. "A large portion of the report that serious charges have been made by my client are a fabrication, as far as I am able to discover now. I expect Mrs. Elizabeth Kath, 655 Eddy street, San Francisco, mother of the detained woman, and a sister to be here today for the insanity and acute alcoholism arraignment. Until the hearing neither myself nor my client desire to make any statement in connection with the arrest and the reports of a romance," Reay said.

ARRESTED AT HOTEL

According to police investigators, Mrs. Murray was registered at a downtown hotel, arriving the 10th inst. She became excited, nervous and hysterical in the hotel corridors and lobby. They were summoned to the hotel and made efforts to quiet Mrs. Murray, but were unable to do so, and after consulting her physician it was decided to send her to the hospital for observation.

She was placed in the observation ward Tuesday afternoon. At the time of the arrest the police report said that Mrs. Murray was the divorced wife of a San Jose man, the mother of a child, and was living on a $1000 monthly alimony.

CONFERENCE ARRANGED

The second annual conference of the Southern California Council on International Relations will be conducted on the 19th inst., in the Community Church of La Canada Valley. Speakers will include F. J Libby, executive secretary, and Dr. Loyal L. Wirt, western secretary of the National Council for Prevention of War.

CORRIGAN'S REPUTATION AFFIRMED

Witnesses in Libel Suit Declare Actor Known as Disturbing Factor

Defense witnesses yesterday in the court of United States District Judge Henning told of the subsurface war that raged during the stage production of "What Price Glory?" in the $100,000 libel suit of Emmett Corrigan against Louis O. Macloon and Lillian A. Macloon, producers of the show, based on an asserted letter of Mrs. Macloon which referred to the actor as a "notorious trouble maker."

Among the witnesses was Ed Russell, stage manager of the play, who testified that Corrigan was a "notorious trouble maker;" that he was impolite, and that on two occasions he had kicked an actor as the latter left the stage.

Russell said that Corrigan refused to share his train seat with others and that he "crabbed the show" by going to the footlights and by making noises off-stage. Albert Roccordi, an actor of the old school, told the jury how he had been kicked twice by Corrigan as he finished his "business" on the stage.

The case will be resumed today.

Use Cycol and avoid frequent valve-grinding. This oil with "endurance beyond belief" reduces carbon trouble.

Stability The New Cycol will stand the hardest kind of usage. It is refined to meet the severest conditions of heat and pressure developed by the modern high compression engines, assuring you an unbroken oil film where heat, pressure and friction are greatest.

No Acids The new Cycol refining process eliminates the use of acids, though most refiners use them. While acids clear the "crude oil" they chemically change its structure and composition, thus seriously cutting its lubricating value.

Such oils break down under engine temperatures. They distill off and escape as vapor through the breather exhaust.

The new refining process of Cycol is different in every respect. It selects from the "crude" those elements of greatest lubricating value and stability in performance, rejecting at the same time those elements which readily break down under engine heat and cause excessive carbon deposits.

So Cycol gives a protective oil film on cylinder walls and moving parts, not vapor at the breather pipe.

Less Carbon As to carbon, Cycol like all other oils deposits some carbon. But it deposits less carbon than any other oil. The most exhaustive tests have proven that statement.

And even more important, the carbon that is deposited by Cycol is soft and easily removable. It is not hard or sticky and cannot scratch a cylinder.

Prove it Yourself For these reasons you will find that Cycol gives you the finest results you have ever known—more perfect lubrication, "endurance beyond belief" and the elimination of carbon troubles.

So fill your crank case with Cycol. You can identify it by the new transparent green-gold color.

Sold wherever the Associated Gasoline and Cycol Motor Oil signs are shown.

PAINTING OF NELL GWYN REPRODUCED

Artist Copies Masterpiece Owned by Pasadenan

AN EXACT reproduction of Nell Gwyn, the famous painting of the mistress of King Charles II of England, by Sir John Lelly, has just been completed by Emil Fiorhi, Hollywood artist, for William J. Arkell, an eastern capitalist, who intends to hang the painting in the public library at Canajorhie, N. Y.

The original of the masterpiece is in the private collection of Joseph Pilt of Pasadena, and it was through his courtesy that the copy was made. According to Fiorhi, the copy after having aged a number of years will be extremely difficult to distinguish from the original.

In addition to making copies of many masterpieces, Fiorhi, who for years was art editor of Leslie and Judge magazines, has made original paintings of practically every motion-picture celebrity in Hollywood. His daughter Virginia is widely known to radio fans.

LOVE PERJURY DENOUNCED

Bride Faces Prosecution for Giving False Age; Judge Says Practice Leads to Divorce

Superior Court judges are becoming exasperated over the large number of minors who perjure themselves in obtaining marriage licenses, and later come into court asking for annulment of their marriages.

One of the first steps to halt the practice was taken yesterday by Judge Frank Collier when he asked the District Attorney's office to issue a perjury complaint against Barbara Geary, 18 years of age, who came into his court seeking to have her marriage with Patrick J. Geary annulled on the grounds she was only 16 years of age at the time of her marriage.

"I told the marriage clerk that I had been born in 1907 instead of in 1909," Mrs. Geary told the judge.

"Why did you do that?" Judge Collier asked.

"Oh, Mr. Geary told me to," Mrs. Geary answered.

The judge said:

"If the three-day intention law had been in force then, this might not have happened. I think the law should be extended—say a week instead of three days. Then there would not be so many annulments and divorces."

Mrs. Geary asserted her husband had deserted her. She said he is now a soldier in the United States Army, serving in Alaska.

The District Attorney's office has the complaint and is making an investigation. In 1925, under the law governing the application for a marriage license, only the man filled it out and swore to it. There may be a technicality because of this in the present case that will protect the young woman, lawyers say.

ATTACKS BY DOGS GROW PERILOUSLY

Mounting Toll of Folks, Mainly Children, Bitten Alarms Authorities

A rapid increase in the number of persons in Los Angeles bitten by dogs is recorded by the city health department, which reported fifty persons, mainly children, bitten during a ten-day period ending last Saturday morning. Saturday, Sunday and Monday the number reported to Dr. George Parrish, City Health Officer, was thirty-two, most of them youngsters. This makes a total of eighty-two bitten in Los Angeles in thirteen days as reported to the health department.

Wherever possible the dogs are being placed in quarantine. During the first ten days eight were found to be affected with rabies and seventeen persons bitten by them are under pasteur treatment.

Dr. Fred B. Gage, veterinarian with the health department, is working sixteen hours daily in quarantining animals suspected of having rabies. A number, believed to be stray animals, are still at large

It was explained that the only hope of saving a person afflicted as the result of the bite of a dog with rabies is to get the treatment started in time, as it usually does not show up until ten days afterward, when the condition of the patient may be too serious for assistance.

NATION EYES SOUTHWEST GAMES HERE

Success of Finance Plan Back of Olympic Finals Declared Important

Nation-wide interest is shown in the Southwest Olympic finals to be held at the Coliseum in this city on June 16, it was stated yesterday by Robert S. Weaver, president of the Southwest Olympic Games committee. A principal reason for the interest, it is explained, is the fact that in 1932 the international Olympic Games will be held in California and it is felt that the Southwest finals will give an indication of what Los Angeles may be able to do four years hence.

This interest, Weaver said, is not confined to the track-and-field contests of June 16, but extends to the amount of the fund that will be raised by means of the carnival. If the full $75,000 quota assigned the Southwest by the American Olympic committee is realized, and also the desired $25,000 for expenses of the section's athletes at the American finals at Boston and at the games at Amsterdam, complete assurance will be afforded that California will be able to take care of the international games of 1932.

Active sale of tickets to the public was reported yesterday by B. H. Dyas Company. At Olympic Games committee headquarters, 116 West Washington street, mail orders were being received from all parts of the coast.

SUN BECKONS HOME VISITORS

Mrs. Coler to Talk Again This Afternoon

Collector Will Lecture on Persian Rugs

Piano Recitals Added to Daily Program

BY VALERIE WATROUS

Southern California sunshine again beckoned thousands of visitors to the Los Angeles Times Demonstration Home yesterday.

The view was especially charming from the cafe that lies back of The Times Demonstration Home. This bit of Southern Europe is of Mark Daniels's designing, and is one of the most unusual places to dine in the whole of Los Angeles county.

Many favorable comments concerning the home and its furnishings were heard in the different rooms. One group was especially interested in the treatment given the antiquated metal rods from which the stately Chinese handwoven wool draperies are hung in the entrance hall. The ends of these rods have been tinted to harmonize with the ceiling, which Mrs. Bertha T. Coler insists is the "ceiling with a soul."

RUG LECTURE SCHEDULED

Mrs. Coler will talk to guests at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the living-room. This is the second of her series of talks on the home and its furnishings, a subject with which she is thoroughly familiar, since she has spent the last twenty-five years supplying beautiful window draperies, lamps, objects of art and other accessories to splendid new houses and in the refurnishing of homes not so new.

During the past six years Mrs. Coler has had a studio in the administration building of the Pacific Palisades on Beverly Boulevard. In that time she has equipped many homes in the Santa Monica Bay District, and it was in this studio that the draperies and lamps in The Times Demonstration Home were designed and made.

N. S. Hanief, who has spent his life in the study and acquisition of fine oriental rugs, and who has been known to the residents of Los Angeles for thirty years, will give an informal talk on rugs at 3 p.m. tomorrow in the living-room of the Demonstration Home.

PIANO RECITALS ADDED

Jack Rennick is scheduled to speak again on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. As a designer of hand-carved furniture he holds first place and his presentation of his subject is interesting. During the coming week an additional type of entertainment will be offered in the programs now being arranged by the Southern California Music Company. There will be piano recitals twice during the last week. The home is scheduled to close Sunday, the 27th inst., this coming Sunday being the last but one of the showing.

The house is open from 11 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. every day. Charming organ recitals are given on the Artcraft pipe organ in the living-room and a special juvenile recital for this coming Saturday afternoon also has been arranged.

Beverly Boulevard is the route most easily followed to the home. Miramar Estates lies above this boulevard at a point about 1000 feet from where it meets the sea. The road up to the Demonstration Home is wide and well paved, and an easy grade all th eway.

ROSENKRANZ SEEKS FUND FOR APPEAL

Needs of Jewish Youths Set Forth in Plea for Generous Response

Judge Elias V. Rosenkranz, vice-chairman of the United Jewish Appeal to raise $200,000 for the reconstruction of national and international Jewish works and president of the Jewish Educational Association of Los Angeles, yesterday called upon the Jewish community to respond to the local campaign.

JUDGE ROSENKRANZ

"In the name of human justice it is imperative that the United Jewish Appeal, ministering to millions of worthy Jewish people in the United States and abroad through the institutions represented in this appeal, achieve the financial aim for which it has been inaugurated, so that the work of rehabilitation, begun a number of years ago by American Jews for the sake of their brethren here and abroad, be carried to a successful conclusion," he said.

"The Jewish Educational Association aims to promote the education of the Jewish youth in the religion, traditions and general history of the Jewish people. We feel that we are building for better American citizens by inculcating in the Jewish youth a knowledge and respect of his tradition, so that he can better meet the problem of being a good citizen in the community in which he lives."

New Charges Facing Bright

Lawrence J. Bright, whose testimony resulted in Moses Davis, Los Angeles attorney, being fined $500 and sentenced to serve five days in the County Jail for contempt of court recently, yesterday was charged with conspiracy to commit robbery in a complaint issued by the District Attorney's office.

Bright originally was tried on a charge of robbery for the same offense but was acquitted. His asserted partner, William Massengale, was convicted and sentenced to San Quentin.

BISHOP JOHNSON PASSES BEYOND

the Episcopal Church in 1912, since which time it has become one of the great boys' schools of the Episcopal Church. He founded the Bishop's School for Girls at La Jolla, in which enterprise he was generously assisted by the Misses Ellen B. and E. Virginia Scripps. To these and other institutions, the Neighborhood Settlement, the Church Home for Children and the Home for the Aged, he gave himself unsparingly, as he did to the development of the church's life.

INCREASE FOURFOLD

During the years of his episcopate the number of churches has been increased by four times.

Bishop Johnson also was deeply interested in all that pertained to the welfare of the community. For a short time after his arrival, he lived in Los Angeles, but he subsequently built a home in Pasadena. Pomona College was also an object of his affection, and for many years he had served as vice-president of the board of trustees. He also was an incorporator of the recently formed Claremont Colleges. He was a member of the Sons of the American Revolution, the Society of Colonial Wars, the St. Nicholas Society, the California Club, the Los Angeles Athletic Club, the University Club of Los Angeles and the Valley Hunt Club and the University Club of Pasadena.

KNEW CALIFORNIA

He knew Southern California and the people of Southern California as few men do. The fact that he resided here for so many years and had traveled so constantly in every corner of this part of the State gave him a very intimate knowledge of California and of its citizenry.

Bishop Johnson was honored with the degree of doctor of divinity by Nashotan and by his alma mater, the General Theological Seminary in New York City.

He represented the best traditions of the Episcopal Church, he was scholarly and clear-cut in his theological and social opinions and yet was distinctly human in his attitude toward people and events. He was a great traveler and spent many of his summers in Europe.

SUCCESS MARKS SPORTS DINNER

saps to pay $100 just so Walter Hagen can get it.

"The members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce are a lot of fellows who couldn't get into the old chamber because they are young and have a conscience. I like to go out with the juniors because they are so youthful and aren't so incompetent as those old fellows.

"Now, this dinner reminds me of a dinner McAdoo gave about a year ago right in this same hotel. It was a sort of benefit for the four Democrats and it cost $100 a plate, too. I ran in during the meal and McAdoo gave me a nice introduction. He didn't know about me and Smith then. I was just about to start talking when the meat course came in. It was squab. Charlie did better for them. You'll notice we only had steak. I thought when I saw that squab, will they listen to me? And when they saw that squab at $100 a plate I didn't have a chance. That's the reason this time I arranged with Durward Howes not to bring me on until the meal was finished."

STOCK SELLING RECORD

"Now, lets be real confidential. I don't see any outsiders so I propose we have one banquet and not tell about the climate. We really don't have championship tournaments here except in stock selling. We can sell more stock to the amount issued than any other place in the world. Will any one here not connected with the Julian stock please walk out. There's a waiter sneaking out but I don't see any one else. I'll tell you why they charged $100 a plate for this meal. It was to keep the real-estate element out and by the looks of things we have succeeded."

Seated at the speakers' table with Mr. Rogers were William May Garland and E. P. Clark. Others at the table were Everett H. Seaver president of the Southern California Golf Association; Robert Weaver, president of the Southern California Olympic Games committee; Carlton Burke, captain of the Midwick polo team; George L. Eastman, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Mayor Cryer, Durward Howes and Lew Wentz.

While the amount of money netted from the banquet did not quite meet the expectations of the junior chamber Mr. Howes said that it has supplied an ample foundation from which to assure success to the winter sports program.

WOOING STORY FALSE, MARRIAGE ANNULLED

Mrs. Bertha E. Rhynsburger testified before Judge J. A. Smith yesterday that she was beguiled into a marriage with William J. Rhynsburger when he told her he was a physician with a large practice, had ample means to support her, so she would not have to work, and was identified with the large affairs of Los Angeles. Later, she asserted, she learned he was an osteopath without practice. Also, she said, he had little or no means, for once when he invited her out for dinner she discovered he had only four cents in his pocket. She asked that the marriage be annulled and return of her maiden name, Bertha Nobis. Her plea was granted.

KANSANS TO REVEL

Arrangements are being completed by Harry L. Buttrey, president, for the annual picnic of the Wellington (Kan.) Association of Southern California in Ganesha Park, Pomona, on June 3, next.

MEXICO TRAVEL-ERA PREDICTED

German Minister Foresees Vast Development

California Marvels Given Praise by Visitor

Green Lawns Great Relief, Says Eugen Will

Extensive tourist travel is one of the coming developments of the near future in Mexico, according to Eugen Will, German Minister to Mexico, who, with his wife, is stopping for a few days in Los Angeles on a tour of California.

"For those who love nature, art and things of archeological interest Mexico cannot be excelled, except possibly by California," Mr. Will said last night at the Hershey Arms Hotel.

"The only drawback to Mexico, from the tourist's standpoint, is that good hotels are generally found only in the large cities, where they are, indeed, excellent. However, there is a widespread interest in developing high class tourist accommodations, particularly on the west coast, and during the last year a decided increase, especially in the number of visitors from the United States, has been noted."

This was attributed by Mr. Will to the great drawing power of the Aztec and other pre-Cortezian art, the beauties of tropical vegetation, historical interest of the colonial ruins and the picturesque native life.

"Only in California have I found anything to equal life in Mexico," Mr. Will continued. "In times past I have traveled through all the States except California and I now find it to be the most marvelous of all. Hollywood is of particular interest to me because so many of its buildings have been erected with excellent artistic taste, and to see green lawns once again is very refreshing."

Mr. Will refused to comment on affairs of state, saying that he is on vacation and it would not be proper for him to mention them. He and Mrs. Will will leave in a few days to visit Yosemite, Santa Barbara, Monterey, Carmel and San Francisco, and will return here for a short time before resuming his duties in Mexico.

MAIL ORDER EXECUTIVE VISITS CITY

Vice-President Rosenwald of Sears, Roebuck on First Get-Acquainted Trip

Visiting the Coast for the first time and "just to get acquainted and with no future plans to announce," L. J. Rosenwald, vice-president of Sears Roebuck Company, arrived here yesterday from Chicago.

L. J. ROSENWALD

"Grips as yet unstrapped; expect to be here a week; tremendously enthused with what we have seen thus far; anticipate additional stores in Los Angeles and at various points on the Coast by the company, but just giving it the once over," was the laconic greeting of the executive of the big concern, at the Biltmore.

Mr. Rosenwald is accompanied by his wife, who promised to bring on their next visit to Los Angeles their 14-year-old son, and their twins, a boy and a girl.

L. J. ROSENWALD

"Our company is entirely satisfied with the success of the Los Angeles investment and general business conditions throughout the nation are very fair, although a greater volume of sales is necessary over a year ago owing to the sharp reductions that have taken place in "commodities," said Mr. Rosenwald. He has been with his corporation seventeen years.

Letter Blames Family Row for Disappearance

Dan McDaniels, 24 years of age, vice-president of the McDaniels Feed Markets of 313 King Court, El Monte, was not kidnaped when he disappeared from his home Monday night, but left home because of family troubles, deputy sheriffs revealed yesterday. They found that the missing man had written to a friend and told of his troubles.

The letter was written to W. A. Sewell, 2047 Del Mar avenue, Wilmar, and reads as follows:

"Sewell: Look after dad's folks. Family troubles have driven me away. I couldn't stand it any longer. Dan."

The letter was mailed in Los Angeles Monday, according to Deputy Sheriffs Modle and Crousborn, who investigated the case.

License Plate Change Denied

Automobile license plates to be issued in 1929 will not be made with the numbers in a vertical position, as had been reported, according to Frank G. Snook of the Division of Motor Vehicles.

In reply to a message from the Automobile Club of Southern California, the official sent a telegram to the club yesterday denying the report.

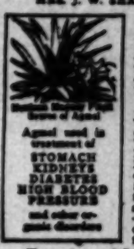
"Blood Pressure Made Me Sick and Unhappy"

"MISERABLE is the only word I can use to describe my feelings. Couldn't eat, had dizzy spells, slept fitfully, got up many times every night. On my doctor's orders, I took Agmol faithfully for a month. Then everything was changed. My blood pressure was 60 degrees lower, appetite returned and kidneys 100% better."

MRS. J. W. SHANE, Los Angeles.



Agmol is not a medicine, but a natural raw health food from Mexico—the sap of the Maguey plant unchanged except for removal of water without cooking. Rich in vitamins, minerals, yeasts. Tastes delicious. Non-alcoholic. Maguey sap used centuries in Mexico. Now world-famous. Thousands praise Agmol and letters and other free literature at druggists.

THE POSITION SEEKS THE MAN

The man we want is probably well employed or retired at the present time. If employed he will be earning upwards of $200 per month. He is successful—But not entirely satisfied. And if he answers this ad he will be prepared to prove to our satisfaction that he is thrifty, dependable and trustworthy and will have a mighty good reason for wanting to make a change.

He will not object to our close scrutiny of his Activities and personal habit. He will own a good automobile and wear good clothes and will expect to continue in the ownership of worthwhile necessities and luxuries.

To the man who can and will fill the above requirements we offer a connection with one of the strong and most successful corporations of its kind in Southern California—it is sales work of the highest type. This Corporation has consummated over $6,000,000 in Sales during the past twelve months.

The man whom we select will get a SALES EXECUTIVE POSITION and will be guaranteed a Salary of

PLUS A BONUS

With a contract for one year subject to extension providing we like the position properly.

We are not particular as to what you did in the past, but desire doing just so long as he has been successful—so

THE BARS ARE DOWN

All men who measure up to the foregoing qualifications are eligible and may answer this ad. Remember, we want to be sold that he is the Man.

A WOMAN

Can Sell This Property As Well As a Man

That has already been demonstrated in the first two weeks of our pre-opening reservation period.

When the big advertising campaign starts it will be even more true.

But NOW is the time for salespersons who own their own cars and are in a position to meet the better class of well-to-do people on even terms to investigate this project.

We have a practical monopoly on the rarest type of property in Southern California. It sells on sight to the kind of people who are always in a position to buy. If you are a real saleswoman see me at once.

Saleswomen, Solicitors —11-B

A WOMAN

Can Sell This Property As Well As a Man

That has already been demonstrated in the first two weeks of our pre-opening reservation period.

When the big advertising campaign starts it will be even more true.

But NOW is the time for salespersons who own their own cars and are in a position to meet the better class of well-to-do people on even terms to investigate this project.

We have a practical monopoly on the rarest type of property in Southern California. It sells on sight to the kind of people who are always in a position to buy. If you are a real salesperson see me at once.

ASBESTOS is in great demand today and is advancing in price daily. No. 1 is now $450 per ton. No. 2 $400 per ton. Have twenty claims. 3000 tons blocked out and in sight that will start $200 per ton. Seven asbestos claims sold in this vicinity recently in Ariz. 400-foot tunnel work done. Have samples, pictures, maps, ready market for more than we can deliver. Best mining proposition today. Need financial aid for machinery, compressor, drills, rolls, crushers; about $16,000 for equipment and $12,500 first payment on mine. Option is for $50,000. It's quicker to production than metal mine, worth more per ton, no dirt and shows water line and no water to contend with. Good road to property. Wm. Anderson, General Delivery, Los Angeles, Calif.
